WILL IT BURN AGAIN?—Some Tamalpais High School students look over ruin of the Canteen, just off campus, which burned for the second night in a row yesterday. Tamalpais firemen, who said the first fire obviously was arson, were able to find no evidence of arson at the second, but Fire Chief Herbert M. Owen indicated he would not be surprised if the structure burns again tonight.

Flu To Close Four School Areas Monday

Attendance Falls As Toll Mounts In Asian Virus

By ROBERT STREBEIGH

All schools in four Marin County districts will be closed Monday because of the Asian flu which continued today to take a mounting toll of students and teachers in many areas.

Cancelling previously scheduled classes were San Rafael, Dixie, Fairfax and Tomales Bay School Districts.

Only the Lagunitas and Sausalito schools will be open Monday.

CHANCE TO WAIT

The unscheduled closings were adopted to give students a chance to wait out the peak of the epidemic that started in Sacramento Jan. 27 and has spread to 13 counties, in which at least 67 schools have been closed.

Petaluma schools will also close Monday because of the flu, which causes strong stomach upset and severe headaches.

HOME EARLY

Tomales High School, which was closed yesterday, opened today but sent students home early. The 47 per cent absenteeism yesterday rose to 59 per cent today with 122 of its 204 students out. Four teachers were absent.

Tomales Bay School also reopened today, but attendance had fallen there, too. Principal David Raffo was among those stricken.

Fairfax schools reported more than 24 per cent of its pupils absent today as compared to 20 per cent yesterday. Ten teachers were out, three more than yesterday.

Mrs. Phyllis Johnson, telephone switchboard operator, said no immediate figures were obtainable for the San Rafael schools, because "we're just swamped with sick children and teachers."

The school superintendent's office, however, estimated 14 per cent of San Rafael High School's 1,497 students were absent as compared to 15 per cent

Rusk Says Asia Treaty Requires Aid To Viet Nam

WILLIAM A. GNOSS
'One more term'

WASHINGTON (AP) — There is a chance for peace, Secretary of State Dean Rusk told senators today, if the United States is believed when it says: "This you must not do."

But if the other side has reason to doubt American determination, he declared, "I personally do not know how peace can be organized."

Testifying at nationally broadcast hearings on the Viet Nam war, the secretary told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee in effect that the problems the United States faces boil down to psychology.

The Red adversaries must be brought to a state of mind, he said, where they understand that "reckless, dangerous" aggression does not pay—cannot win "in the teeth of the power of the United States."

At another point Rusk told critics of the administration's Viet Nam policy that one-sided worry about escalation of the struggle could itself promote a wider conflict.

"If only one side worries about escalation then you can have a big war," Rusk told the committee.

Rusk talked guardedly about the risk of a war widened to put the United States against Red China. He told Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., that is a grave question to handle in public.

Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., failed in an effort to get Rusk to define "the extent of our commitment in Viet Nam," or "any point beyond which he would not go."

"It is not easy for me, in open session," to talk about limits, Rusk said.

Rusk said he was not going to say there is a "point" beyond which the United States would not go. His point was that such a stated limit would give the other side assurance it could win by raising the stakes high enough.

Rusk said the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization pact obliges the United States to defend South Viet Nam — and — if we as a nation decide that one of our alliances is not very important, it will undermine the others.

Rusk reminded the Senate Foreign Relations Committee that it voted, with only one dissenter, for ratification of the 1954 treaty.

Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., promptly challenged the administration position, and said in his view the Southeast Asian pact is not a basis for the U.S. role in Viet Nam.

"There must be a political settlement in Southeast Asia," said Morse, a constant critic of

Gnoss Wants Another Term To Finish Jobs

William A. Gnoss, 65, supervisor for North Marin, announced late yesterday he will seek re-election this year for his "final four-year term."

First appointed to fill a vacancy in 1952, Gnoss had been re-elected for three full terms.

"There are quite a few things I instigated which I would like to see through before I retire," said the Novato rancher.

Among projects he wants to "see through" are expansion of the county airport at Novato, North Marin flood control, improvement of the water supply, parks and recreation—especially at Stafford Lake, and the Hall of Justice wing at the Civic Center.

Gnoss was one of the first directors of the North Marin Water District and is active in the Eel River Assn.

Last year, he was elected vice president of the North Coast County Supervisors Assn., and is scheduled to become its president.

Top Diplomat Denies Paris Note 'Severe'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk today disputed reports from Paris that President Charles de Gaulle had written a "severe" letter to President Johnson on the Viet Nam war.

At the outset of today's session of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee hearing on Viet Nam policy, chairman J. W. Fulbright brought up published reports about the letter. He also asked Rusk about a report that De Gaulle had told an American visitor in substance: "This war is absurd. It is leading to nothing."

Rusk never did say exactly what was in the letter to Johnson. But he said a Paris dispatch in the Washington Post, in which leading French journalists were said to have called the letter severe, "does not bear any resemblance to the letter I've seen."

He described statements about the letter's severity as "highly inaccurate and untrue."

Unions Plan Ships Boycott In Red Trade

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—AFL-CIO maritime unions told President Johnson today they will boycott ships of all foreign nations trading with the North Vietnamese Communists.

In a telegram to Johnson, union officials said "trade with North Viet Nam puts blood money in the pocket of shipowners of other profiteers and so-called Allied nations."

The telegram added that "we believe the time for pussyfooting is long past.

"We must inform you therefore, very soon our members will begin to demonstrate their protests on all waterfronts in this country directed against any and all ships of those nations which permit trade with North Viet Nam."

The boycott, said spokesmen for the AFL-CIO Maritime Trades Department will affect hundreds of foreign vessels from nations including Great Britain, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, France, Italy and Egypt.

The boycott will be imposed by refusing to load any such vessel entering U.S. ports.

The telegram to Johnson was signed by Paul Hall, president of the Maritime Trades Department; Thomas W. Gleason, president of the International Longshoremen's Assn.; and Jos-

Teen-Agers Cheer Canteen Burning

While a throng of teen-agers cheered and booed, the Canteen across from Tamalpais High School burned again last night.

The Tamalpais Fire Department again extinguished the fire, but Fire Chief Herbert Owen remarked, "At this rate, there will be nothing left for the fire department to demolish within two more nights."

"There were about 50 to 70 teen-agers all lined up behind the fence on the high school parking lot," he chief said. "I guess invitations had gone out, judging by the audience.

"It was like a show. They were hooraying and booing."

The Canteen, at Homestead Boulevard and Almonte Avenue, just outside Mill Valley, formerly was a snack bar frequented by Tamalpais High School students. It closed after being placed "off limits" by the high school. The two rooms which were gutted by fire Wednesday night had been occupied until a few months ago as living quarters.

Last night's fire started almost exactly 24 hours after the previous one. The alarm was phoned to the Tamalpais Fire Department at 8:53 p.m. by Mrs. Lucille Perinoni of 106 Almonte Boulevard, who had telephoned the first alarm of the previous night's fire at 8:56 p.m.

Mrs. Owen Beats Deadline For Sausalito Election

Mrs. Marsha Owen (Sally Stanford) is definitely a candidate for the Sausalito City Council in the April 12 election. Her name was inadvertently omitted in the list of candidates who filed yesterday prior to the noon deadline.

Mrs. Owen filed her nomination papers at 10:30 a.m. yesterday.

Other candidates who filed are incumbents Jan Paul Dyk, Earl F. Dunphy, Matthew J. Perry, Serge Trubach, and S. Robert Politzer.

Marincello Road Plan Hit By Parks Boss

The chief of the State Division of Beaches and Parks today went on record opposing any Marincello access rout between the north end of the Golden Gate Bridge and Waldo Tunnel.

Charles A. DeTurk in a report to Marin County supervisors said the division is against the proposed Bunker Hill Road route both as access to Marincello and as the southern link for State Highway 1.

The Marin County Planning Commission has the Marincello access proposal under study, and has already recommended Bunker Hill Road as the southern link for Highway 1.

DeTurk's letter was a report on a conference held by his staff Jan. 20, at which David Van Pelt of the Marin County planning department appeared to explain the proposals.

Oakland Police Chief Planning To Retire

OAKLAND (AP) — Police Chief Edward M. Toothman will retire on March 23, Oakland City Manager Jerome Keithley announced today.

Keithley said Toothman has accepted a post as manager of a statewide chain of convalescent hospitals.

Captured Arms Used On Yanks

SAIGON (UPI) —Viet Cong turned automatic rifles and grenades stripped from dead U.S. soldiers against 1st Division Cavalrymen during heavy fighting today in the hills near Bong Son.

The "Flying Horsemen" were pursuing a large Communist force surprised yesterday in a valley near a Viet Cong regimental headquarters, about 300 miles northeast of Saigon.

The battle flared after to platoons of the 2nd Brigade of the 1st Cavalry walked into heavy automatic weapons fire from Viet Cong entrenched in deep bunkers.

The lead squad was hit as it moved across a small creek. A wounded cavalryman said the hillside fronting the creek seemed to explode with gunfire from every point. The cavalrymen called for heavy air and artillery support. But one platoon was reported still heavily engaged as night fell.

An American spokesman said, meanwhile, U.S. Air Force and Navy planes are systematically destroying 12 prime targets in the 100-square-mile region surrounding historic Dien Bien Phu in the heart of Communist North Viet Nam.

Moderate Storm Due Tomorrow

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A Pacific storm of moderate intensity was moving into Northern California today and, the Weather Bureau said, probably will bring rain to much of the rest of the state by late tomorrow.

Rain starting on the north coast was expected to spread as far south as Santa Maria and Fresno by late tomorrow.

Snow was forecast for the northern and central mountains above 4,000 to 7,000 feet tomorrow.

U.S. Steel Increases Price Of Special Plate $4 A Ton

NEW YORK (AP) — United States Steel Corp. today boosted the price of certain types of steel plate used in boilers, large tanks and heavy construction by $4 a ton.

The steel price increase follows a similar action by Lukens Steel Co., effective last Wednesday. The U.S. Steel price boost affects less than 3 per cent of the company's plate sales.

The company said the price advances would amount to less than 3 per cent of the price of such plates. The government has established guideline limitations on wage and price increases of 3.2 per cent.

In recent months price increases on both steel and aluminum that exceeded the guideline limits were rolled back under government pressure.

U.S. Steel said the price boost will become effective next Monday. The company did not specify any reasons for the increase.

However, last week Lukens Steel said it had raised its prices because of rising costs of manganese used in making the plates.

Other steel sources have indicated that plate of the type affected by the price boost is in short supply.

A U.S. Steel spokesman estimated that today's price boost would affect about one-tenth of 1 per cent of all steel sales.

CLAMS WEEP: THE R'S BACK IN FEBRUARY

Marin mussels and clams may again be eaten.

Dar R. Pelz, health education director for the Marin County Health Department, said today that throughout this week the state has sampled both clams and mussels at west Marin beaches and the plankton poisoning had dropped well into the safe zone.

The high rate of poisoning at this time of year was considered a freak, but health officials two weeks ago warned residents not to catch clams or mussels, even though there is an R in February.

A.F. Doctor Tells About Deadly Cut

Capt. Leonard Lefkowitz of the hospital was the only witness this morning in the court martial preliminary examination of A/1c James O. Young, who is charged with murder of Jennings.

Captain Lefkowitz testified Jennings was in a coma when taken to the hospital early on New Year's morning. There was a cut in his chest into which three fingers could be thrust, the doctor said. X-rays showed the right lung had collapsed and the cavity was filled with blood.

The captain described methods—from mouth-to-mouth resuscitation to an incision to draw off blood from the chest cavity — that he used in vainly trying to save the airman's life.

'Strip' Outlaw Believed Caught

ANAHEIM (AP) — A gunman believed to be "the stripper"—who habitually leaves clothing behind in getaway cars — was captured today in an attempt to rob a Bank of America branch of $30,809.

The gunman crooked an arm around the neck of Mrs. Jimmie Talley, 21, a teller, and attempted to use her as a hostage for his escape, police said, but threw down his gun when officers rushed into the bank after being summoned by a silent alarm.

The side-by-side double-barrel shotgun as it is known today was developed in 19th century England.

HAS WHAT IT TAKES

Hunger Striker Proves Himself

By PETER ARNETT

BEN CAT, South Viet Nam (AP)—Six months ago a university graduate named Winstel R. Belton staged a seven-day hunger strike at Fort Benning, Ga., to dramatize his distaste for being drafted and his refusal to fight in Viet Nam.

Yesterday a big, proud smile flashed across Belton's face as he was promoted to private first class on a battlefield in South Viet Nam.

Looking just as proud was his company commander, Capt. R. E. Spriggs of Mexico, N.Y., a professional soldier who had hated everything Belton's hunger strike had stood for.

Spriggs was furious last November when he reurned to his unit after recovering from a bullet wound to find Belton assigned there

Spriggs said yesterday he would take the 26-year-old Winslow, Ariz., soldier into combat with him any time, any where.

Belton arrived in Viet Nam with a 12-month suspended jail sentence hanging over his head because of his hunger strike in mid-August. A court-martial had given him a bad conduct discharge, total forefeiture of pay and the jail sentence.

But he was also given a chance.

Belton, a Negro, was told that if he went to Viet Nam and proved himself, he would not have to serve his jail sentence. If he failed, he would serve it.

His old unit, the U.S. Army's 1st Cavalry, Airmobile, Division, wouldn't take him back. The 1st Infantry Divsiion accepted him.

Spriggs was the only man in "A" company of the 2nd Battalion, 28th Regiment, who knew that the new radio - telephone operator was the hunger striker Belton.

More and more men in the unit began realizing that Belton had publicly protested what they themselves had accepted as a patriotic duty. None of them brought up the subject with him except the company commander, and few ever discussed it among themselves.

"That was his business," said Sgt. Frederick Range of Dallas, Tex. "We treated him like any other soldier."

Belton, holder of a bachelor of science degree in education, was initially cold and reserved with his buddies. But the heat of battles in December and January melted his attitude and forged ever - tightening bonds with Spriggs and the other men in the company.

Initially given the job of laying wires between the company headquarters and the platoons, he began carrying Spriggs' radio.

Early in January, he proved he had what it takes.

Spec. 5 Larry Kabriel of Summerfield, Kan., recalls that the company was under heavy fire near Trung Lap and an urgent call came over the radio for Capt. Spriggs.

WINSTEL R. BELTON
No more hunger strikes

Kabriel said Belton shouted out, "It's your duty to get up to the captain," crawled over to the reluctant radioman, grabbed the apparatus and moved up under fire to his captain.

Spriggs has used him as his radioman ever since.

"Belton in his conduct and bearing has been above average as a soldier and a valuable asset," Spriggs said. "He has worked in very well socially and he has got along with the men.

"I am personally satisfied that he now honestly believes his actions in the past have not been consistent with being a soldier or a man."

Spriggs tried to promote Belton two months ago, but the Army wanted to wait longer. Spriggs was told he must be absolutely sure Belton had changed his ways.

"I told Belton he deserved to be promoted," Spriggs said. I knew he was happy. I knew he felt he had made it."

Belton is still a man of few words.

Asked why he launched his hunger strike, he replied: "I figured the Army had interrupted my education, and I needed the schooling. And when they said I had t go to Viet Nam, well, I thought why should I go there, I don't think we should be there.

"I wasn't a part of a protest movement. I wasn't then and I'm not now."

What about those now protesting American involvement in Viet Nam?

"We have good reasons to be doing what we are doing here," said Belton, "and we belong here, I know that now. I don't know if we'll ever win. But we're here and we have to stay."

Belton intends to go back to school in Milwaukee, Wis., when he gets out of the service, hopefully on the new GI bill.

Arctic Air Mass Moves Over Northern States

By U. P. INTERNATIONAL

International Falls, Minn., reported a temperature of 40 degrees below zero. Grand Forks, N.D., saw the mercury slide to nearly 30 below.

Near-blizzard conditions prevailed in Montana last night. Five inches of wind-driven snow fell at Wolf Point, Mont., three inches at Glendive, and heavy snowfall was reported in the mountains.

Police asked motorists to stay off the roads at the height of the storm, which lessened as it moved into the Midwest. Thirty mph winds whipped the snow in many areas.

Below-zero temperatures, which plagued Montana, the Dakotas, Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan yesterday were to continue.

Flooding of the Mississippi River, a hangover from last week's springlike thaw, continued to plague Rock Island, Ill., where three more families were forced from their homes Thursday. It brought the number of flood evacuees to 100 in the quad cities area of Illinois and Iowa.

Crash Fatal To Eight, Soviet Officials Say

MOSCOW (UPI) —Soviet authorities announced today that eight Soviet passengers died when an African-bound TU114 airliner crashed on takeoff yesterday because it ran into a "strong gust of west snow."

Earlier unofficial reports said as many as 50 persons may have died when the giant four-engined turbo-prop airliner crashed and burned while taking off from Moscow's Sheremetievo airport.

The TU-114, the world's largest commercial airliner, was on an inaugural flight from Moscow to Brazzaville in the Congo Republic.

No mention was made on the number of persons aboard the TU-114 which can carry up to 235 passengers and crew members but whose normal seating capacity is 170.

The airport was closed to all foreign flights until work crews cleared up the wreckage of the plane. Flights to Austria, Denmark and Belgium were cancelled.

Murder Still Probed

Space Walk Scheduled March 16

SPACE CENTER, Houston, Tex. (AP) — Astronaut David R. Scott will take his walk in space on March 16, the National Aeronauticsand Space administration announced.

NASA said yesterday that the three-day Gemini 8 mission for Scott and his command pilot, Neil A. Armstrong, will begin March 15.

Scot's walk will last two hours and 15 minutes, during which he will move 17,500 miles an hour — covering a distance equal to one and one-half times around the world.

Roller Bearings Started Sloan

NEW YORK (UPI) —Early in this century, a young New Jersey manufacturer convinced the Olds Motors Co., that his roller bearings would work better in automobiles than heavily greased wagon axles.

About 30 years later, the same man of vision wrote a check for $10 million to endow one of the nation's giant research foundations. In the interim, he became one of the true giants of American industry.

The man was Alfred Pritchard Sloan Jr., "Mr. General Motors" to millions of Americans, "Silent Sloan" to the thousands of G.M. employees who worked for him for the more than 30 years he spent shaping the destiny of the auto firm.

Sloan died Wednesday at the age of 90 of myocardial infarction —a massive heart attack. He died at Memorial Sloan - Kettering Center, which was part of the foundation he set up with that $10 million back in 1937.

Between 1918, when he joined G.M., and 1956, when he stepped down as chairman of the board, Sloan transformed the corporation from a hodge-podge of companies, some of which lost money, into the most profitable business concern in the world.

He increased G.M.'s share of the motor market from about 12 per cent to 52 per cent. Last year, its sales were $20.7 billion with profits of more than $2.1 billion.

His own fortune was more than a quarter of a billion dollars.

Sloan was the son of a tea and coffee importer. He was born in New Haven, Conn., on May 23, 1875, and grew up in Brooklyn. He completed a four-year course in engineering at Massachusetts Institute of Technology in three years and then, in 1899, went to work with the Hyatt Roller Bearing Co., of Newark, N.J.

Industry did not have much use for roller bearings in those years and the company was in danger of folding. Sloan left it, but he came back later, with $5,000 from his father and became Hyatt's general manager.

Soon after he convinced Olds of the value of the bearing, other automobile manufacturers began using them and Hyatt prospered. When it was sold to William C. Durant, one of the driving forces in the creation of G.M., Sloan made $5 million and got a new job—president of United Motors, an accessories company formed by Durant.

In 1918, Durant named Sloan G.M.'s vice president in charge of accessory operations. The du Pont interests began buying into G.M. and swept Durant out. Pierre S. du Pont took over the presidency but leaned heavily on Sloan because of du Pont's unfamiliarity with the business.

In 1923, du Pont stepped out and Sloan became G.M.'s president. The corporation's net sales were then $698 million a year. Six years later they were $1.5 billion and G.M. had displaced Ford as the leader in the sale of low priced cars.

Sloan was president until 1937, when he was elected chairman of the board. He remained chief executive officer, however, until he retired as chairman in 1956. On his retirement, the G.M. board named him its honorary chairman.

New Zealanders Find Talk Works

AUKLAND (AP)—Police find that tongues are better than truncheons to stop New Zealand children shoplifting.

Thefts from city and suburban stores were high early in 1965. Then members of the police's juvenile crime prevention branch began visiting schools, lecturing the children class by class.

The result, after visits to 50 schools: The offenses are rare today.

Mrs. Fay P. Watkinson of 841 Pine Lane, San Rafael, this morning became the 20,000th blood donor since the Marin Blood Center was opened in May, 1961. Nurse Gloria Gibala was present at the milestone blood donation at 10:10 a.m. at the center at 506 Fourth Street, San Rafael. The center, part of the Irwin Memorial Blood Bank, is open for donors from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Wednesdays

SLAYING

After death, a blood sample was tested and found to contain 1.04 per cent alcohol, the doctor said. A similar test of the blood of the accused airman, taken to the hospital by air police at 4:30 a.m., showed a blood alcohol reading of 1.5.

The alcohol, according to testimony late yesterday by A2 c Joseph Stumpf, came from a mixture of vodka, champage and orange juice which a group of airmen drank from a coffee urn in Barracks 460 to greet the new year.

In the group were Airmen Stumpf and Young, white, and Jennings and John Savage, Negroes.

It was Jennings' remark to Young that "I'd like to marry your sister" that led to tragedy, Airmen Savage and Stumpf testified.

Stumpf said "we all laughed" at the remark — except Young, who threatened, "Wait till I come back," and ran to his room upstairs in the barracks. He returned with a gun in his right hand and a hunting knife in his left hand.

"Nobody is going to say that to me and get away with it," Stumpf quoted Young as saying. He said Young walked up to Jennings, and put knife and pistol against the airman's chest.

Stumpf said he was sitting where he could see a side view of both Jennings and Young, only arm's length away from him. He said he did not see Jennings stabbed, and did not know he was cut until later, when A 1c Thomas Maynard discovered blood spots on the floor.

Stumpf said he went outside to look for Jennings but could not find him. He testified he took the knife and pistol from Young and put them away, giving them later to air police.

He said he later saw Young standing by the water cooler in the hallway with a rifle.

Stumpf and Savage, he said, then went down a fire escape to look again for Jennings. They found him lying unconscious, his shirt wet with blood, and called the air police.

The hearing, before Maj. James E. Green, judge advocate at Travis Air Force Base, is expected to continue through much of next week.

Mayor Brandt, LBJ To Visit New York

Bridge Board Allows Moonlighting By Aide

The Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District board of directors today voted 8-3 to allow the district engineer to help Marin County Transit District outside of regular work hours.

The decision came after more than an hour of debate on whether any conflict of interest would be involved.

The motion approved was by Marin Director Thomas D. Hardcastle. He moved that the bridge board approve letting Arthur C. Jenkins, bridge engineer, work for the Marin County Transit District during off hours, and that Jenkins will not become involved in controversial issues concerning both districts.

Compensation for Jenkins will be worked out between him and the Marin transit district.

Marin Supervisor Chairman Byron W. Leydecker and Administrator Alan Bruce appeared before the bridge board to ask for Jenkins' services.

Bridge attorney Jerome B. White said there was a possibility that the conflict of interest would arise. However, Leydecker assured the board that the engineer would merely give advice in selecting engineers for the district, and setting up specifications.

Directors Dan E. London and Stephen C. Leonoudakis of San Francisco proposed that the bridge district give friendly and informal advice free to the Marin Transit District. However, this was turned down by other directors.

FIRE

the canteen "totally involved in flame."

Flames were controlled in 10 minutes, said Owen, but firemen were hampered by electric wires on the roof short-circuiting, arcing for about five minutes before they could be pulled free.

Burning insulation on one utility pole jeopardized the nearby home of fire commissioner Byron O. Boulware at 7 Homestead Boulevard, who, with three other fire commissioners left the firehouse where they were holding their commission meeting to respond to the fire call.

No evidence was found of the building having been set afire, the chief said. He said the fire department still plans to take action to demolish the building, either in a fire drill or by a demolition crew, this month.

Demolition is being held up awaiting permission of the owner, Miss Blanda Telander of Mill Valley, Owen reported.

Mrs. W. Robert Herrell of 127 Stadium Avenue reported the flames seen from her home were 20 feet high. She said the fire caused all the windows to pop out and, "every time the electric wires would arc and go pop, there were cheers from the bystanders. It was just like a football game."

Chief Owen said the entire interior of the building was charred and its contents, mostly junk, was destroyed. He said he could give no estimate of damage since the building has no value.

Union spokesmen said the telegram to Johnson made public today actually was sent to the White House last Monday, and that there had been no reply.

Two years ago the same unions imposed a boycott on U.S. wheat shipments to Russia until the White House persuaded them to lift it.

"Our boys are fighting in an dying along with loyal South Vietnamese forces and those of our other allies," the unions' telegram to Johnson said.

Hall said the boycott will be imposed unless the U.S. government takes up the matter with "so-called Allied nations" and stops them from trading with North Viet Nam.

He said the maritime unions will call a meeting in Washington within a few weeks and that if the government has done "nothing effective" by then the boycott will begin.

This action was approved by the Maritime Trades Department, composed of 29 unions.

WAR

The spokesman said the targets include single-story barracks, huge storage buildings, administrative centers and the 10 square-mile Dien Bien Phu airfield, barracks and storage area itself 145 miles west of Hanoi.

It was disclosed meanwhile that seven Americans were killed and four injured in the accidental crashes of two U.S. helicopters in widely scattered regions of South Viet Nam. An American infantryman was killed today when he heroically threw himself on top of a Viet Cong grenade in fighting 20 miles northwest of Saigon, saving the lives of six of his buddies.

OBITUARIES

Carlotta Misner Dies At 78

Carlotta Belle Misner, mother-in-law of College of Marin President Stephen E. Epler, died last night after an illness of about one year. She was 78 years old.

A native of Sibley, Iowa, Mrs. Misner came to Marin about two years ago to live with her daughter and son-in-law at 430 Vista Grande, Kentfield, after having spent most of her life in Lincoln, Neb.

She was a housemother for many years at the University of Nebraska. She was a member of the First Christian Church of Lincoln, as well as of the Order of the Eastern Star and the Lincoln Women's Club, and was a past president of the Lincoln Parent-Teacher Assn.

She is survived by her husband, F. H. Misner of Lincoln, a retired civil engineer; a sister, Mrs. Dorothy Owens of Lincoln; two brothers, V. L. McKay of Denver, Colo., and Glenn McKay of Tacoma, Wash.; a son, Richard I. Misner of Omaha, Neb.; her daughter, Mrs. Ferne Epler of Kentfield; four grandchildren, and one great-grandchild.

W. E. PENICK

Funeral services were held Tuesday in Blackwell, Okla., for Capt. William E. Penick of American President Lines, who died Feb. 10 at his home at 131 Kent Avenue, Kentfield.

A native of Blackwell, Penick, 41, had been with American President Lines for 10 years and was master of the President Johnson.

HARRY SEIDERMAN

Funeral for Harry Seiderman, retired barber of San Anselmo, were scheduled this morning in San Francisco.

Seiderman died Wednesday in a local hospital after a lengthy illness. He was 68.

A native of Minsk, Russia, he came to the United States about 45 years ago and settled in New York City.

Seiderman, on his retirement, moved to San Anselmo two years ago and lived with his son, Stanley Seiderman, at 18 Park Drive.

MRS. ORA DAVIS

Funeral for Ora Davis, a Marin County resident for 12 years, will be held at 1 p.m. tomorrow at H. F. Suhr Co. mortuary, 2919 Mission Street, San Francisco.

Mrs. Davis, 81, died Wednesday at a local hospital after a lengthy illness.

A native of Louisville, Ky., she came to California in 1887 with her parents, settling in Los Angeles, where she was educated and married Jesse Davis.

She and her husband came to San Francisco in 1910. After her husband's death, Mrs. Davis moved to Mill Valley, where she lived with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Eckhard, at 177 West Blithedale Avenue.

Mrs. Davis also leaves two grandchildren.

MRS. ROSE C. BETTENCOURT

Rose C. Bettencourt, 77, collapsed, apparently from a heart attack, in the kitchen of her home at 15 Plaza Drive, Mill Valley, yesterday and was dead on arrival at Marin General Hospital at 3:40 p.m.

Asst. Coroner William C. Bradley said she had suffered from a heart condition for about eight years. Alto firemen were called to the home to give resuscitation.

A native of Sausalito, Mrs. Bettencourt had lived in Marin County all her life. Her husband, Manuel Bettencourt, an operational engineer at the Presidio of San Francisco, died last year.

Mrs. Bettencourt was a member of the women's auxiliaries of Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 72; and of the Veterans of World War I, Post 2, both of San Rafael.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Bernice Zoppi, and a son, James De Sella, both of Mill Valley; two grandchildren, and four great-grandchildren.

Requiem Mass will be offered Monday at 11 a.m. at Our Lady of Mount Carmel Church, Mill Valley. Burial will be in Golden Gate National Cemetery, San Bruno. Rosary will be recited at Russell and Gooch Mortuary, Mill Valley, Sunday at 8 p.m.

WALTER JACKSON

Funeral for Walter C. Jackson, 56, of San Rafael, will be held tomorrow at 2 p.m. at the Harry M. Williams Mortuary, San Rafael. Burial will be private.

Jackson was found dead in the garage of his home at 12 Harte Avenue on Wednesday by his wife, Lucille A. Jackson.

A native of Idaho, he had lived in Marin nine years. He was a member of Carpenters Union Local 35, San Rafael.

Survivors are his wife; a son, Franklin A. Jackson, and a daughter, Mrs. Penny Johnson of San Rafael; a sister, Louise King of Hayward; his mother, Mrs. Lela Toner of Burley, Idaho, and one grandchild.

OLIVE M. COLE

Memorial service for Mrs. Olive Mae Cole of 19 Palm Avenue, San Rafael, was held today in Ross.

She died Tuesday at a local hospital.

Surviving are a brother, Lyall A. Learoyd of Toronto, Canada; two daughters, Mrs. Claire Cox of San Rafael and Mrs. Harriet Gilman of Kentfield, and three grandchildren.

HANS HOFMANN

NEW YORK (UPI) —Hans Hofmann, painter, art instructor and father of the American abstract - expressionist movement, died in his home here Thursday. He was 85.

A colleague of the great modernists, Picasso, Braque and Matisse, Hoffmann had been hailed by critics as the inspiration of the abstract movement in this country.

Hofmann was a native of Weissenberg, Germany, and had been under strong family pressure to enter the field of science. But the lure of painting and Paris proved too strong and at the age of 18 Hofmann went to the French capital where he came under the influence of the great expressionist painters of the day.

He came to the United States in 1930 to teach at the University of California at Berkeley, had his first New York exhibition in 1944 and has been exhibited annually since 1947.

MOUNT TAMALPAIS CEMETERY in the Heart of our County

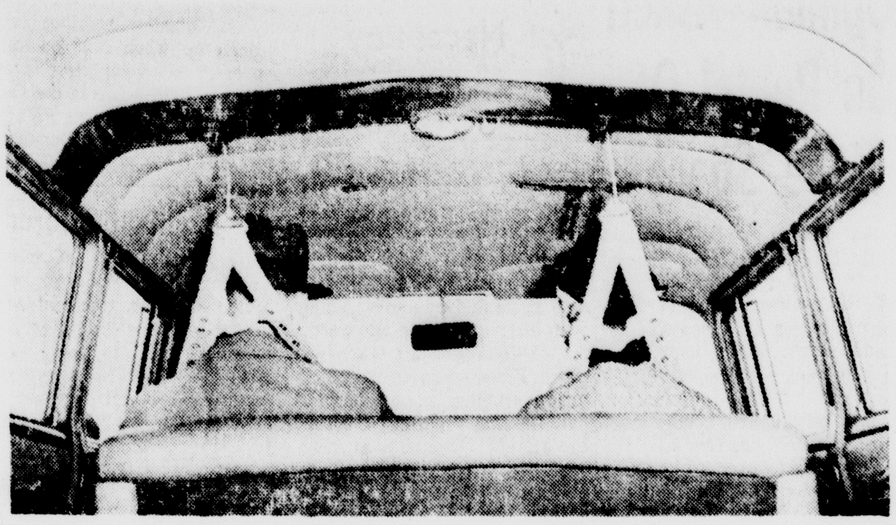

Marin pioneers chose a site in the heart of our county as a final resting place for their families. Today this location—at the west end of Fifth Avenue in San Rafael—is still convenient to all Marin points.

Marinites who choose Mount Tamalpais do so with the assurance that its beauty will grow with the years. The interest from a quarter-million dollar endowment fund—twice the legal requirement—is dedicated to the constant care and improvement of this 57-acre site.

Perhaps—like many Marin families—you wish to make your own final arrangements to spare others difficult decisions. If so, we invite your inquiry or a personal visit.

SAFER THAN BELTS—Automotive safety engineer Andrew J. White of Lee, N.H., contends a harness with a V-shaped yoke attached to the car's roof is far safer than conventional seat belts. White House Drafting Tougher Automotive Safety Law Ideas

WASHINGTON (UPI) —President Johnson is putting the final touches on legislation aimed at reducing the highway death toll by forcing the nation's automakers to build safer cars.

It was learned the proposed legislation, to be submitted to Congress later this month, would give automakers four years to implement significant safety designs or face stiff federal regulation for the first time in the history of the industry.

The proposal is contained in the President's highway traffic safety bill. Reports of its contents have triggered some debate already despite the lack of official announcement.

Backers of tough auto safety regulations term the measure weak. They insist that Detroit has been irresponsible in meeting safety needs and requires federal regulation now.

Automakers have maintained their cars are safe, are being made even safer and that federal intervention is unwarranted.

Congressional hearings and a recent spate of critical articles and books have spurred the controversy. In the past two weeks, General Motors set a new safety pace for the industry by announcing that dual brakes and collapsible steering wheel columns would be standard in its 1967 models. G.M. also announced plans for three new safety facilities.

Transit Official Defends Figures

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Bay Area Rapid Transit District expects to complete its construction with the $792 million bond issue approved by voters in 1962, its manager said last night.

B. R. Stokes, BART general manager, said his organization expects to complete its train commuter system at that figure despite inflations and changes in engineering plans.

David Hammond, BART director of development and operations, said doing that would make certain economies necessary. He did not elaborate.

Both spoke over television station KQED in a debate with Michael Harris, a San Francisco Chronice reporter who wrote a series of stories on BART's prospects.

Tombs Discovered

TARANTO, Italy (AP) — Excavations for a new hospital here uncovered two tombs of the 6th Century B.C. which are believed to be part of the burial ground of the ancient Greek colonial city Taras. They contained skeletons, urns of the Greek kylikes-type decorated with Dionesian scenes, and jewelry in amber and bronze.

Federal Office Asks Detroit For Changes

WASHINGTON (AP)—One of the biggest purchasers of autos in the nation, the General Services Administration, will ask manufacturers to boost safety requirements on all vehicles sold for government use.

Either recessed or breakaway ash trays, window and door controls;

Arm rests without sharp corners;

Roll bars on soft-top vehicles;

Stronger fuel tanks and fuel pipelines;

Vermont Legislature Woos College Skiers

MONTPELIER, Vt. (AP) —A bill before the Vermont House would appropriate $50,000 to encourage topflight skiers to attend Vermont colleges.

The bill called it "in the public interest of the state that talented young skiers be encouraged and assisted" to attend Vermont schools and represent them in national and international skiing events.

Inventor Criticizes Seat Belts' Failings

LEE, N.H. (AP) — A retired millionaire who has devoted years to studying auto safety says the regular seat belt installed in cars "has no protective value."

Andrew J. White, 60, says that in many instances a regular seat belt "reduces the chances for survival in a traffic accident."

"The seat belt leaves the head, the most vulnerable part of the anatomy, to act as a sledgehammer against the windshield and dashboard," said White in an interview.

White recommends instead a harness which he designed and says "is far superior to a regular seat belt."

Wearing one, he drove a car at 50 miles per hour into a two-foot-thick brick wall and he was uninjured.

White said it can be fastened in three seconds. "First you put on the lap strap, release two clips that hold the harness near the sun visors and attach the clips onto the strap."

White, who is president of the Motor Vehicle Research of New Hampshire Inc., designed the harness to include a seat belt, a shoulder strap, and a head sling. He said more than 10 years of study of actual accidents and numerous tests performed by his nonprofit firm proved the harness is the best safety device available.

"More than 80 per cent of all fatal accidents involve head injuries. The harness is the only way to protect the head," said White. He has been safety consultant to U.S. Bureau of Public Roads and to numerous firms ranging from U.S. Steel to B.F. Goodrich.

White retired from his engineering business in 1952 and has since devoted his energies to various phases of safety research. His firm has staged more than 200 controlled crashes here. All were filmed by high-speed movie cameras.

Cities Criticized For Pollution

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—Cities which dump raw sewage into steams and rivers are the biggest offenders in water pollution in the United States, says the vice president of the National Assn. of Soil and Water Conservation Districts.

Sam S. Studebaker of Tipp City, Ohio, said the nation would face a dailly shortage of a billion gallons of quality water by the end of the century.

Speaking at the 25th annual convention of the association, he said: "We are making headway on soil conservation, but we are slipping backwards on water pollution."

College 'Disadvantage' Program Is Questioned

Kent O. Seymour, trustee of the Marin Junior College District, last night reviewed, with little enthusiasm, the record of the college's attempt last summer to do special work to prepare "disadvantaged" high school graduates for college work.

The program last summer, he said at the district board meeting, started with 25 students enrolled for combined work, counseling and tutoring. Two dropped out during the summer.

In the fall, 17 of the remainder enrolled in the college. Three dropped out during the first semester, and five were disqualified for low grades at the end. Of the nine remaining, five are on probation this semester.

Was the project worth the $2,600 the district put up as its 50 per cent share of the cost? Seymour said he was not sure. But Counsellor Charles F. Herndon pointed out that under normal circumstances none of the students would have gone to college.

All, said Herndon, probably would have a better chance to find a job because of the extra education.

Seymour agreed reluctantly that Herndon might be right and went along with the rest of the board in approving a request for federal funds under the National Defense Education Act for a program for twice as many students next summer.

The board also approved a series of budget transfers, including addition of $93,941 to the college work-study program. Business Mgr. Norman Bird said 90 per cent of that money will be refunded by the federal government.

Approval was given to another National Defense Education Act project, for coordination of counsellors in the high schools and college, but agreed to ask the high schools to share in the local cost of the project.

The Marin Junior College District Board Also:

1. Formally accepted the College Center building as complete, but withheld $5,500 from the contractor for minor corrections, including roof repair which cannot be done until the end of the rainy season.

2. Called for bids for purchase of outdoor tables and chairs for the College Center, estimated to cost $7,500. Seymour opposed the purchase.

3. Received a request from non- teaching employees for a five per cent pay increase and a district-paid hospitalization and health insurance plan, but postponed discussion.

4. Heard James W. Duke, college planning coordinator, review six possible sites for location of a new corporation yard, making no recommendation but requesting a decision by summer.

5. Approved plans to place more lights, to cost $3,200, around the outside of the physical education buildings, but held up approval of stairway railings for outside stairs.

6. Learned that while enrollment had risen 20 per cent over last year, the number of students with good enough grades to go on the dean's list had gone up 44 per cent. Vice President Paul M. Clymer suggested the draft might have been an incentive for students to improve grades.

7. Postponed for a week discussion of extra pay for division heads and department chairmen, and of purchase of the Newman Center site.

8. Approved starting two new classes in supervision for hospital employees, to be given at Marin General Hospital.

9. Heard a report from two students in the registered nursing program, which started last fall, and were told by coordinator Shirley Conklin that there had been 30 students enrolled in the fall and the same number returned this semester. She called the lack of attrition unprecedented.

10. Approved a $100 honorarium to be paid to State Legislative Analyst A. Alan Post to be speaker at this year's commencement exercises.

11. Were told that total cost to the district for the appearance of the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra was $661.50.

12. Hired Stanley Clark as a custodian for $459 a month.

Ross School Chorus Prepares For Event

The 75-member Ross School chorus rehearsed today for an appearance in the annual "massing of the colors" to be held at 3:30 p.m. Sunday at Grace Episcopal Cathedral, San Francisco.

Members of the Ross choir, directed by Thompson V. Chesnut, will sing three numbers. The service will commemorate George Washington's birthday.

Opinion Asked On Rental Of Office Space

An opinion is being sought from the Marin County counsel as to whether it was legal for A. R. Teather, Almonte Sanitary District director who announced his resignation yesterday to rent office space to the district.

Michael Mitchell, county auditor-controller, who requested the opinion, said today he has asked if this constitutes a conflict of interest, and if so, whether the district should attempt to recover the rent money, totaling $1,320.

The opinion is expected to be issued Monday, Mitchell said.

Mitchell's office is conducting an audit of Almonte Sanitary District books, as well as those of other special districts in the county, results of which are also expected to be disclosed shortly.

George W. Blackwell of Mill Valley, a property owner in Almonte, asked for an investigation of Almonte district by the Marin County Grand Jury Jan. 28. Blackwell claimed the district was "milking the taxpayers," that directors pay themselves $25 each per month and pay $50 per month for the office at 226 Shoreline Highway, which goes to Teather.

Car Stolen

Robert S. Evans Jr. of 253 Alameda de la Loma, Ignacio, reported his car was stolen yesterday between 8 and 11:30 a.m. from Esmeyer Drive and Nova Albion Way, San Rafael. The car was found at 7:15 p.m. at Nicasio School with its clutch burned out.

Tam Fire Ballot Not Necessary

There will be no election April 5 in the Tamalpais Fire Protection District since incumbent commissioner Morris Batz is the only candidate.

District commissioners last night approved hiring Clark M. Jensen as fireman at $485 per month. Jensen, who replaces Jerry Cullins, who resigned, is moving to Tamalpais Valley with his family from Hayward.

Fire Chief Herbert Owen will be in Fresno March 17 attending instruction classes on oil fire fighting and, as a result, the March 17 commission meeting will be postponed to 8 p.m. March 24.

Last night's meeting was broken up when four commissioners, all volunteers, were called to fight a fire in the Canteen near Tamalpais High School. Commissioner Donald J. Taylor, who is ill, was absent.

Woman, 80 Injured

Mrs. Nina Arter, 80, of 37 Crescent Drive, Sausalito, was in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital after she reportedly fell from a step stool in her kitchen at 7:09 yesterday, fracturing her left leg and a rib. Sausalito Ambulance took Mrs. Arter to the hospital.

Federal Fees Set For Users Of Play Areas

WASHINGTON (AP) — Entrance fees will be charged at 10 additional recreation areas administered by the Bureau of Land Management on public domain lands in five Western states beginning April 1.

Announcing this today, the Interior Department said the $7 federal recreation permit for 1966-67 would admit the purchaser and all persons accompanying him in a private noncommercial automobile to the newly designated areas and all the federal areas where an entrance fee is charged.

Thirty-day permits for one designated federal area also are available, as are one-day permits for entry to more than one area.

The newly designated areas include the Douglas City Camp Ground, in Trinity County, and North Wildhorse Camp 75 miles north of Elko, Nev.

Rise In Enrollment Seen From Cold War G.I. Bill

Enrollment at College of Marin will jump more than normal next year because of the recently passed federal cold war G.I. Bill of Rights, college business manager Norman Bird told the Marin Junior College District trustees last night.

He said the jump would be from 5 to 10 per cent over what had been predicted.

College Vice President Paul M. Clymer said that would mean four new classrooms and eight teachers.

Trustee Robert E. Rogers said he had been told the jump would be double that, or about 500 students.

Bird, who said he would present a tentative district budget for the 1967 fiscal year in two weeks, promised to include the expected increase in his figures. The board also told him to start immediately work to find the new classroom space.

Dean Roy Mikalson of the adult and night school reported that total enrollment this semester was 4,212, compared to 3,521 last spring, but said he expected that about 150 to 200 students would drop out in the next week or so.

He said the biggest jump in enrollment came with students taking more than 12 hours of work a week, from 1,441 to 1,880, while those taking between nine and 12 hours dropped from 443 to 412.

Shooting Victim Is Satisfactory

Everett Charleston, 30, of 10 Ross Road, Sausalito, was listed in satisfactory condition today at San Francisco General Hospital, where he underwent surgery Wednesday following a Tuesday night shooting in a San Francisco bar.

Police have charged Frank Noyes, 64, of San Francisco with attempted murder. Police said he fired four shots, hitting Charleston twice, grazing bartender Robert Lawrence, 36, of San Francisco, and hitting himself in the right wrist.

CITIES CALCULATE FREEWAY IMPACT

Hub, Fairfax Citizens Told Planning Can Prevent Routes From Splitting Towns

Fairfax and San Anselmo residents were told last night that planning can be a weapon against a freeway route that would split their towns in half.

One of the proposed routes for an east-west highway from San Rafael to Point Reyes National Seashore—which may be developed as a freeway or expressway — would cut through the centers of San Anselmo and Fairfax.

About 35 residents gathered at Isabel Cook School in San Anselmo to hear three speakers discuss the effect of a freeway on a town.

Freeways can split up neighborhoods and cut a 200 to 300-foot swath through a city "that would upset a lot of people," said Harvey Bragdon, Mill Valley planning director, one of the speakers.

Freeways also can separate pupils from their schools, result in strip commercial developments, and bring noise, air pollution and vibration, Bragdon said.

But with master planning city councils can use the highway "as a tool" and "pick the least evil route," Bragdon noted. The responsibility for planning is on the city councils and the plans can show where the freeway should go, he said.

BENEFITS CLAIMED

Another speaker, Dean Larsen, district planning engineer, State Division of Highways, claimed that freeways "can be a benefit, and should be." In its studies, the division of highways relies on the plans of the local governmental bodies "to tell us what kind of community they anticipate," he said.

Fairfax City Councilman Peter R. Arrigoni Jr., the third speaker, said the highway proposal is one of the reasons that Fairfax has been so emphatic about initiating a master plan.

George M. Cowell of 60 San Gabriel Drive, Fairfax, a member of the audience, said there has not been effective communication between the communities that would be effected by the freeway.

"This requires over-all planning, county planning as well as local planning," Cowell said. "This cannot be considered as a problem of just San Anselmo and Fairfax."

Arrigoni said a highway through Fairfax would destroy the business district. "It'll be a long, cold winter, with the present councils, before there would be any freeway through downtown San Anselmo or Fairfax," he predicted.

He pointed out the city councils can veto any proposed route by not signing the freeway agreement with the division of highways.

Larsen said it is legally necessary for the division of highways to have a freeway agreement with local governments in order to change, close or modify any local road.

Indications are that a public hearing on Highway 17 routing will be conducted "sometime this summer," he said. After the hearing, the staff sends its report of feasible alternatives to the state highway engineer, who makes his recommendation on the route to the State Highway Commission, Larsen said. If local governments want it, another public hearing is then held.

Larsen said the route could be chosen "in a year from now," but construction would be several years away.

"Our money is going into 101 for the next 10 years, but it's still desirable to set locations to facilitate local planning," he reported.

Asked if there were any "push" to get Highway 17 completed, Larsen said there has been concern about the Point Reyes Seashore and "problems in San Rafael are going to be big."

"We don't think the concept of living in the Ross Valley is conditioned to six or eight lane freeways," Arrigoni said. "This is not a commute problem."

The discussion was co-sponsored by the San Anselmo Homes Assn. and the Fairfax Citizens Study Committee. Kenneth Anderson, president of the San Anselmo Homes Assn., was chairman.

One of the scheduled speakers, James Robertson, Marin County traffic engineer, was unable to attend because of illness.

Cage Coach Put On Probation

The head basketball coach at San Rafael High School, Michael Joseph Diaz, 30, yesterday was placed on two years probation in Marin Municipal Court for battery last Christmas Day on a woman friend, Sally Jane Hubbard of Fairfax.

Judge Peter Allen Smith also ordered Diaz, of 416 Alameda de la Loma, Novato, to seek psychiatric treatment and pay the victim's medical expenses.

Diaz, unmarried and a teacher at the school since 1961, struck the woman at her home, 90 Porteous Avenue. He originally was charged with assault with a deadly weapon, but the charge was reduced to battery.

Wall Street Loot Found In Raid

NEW YORK (UPI) —Detectives seized $1 million in stolen securities last night and arrested three men, including a former bodyguard of the late mobster, Albert Anastasia, the district attorney's office reported.

A spokesman for Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan said the securities were part of $2.1 million worth of stocks stolen from a messenger in the Wall Street area last July.

The arrests were made at the Wellington Hotel in Manhattan.

A stop order had been placed on the stock certificates, but investigators said the securities could be put up as collateral with European banks or disposed of in Europe in other ways.

Marinwood Pool Repairs Considered

Directors of the Marinwood Community Services District last night, acting on the advise of Asst. County Counsel Richard V. Godino, agreed to repair the swimming pool deck and try to recover cost from the pool contractor.

The contract with Christensen and Foster of Santa Rosa for pool construction three years ago called for a broom finish on the deck, but the cement set too quickly for all areas to get the broom, according to district secretary Genevieve Bolding. It will cost about $650 to make the repairs.

Directors William McGregor and Jerrol L. Flood announced last night they would not seek re-election June 7. Filing will open Feb. 28 and close March 30.

Directors of the Marinwood Community Services District also:

1. Endorsed Howard Council, a former member of the district board, for appointment to the vacancy on the Marin County Planning Commission. He publishes an insurance trade journal.

2. Authorized payment of $225 in overtime to Fire Chief James Cameron for January when the department was short one man.

3. Authorized $100 for expenses of park and recreation director William Gordon to attend the California Recreation Conference in Los Angeles the first week of March.

Symphony Guild Asks For Money

The Symphony Guild of Marin has requested $4,000 in county aid next fiscal year, an increase of $1,500 over the contribution this year.

The request was made in a letter to county supervisors from guild president, Mrs. Jane A. Baird.

Larkspur Revives Merger Talk With Sanitary District

Larkspur City Mgr. Ronald E. Piper told the city council last night it is time to consider again a merger of the city-maintained sanitary system in the old part of Larkspur with the Ross Valley Sanitary District.

Piper recalled that the last time the subject arose, directors of the sanitary district indicated they wanted no part of the deal. However, he said, a change in state law then would allow the local agency formation commission to annex old Larkspur to the district without consent of its board of directors.

He said Ralph C. Noah, manager of the sanitary district, reported his board would like to meet with the city councilmen to discuss the annexation.

Councilman Vaughn Marker said: "Once again, after a long dry spell, we find ourselves in the position to negotiate amicably with another governmental agency. It certainly is a pleasure."

The council told Piper to write the sanitary district board ask-for a meeting tfter the city for a meeting after the city Greenbrae area of Larkspur is already in the Ross Valley Sanitary District.

The Larkspur City Council Also:

1. Introduced an amendment to the zoning ordinance changing plumbing inspection to those listed in the uniform plumbing code.

2. Introduced an ordinance which makes a change in fire zones concurrently with any change in a district's zoning.

3. Directed a letter to Crown Development Co. demanding that a portion of Tulane Drive, never improved by the subdividers of Hillview Gardens, be improved. The council asked for a response by April 6.

4. Passed a resolution forbidding parking on either side of lower Via Casitas, 100 feet south from upper Via Casitas, and on the pavement on Redwood Avenue between Madrone and Oak Grove avenues.

5. Reviewed a plan to dredge a straightened channel for Arroyo Holon Creek for approximately 800 feet east of Ward Street.

6. Passed a resolution establishing polling places for the city council election on April 12, appointing boards of election, and fixing compensation at $18 for inspectors and $15 for judges and clerks.

7. Agreed to have the Pacific Coast Pulp Co. pull down several large eucalyptus trees at the top of Laurel Avenue. Piper said the trees are a hazard. The operation will be at no cost to the city.

8. Agreed to donate $350 as the city's share of the Larkspur-Corte Madera fireworks display on the Fourth of July.

9. Directed that the county board of supervisors be asked to send a representative to the council meeting April 6, to explain plans for recreation areas along Corte Madera Creek inside the City of Larkspur.

Unruh Gets Ticket In Traffic Accident

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Police have cited Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh for failing to yield the right of way in a minor auto accident. No one was hurt.

Officers said Unruh's vehicle hit a truck at 21st and O streets last night, leading to the citation. They said the Inglewood Democrat told them he just didn't see the other vehicle.

Fire Chief Requests Cleanup For Theater

Sausalito's Gate Theater at 668 Bridgeway needs some "house cleaning," Fire Chief Charles E Masten said today. He has recommended such action be taken to the county health officer.

Masten said theater exits are blocked and that unsanitary housekeeping is attracting rats.

Corvair 500 Sport Coupe—with handsome all-vinyl upholstery

If the price surprises you
(it's America's lowest priced hardtop)
that's understandable

And if the Corvair approach to driving comes as another pleasant surprise to you, that's understandable, too.

The steering's crisp and easy, and the traction keeps its sharp bite even in mud or snow (engine weight's off the front wheels and on the rear drive wheels).

You corner crisply and even-keeled and ride in solid comfort because of the Corvette-like independent four-wheel suspension.

And while the rakish looks and smartly crafted Body by Fisher interior give no inkling of economy, it shows up in the right places. For instance, the air-cooled engine never needs antifreeze and the brakes adjust themselves.

All that and new standard safety and convenience features, too

Rusk Claims Pact Guides Viet Action

the American position in Viet Nam.

"There's also going to have to be a political settlement in the United States."

"In my opinion now, the American people are going to have to decide this issue," Morse said.

In his prepared testimony Rusk gave detailed arguments for these main points:

1. The United States is committed by formal treaty and other means.

2. The war is a facet of worldwide resistance to Communist expansion by aggression.

3. North Vietnamese action in as much aggression as if an army had marched formally across the border.

4. The Viet Cong is strictly a creature of Hanoi and the fighting has none of the elements of an indigenous revolt.

5. Negotiations on the terms on which the Communists insist would mean surrender in advance to the Red demand for a Communist takeover.

In subsequent question-and-answer exchanges, Rusk said with regard to the last point of that list:

"That is what the shooting is about."

Rusk's nationally televised testimony brought toward a climax the crackling Senate probe of administration Viet Nam policy begun a month ago before Johnson ordered resumption of the bombing of North Viet Nam and went to Honolulu to meet South Vietnamese leaders.

The secretary of state was appearing for the second time since the hearings got underway.

The basis for the U.S. commitment under which Johnson has sent more than 200,000 servicemen to fight in Viet Nam has been one of the chief targets in the questioning.

Presenting a full-scale defense of what he portrayed as a vital U.S. policy of stemming Communist aggression in Viet Nam as well as elsewhere, Rusk underlined the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO) commitment entered into with Britain, France, Australia, New Zealand, the Philippines, Thailand and Pakistan in 1954.

He said the treaty is not only guaranteed the security of the member nations but also provided for aid tocertain other nations and territories if they requested it. He said South Viet Nam was included in this provision.

"It is this fundamental SEATO obligation that has from the outset guided our actions in South Viet Nam," he said.

The secretary of state summoned up his 50 pages of broad-ranging testimony with this five-point summary which he described as "the heart of the problem and the heart of U.S. policy in South Viet Nam:"

"1. The elementary fact is that there is an aggression in the form of an armed attack by North Viet Nam against South Viet Nam.

"2. The United States has commitments to assist South Viet Nam to repel this aggression.

"3. Our commitments to South Viet Nam were not taken in isolation but are a part of systematic effort in the postwar period to assure a stable peace.

"4. The issue in Southeast Asia becomes worldwade because we must make clear that the United States keeps its word wherever it is pledged.

"5. No nation is more interested in peace in Southeast Asia or elsewhere than is the United States. If the armed attack against South Viet Nam is brought to an end, peace can come very quickly."

Yesterday, presidential adviser Maxwell D. Taylor told the committee members that the Communists clearly are not convinced that the United States is irrevocably committeed to the support of South Viet Nam.

"They have not forgotten that the Viet Minh won more in Paris than in Dien Bien Phu and believe that the Viet Cong may be as fortunate in Washington," he said.

Sausalito Merchants Help Fire Victim Keep Going

Sausalito's fire-swept radio and television shop, Village TV, will stay in business, mainly because of aid coming from other business men.

Walt Silva, owner of the Plaza at 739 Bridgeway, has offered shop partner Ellis D. Murphy six months free rent of a portion of Silva's building next to the plaza.

A community antenna television business is permitting use of its work shop and test equipment for the present.

Creative Arts has a sign in its window calling attention to the fact that persons who had television or radio sets in Village TV for repair can, if they had insurance on the sets in their homes, collect on that insurance.

Murphy said today he will continue his business across the street in White and Hutchinson's building.

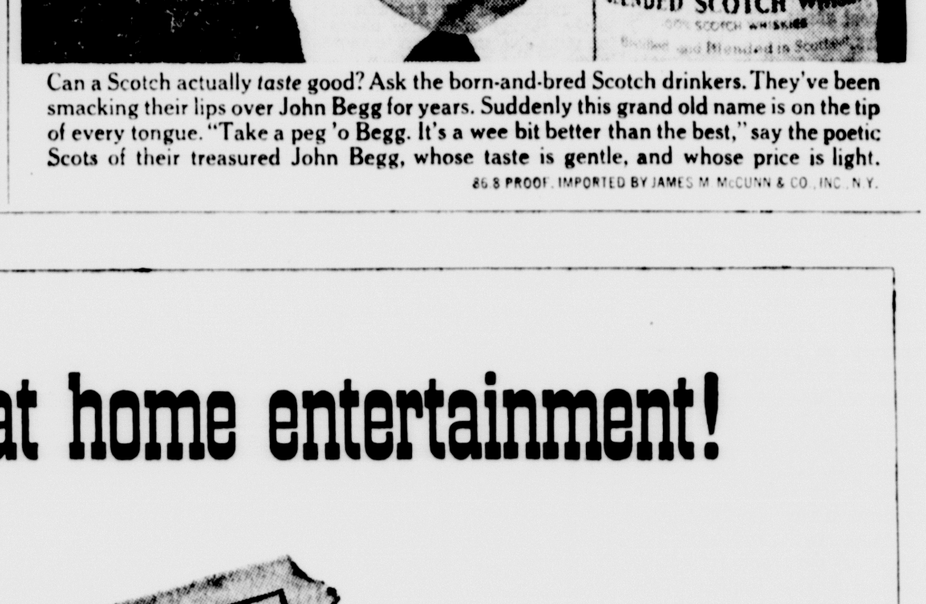

Cause of the fire was established yesterday as arson by Fire Chief Charles E. Masten, who said investigation is continuing.

Soldier Runs Wild In Armored Vehicle

MANNHEIM, Germany (UPI) —A U.S. soldier took a tank-like M14 personnel carrier on a wild midnight ride along the main Mannheim-Frankfurt highway today, eluding police cars and leaving a path of destruction in his wake.

When the dust cleared Pvt. Joseph A. Spankow of Metuchen, N.J., was under arrest. Police said among roadside objects damaged in his 20-mile ride were 40 light posts, 15 traffic signs, eight sections of the dividing rail, an unknown number of exit signs and one telephone booth.

John Begg was here!

Can a Scotch actually taste good? Ask the born-and-bred Scotch drinkers. They've been smacking their lips over John Begg for years. Suddenly this grand old name is on the tip of every tongue. "Take a peg 'o Begg. It's a wee bit better than the best," say the poetic Scots of their treasured John Begg, whose taste is gentle, and whose price is light.

New Charges For Friend Of Liberace

Keith H. MacDonald, 28, who police found hiding under the bed in his apartment at 1449 Casa Buena Drive, Corte Madera, when they went to arrest him yesterday, was in more trouble today.

MacDonald, who has played host to pianist Liberace in recent weeks, was arrested on a bad check warrant from Oakland yesterday and booked in county jail. While booking him, police said, they received notice from Sacramento police that there is a Sacramento warrant for him on an auto theft charge.

This charge was added and bail for MacDonald was set at $4,400. He bailed out later in the day.

Inspector Harold Hockett of Corte Madera police reported that when he and Officer Charles Newman went to arrest MacDonald yesterday, they had to let themselves into the apartment and search for a half hour before they found him hiding under his bed.

Hockett said they returned to the apartment after booking MacDonald and found the stolen Sacramento car in the garage. He said they took the car and several thousand dollars worth of sound equipment, which MacDonald allegedly purchased with bad checks.

Since then, Hockett said, Corte Madera police have received reports of bad checks MacDonald allegedly wrote

Larkspur Schools May Get Book Award

Supt. Milton S. Cohen last night told about 150 parents and teachers the Larkspur School District is one of three in the state being considered for a national Encyclopoedia Britannica award for improving school library services.

Cohen said the library, with 2,800 volumes, was the culmination of a program started five years ago with about 100 books in a corner of a classroom. The books had been donated by Parent-Teacher Assn. members.

He said school libraries in the district now have eight books per child enrolled, and the district will have 10 books per child within two years.

Bennett Scolded Over Subpoena Against Lynch

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — In an angry session the California Public Utilities Commission today quashed a subpoena for Atty. Gen. Thomas C. Lynch to appear at a hearing into bookie use of telephone communications.

CommissionerWilliam M. Bennett of Kentfield accused his fellow commissioners of being "errand boys for the attorney general."

Commissioner George G. Grover, presiding, charged Bennett with misuse of the seal of the commission. Bennet has announced his candidacy for attorney general.

Grover said, "This is a transparent sham. Everyone in the state knows that the only purpose in trying to subpoena the attorney general was for personal political gain. The power of the PUC has been used for a personal reason."

GOP Sets Fight On Fiscal Plan

By DEREK SCHOEN

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A top Republican lawmaker today pledged an all-out fight against a Democratic plan to avoid a tax hike in this election year by a shift in accounting procedures.

Assembly Minority Leader Robert T. Monagan branded the Democratic proposal "book juggling" and a "monstrous device" and vowed the GOP would stand united to block its use.

But a veteran Democratic assemblyman, facing a tough battle for re-election in a reapportioned district, may have summed up the feeling of many of his colleagues with this off-the-record comment:

"I'll go for it. Frankly, my big worry now is getting re-elected. And don't think there aren't 79 other guys just like me."

Monagan, R-Tracy, admitted the Democratic bookkeeping plan, with its promise of no tax increase, might tempt Republicans who must face the voters this spring. But he grimly predicted:

"We were opposed to this gimmick when it was $100 million—you know we're going to fight it when it goes near $250 million."

Senate Democrats unveiled the plan yesterday, with the blessing of State Finance Director Hale Champion and a more cautious endorsement from Gov. Brown.

As explained by Senate Finance Committee Chairman George Miller Jr. of Martinez, the plan is simply an expansion of an earlier Brown proposal.

Brown had urged considering tax money owed the state as cash on hand. It's called the accrual system and is used by business.

Partial use of the system, originally advocated by Brown, would have put $115 million on the books for fiscal 1966-67. The governor also had asked a $143 million state income tax hike, payable next year, to cover the rest of a budget deficit put at about $250 million.

But Miller told a news conference full use of the accrual method would put $247 million on the books—enough to balance the budget and leave a $5.4 million surplus.

Ironically, when Brown first suggested the plan, Monagan had jokingly questioned why—if it really were legitimate — it couldn't be used to cover the whole deficit.

But Monagan pledged his party's opposition to the budget unless the accrual system is dropped. Passage of the budget needs two-thirds margins in both houses, so Brown must find some Republican votes.

Miller said Champion agreed with the Senate plan and had promised to support it. Brown later told newsmen:

"There is a reasonable chance no new taxes will be needed at all. If there were no new taxes, it would be an absolute monument to the fiscal responsibility of my administration."

San Quentin Road Due Tree Planting

The State Division of Highways will plant trees and shrubs along a one-mile stretch of San Quentin Road to screen the rubbish dump from public view, probably within the next few months.

James Gordon, senior landscape architect at the San Francisco office of Division of Highways, said $8,500 has been allocated for the job, and bids will be advertised this month or next.

Plans call for planting from San Quentin Point to an area beyond the rubbish dump. The bulk of the planting will consist of photinias (a native shrub). Trees will include toyons, oaks, Monterey pines, and some eucalyptus and acacias.

Most of the planting will be on the bay side, but some planting will be done on the other side of the road to provide some balance, Gordon said.

The California Highway Commission granted the highway division authority to proceed with plans to screen junkyards along state highways, in keeping with the highway beautification program. The commission approved an initial expenditure of $93,000.

San Quentin Road is listed among the first five areas in the state to be screened.

Hotel Fire Kills 1

LOS ANGELES (AP) — An elderly man, still unidentified, died today of smoke inhalation, suffered when an early morning fire destroyed the ninth floor of the downtown Rosslyn Hotel.

Jury Still Out In Banker Trial

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A jury resumes deliberations this morning of charges against former bank president Don C. Silverthorne and his associate, William Bennett.

The pair is charged with conspiring to loot more than $400,000 in loan fees from the San Francisco National Bank before it collapsed.

Jurors got the case at 5:32 p.m. yesterday after a seven-week trial and were locked up in a hotel for the night at 10:30 p.m.

SACRAMENTO SUMMARY

Humphrey In Australia, Soon To Head Homeward

CANBERRA, Australia (AP) —Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey arrived in Canberra from New Delhi today, nearing the end of his string of visits to Asian and Pacific capitals.

Humphrey's plane arrived 75 minutes late. En route it made a refueling stop at Mactan, a small island in the Philippines off the coast of Cebu where the famous Portuguese explorer Ferdinand Magellan was killed by a native chieftain.

Humphrey told him:

"I can say to you, Mr. Holt, I come here in the spirit of optimism as to our future—meaning, of course, the future of free peoples.

"I see the United States, Australia and New Zealand working together with other nations of this area to build a better society for millions and millions of people of Asia."

Humphrey is to confer with Holt and the Australian Cabinet tomorrow and fly to New Zealand Sunday.

Bright Hues Used By Blind Artist

TAUNTON, Mass. (AP) — Forty paintings by Merrill A. Maynard are on display in a one-man show in Taunton. But Maynard will never see them.

Maynard went blind when he was 16. His wife, Edith, has been blind since she was 5.

He began painting two years ago and uses pigment sticks numbered in braille. Bright colors dominate many of his paintings.

Mrs. Humphrey Routed By Blast

HURON, S.D. (UPI) —Mrs. Christine Humphrey, 86-year-old mother of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, and 56 other residents of a nursing home were evacuated in 17-below zero temperatures today following a boiler explosion in the home.

There were no injuries. Mrs. Humphrey was taken to St. John's Hospital, but not for treatment.

Other residents of the rest home found refuge in the hospital, hotels and private homes.

Boys Club Gets Backing In Marin City

Marin City Community Services District directors last night endorsed the proposal for a boys' club and agreed to make the maintenance building behind the Community Center available for club activities.

They decided upon the name of Southern Marin Boys' Club.

The board took action following a presentation by two Tiburon businessmen who have initiated the idea and said they will raise money for the club.

The club backers are Richard N. Bale of 679 Hawthorne Drive and Raymond P. Delrich of 90 Rowley Circle. They said the club, for boys of age seven to 17, would be organized under auspices of the National Organization of Boys' Clubs.

Bale and Delrich were given a six-month option on the building which is renewable.

Would-Be Officer Loses 113 Pounds

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — In order to fulfill a lifetime dream to become a policeman, David Friddle was told to lose some weight.

Friddle, 32, lost 113 pounds — "from a tight 50 to a loose 38" — and was sworn in as a full-fledged policeman.

He had weighed 338 pounds, spread over a 6-foot-4 frame.

Fine music is the only true measure of a fine organ. To meet this measure, the modern organ must provide the sound associated with music written for the great organs of the past. The modern organ must have the console arrangement that gives the organist at a glance what he wants when he expects it. Traditional organ tone, standard controls, contemporary design...these are the essential Baldwin organ standards of quality.

Two of them just knocked off Corvair, Falcon, and Dart, finishing 1, 2 in the Class VI Acceleration Test in the NASCAR-supervised '66 Pure Oil Performance Trials. Proof of more power for safe passing.

How did American do it? With a surprising new Six. The biggest, newest, most powerful standard Six in its class. Yet the same car that won the Acceleration Test, posted a remarkable 24.5 mpg in the Economy Test. (And that was with automatic transmission!)

The Rambler American 220 two-door (shown below) still carries the lowest price of any U.S. car. And now during his "Big Win Weeks" celebration, your American Motors Rambler Dealer is pricing his Americans lower than ever.

DINING OUT AND INNS

By HARRY CRAFT

West Marin Spots May Offer Fine Cures For Spring Fever

In psuedo-spring weather like this it's easy to play hookey from weekend chores around the house and take off to the Marin coast. No excuse is necessary - be carefree and have fun.

If you haven't already taken a hint from the new Dining and Wining Guide that came out yesterday, there are a number of places to visit for food - all the way from Stinson Beach to Marshall, and we'd like to call your attention to them again.

At Stinson Beach, note that Farallon East is only open to 5 p.m. on Saturday and Sundays (to 3 p.m. weekdays). The Walkers now have a seasonal liquor license valid only between April 1 and the end of the year, so dinner hours and cocktails are more than a month away, in spite of the sunshine.

But Elwood's is open until about 10, and the bar is open later than that. Breakfasts, lunches and dinners. I understand there has been quite a bit of remodeling since a year ago.

In Bolinas, there's good food at both the Gibson House and Tarantino's - each according to its own specialties. But neither one has a full liquor license. Gibson House has wine and beer now; Tarantino's just beer. If you must have something stronger than that, try Scowley's up the street. But no food here.

AT INVERNESS, a three-way choice of restaurants gives you Moravian food at Drake's Arms, where there's also a bar; Czechoslovakian food at Inverness Lodge, with wines and beers; and coffee shop and seafood specialties at Graveson's. Drake's Arms and Graveson's are in the heart of the village on the main street. Inverness Lodge is a short distance beyond and up the hill - a sign is posted for the turn-off. Lunches and dinners at all three, but Graveson's closes at about 8 p.m.

Largest place in Marshall is Marshall Tavern. Oke Sandberg, as the name suggests, tends toward Swedish meat balls and Scandinavian sandwiches, and he serves wines and beers.

Depending on how you return from your excursion, you can stop off farther inland for dinner at Clay's Farmhouse, Olema, Rancho Ilcasio, the Old Viking in Lagunitas, or Oak Tree Inn, San Geronimo. East of all that the choices are multiple and varied.

AT THIS WRITING (Wednesday), Pandora (or Chez Dumont) in San Anselmo was headed for a reopening this weekend—completely redecorated. Tonight was not a certainty, but tomorrow night seemed to be a probability. In any event it would be advisable to phone before going there.

Telephone number is the same as listed in last year's directory under Pandora.

HOW ACCURATE is your knowledge of foreign dishes?

Pan American Airways suggests this "I-Q-scene" as a test for would-be international gourmets. Score one point for naming the correct country associated with each dish. If you can't make seven points, it's time you started traveling.

1. Borscht. 2. Sukiyaki. 3. Haggis. 4. Adobo (also called chicken adobo, if that's easier for you). 5. Bouillabaise. 6. Boeuf a la Flamande. 7. Star Gazy Pie. 8. Chicken Paprika. 9. Gazpacho Andaluz. 10. Fondue.

SUGGESTIONS for here and there:

Good place in Sausalito for seafoods is the Seven Seas — both for lunch and dinner. Cherrystone clams, oysters on the half shell or in stew. Shrimp curry, abalone and many other such selections. Sit at a table in the bar — or in the patio.

STEAKS are the favorite of many Spinnaker diners — New Yorks, double New Yorks, T-bones and chateaubriands. Good beef. No matter where you sit, there's a view of some kind—looking over the water.

Eggs Benedict are my preference for a Sunday morning brunch on the outside deck at the Trident. So long as the sun is shining, that's all that's necessary. Outside heaters can be put to work here if the air is too chilly.

ALL SORTS of wine concoctions are at Champagne Hut in Mill Valley. Which reminds me—congratulations to Dunya Chernenko for her restaurant accomplishments. Just two years this month. Champagne Hut is right next to her real estate office, and you'll find her in one place or the other.

THIS, I GUESS, should have been mentioned in yesterday's Dining and Wining Guide, for someone is certain to make a mistake about it this year: El Paseo Dining Room in downtown Mill Valley is not a place that serves Spanish food. Continental, French and Italian dishes—yes, but nothing Spanish except the name. The entire building from Throckmorton to Sunnyside is known as El Paseo, because of its architecture.

ONE WAY around those top dinner prices at the Caprice in Tiburon is to go there for the "before theater dinner" at $4.50, served every night until 7 p.m. The view of Racoon Strait and Angel Island is just as good then as later. Maybe better. And who said you absolutely have to go to the theatre afterward?

IF THERE IS one entree more of a house specialty than any others at Blue Rock Inn, Larkspur, I'd say it's the prime rib of beet. Steaks next. And in case you haven't been aware of it lately—lunches are now served here Mondays through Fridays.

HORS D' OEUVRES made to order for that soiree or cocktail party by Diller's of San Rafael include smoked salmon rolls, fancy stuffed eggs, chicken salad, chopped liver, baby California shrimps, crab delights and a long list of other tantalizing snacks.

Diller's is the delicatessen in downtown San Rafael where any day of the week, including Sunday, you can sit down to a hot pastrami and rye sandwich, follow it up with some of Mrs. Diller's creamy cherry cheese cake—and the only reason you

Marin City Robbery Halts Druggist Service

Three men, one of them armed with a .45 calibre revolver, robbed a Sausalito Pharmacy delivery boy of approximately $60 in cash receipts last night outside 89 Cole Drive in Marin City.

It was the second theft from the drug store's Marin City delivery route in Marin City in a week. On Feb. 10, potentially harmful drugs were taken by three boys from the parked delivery van.

Last night's hoodlums were described as "in their 20's, tall and tough."

The delivery boy, James Leech, 17, said he had just made a delivery and was returning to the van, when one of the three asked for a match, then pulled a gun and demanded the money pouch. After warning their victim not to report the theft, they fled on foot down Cole Street and disappeared.

Fred Mayer, the pharmacy proprietor, said he was discontinuing deliveries to Marin City after dark.

"What really upsets me," Mayer said, "is that this hurts my many good customers in Marin City. Some of them are old, others have no car and depend on me for night and emergency deliveries. They know I'll get up in the middle of the night for them."

Mayer said he thought "additional police ought to be assigned to Marin City."

Waterfront Park Ideas Discussed

Sausalito recreation commissioners, concerned with potential loss of waterfront acess areas with the proposed widening of Bridgeway, last night proposed that Princess Park be replaced by tapering out the new sea wall.

The commission also proposed that the sea wall be extended in the vicinity of the Sea Lion to allow for two small landscaped green areas, reported Commissioner James E. Muldoon.

The commission recommended that a "substantial waterfront area" in central Sausalito be acquired by the county if a county bond issue for parks, proposed by Supervisor Peter H. Behr, is voted.

Mrs. Eleanor Cruikshank, newly appointed commissioner, was elected secretary, replacing Mrs. Kathleen Krajewski, who resigned. A resolution was passed thanking Mrs. Krajewski for her major role in acquiring a new park during her term: Langendorf Park at Easterby Street and Woodward Avenue.

Thieves Get Clothes At Sports Store

Burglars forced a side door of Indian Valley Golf Club on Novato Boulevard northwest of Novato, and made off with about $595 worth of sports clothes, sheriff's officers reported today.

Albert L. Leech, part owner, told deputies two cigarette machines were also looted of about $30, and $2 in small change was taken from a cash register. He said the clothing included 17 new sweaters, 55 shirts of various styles, and 13 pairs of socks.

Billy J. Baldwin, 143 Merrydale Road, San Rafael Meadows, told officers a $572 valve-grinding machine, weighing 400 pounds, was taken from his garage. Entry, he said, was by prying a door.

Owens-Marin Yacht Sales Inc., 40 San Pedro Road, San Rafael, reported loss of a $379 combination marine compass, fathometer and speedometer from a 37-foot cabin cruiser at Lowry's Yacht Harbor.

Deputies said the item was probably taken along with a 33-foot sailboat stolen Jan. 31 from the same firm. The $15,000 boat, totally demolished, was later found pounding against rocks on the Santa Cruz County shore.

Mrs. Mary A. Sheridan, 25 Mount Whitney Drive, Lucas Valley, said burglars entered her home through an unlocked sliding glass door and stole seven wine glasses and a piggy bank containing $4.

Russ Trawler Bypasses Marin

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Soviet trawler Deflektor was sighted last night about 32 miles off Point Sur, moving down the California coast on a southerly course.

The trawler has been under routine Navy surveillance since it first appeared off Eureka Tuesday.

Paul Leake Deserves Re-Election On Record

Paul R. Leake of Woodland, the man who played a key role in cleaning up California's liquor scandal, seeks re-election on a non-partisan basis as a member of the State Board of Equalization.

On the basis of his record as a member of the Board for 16 years, Paul Leake well deserves to be retained at his post for another term.

A lifelong Democrat, Leake was first appointed to the Third District (25 Northern California counties including Marin) post in 1952. He was picked by Republican Earl Warren, then governor and now Chief Justice of the United States, on the condition that he'd be given "free rein to try to clean up the Board's liquor scandal."

Leake immediately sparked a move to take liquor law enforcement out of the tax board and to create a new state liquor department. Through his efforts, the new Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control was established.

And those who participated in the state liquor license graft, including two legislators and eight state liquor agents were sent to the state penitentiary.

William Bonelli, self-proclaimed "liquor czar of California," is still a fugitive in Mexico.

Leake was aided in the liquor scandal clean-up by the then Assemblyman Caspar Weinberger, the then Atty. Gen. Edmund G. Brown, and others in the Legislature.

It is with understandable pride that Paul Leake points out: "Since then, no breath of scandal has touched this Board."

In 1962, he won primary endorsement on both the Democratic and Republican ballots—a testimonial to a man whose approach to his job has been above all political considerations.

An outspoken foe of secrecy in government, he has had the courage to criticize both Democrats and Republicans alike.

His platform today, as it was in 1952, is: "Taxes and politics don't mix."

His policy on political contributions also remains unchanged:

"We'll seek none, nor will we accept any. We're not bragging—it's the way it's going to be."

He has served his district effectively and without political prejudice or favoritism.

On Building A Bird House

When we were kids in Colorado, we decided to build a Purple Martin house in carpentry class. It was quite a beautiful job. We parked it in our elm tree and waited. We had overlooked just one detail. We had neglected to find out whether Purple Martins lived in dry, flatlands of northeastern Colorado.

Most birds require special types of houses. When Pop knocks a few boards together and Mom says, "How pretty," they are just taking a chance that some bird will recognize it as a potential home. Maybe the kind of bird you wish to attract doesn't like green shutters and a porch railing.

If you want to make a home for a Mourning Dove or a Robin, rather than a Starling or an English Sparrow, better check with the library or someone who knows. Some 40 species of birds take to bird houses, provided they take a fancy to them.

MARIN POLITICAL VIEWS

Christopher Popularity Causes Some Campaigners To Waver

By WAT TAKESHITA

Takeshita

THE SURPRISE showing of George Christopher in the latest California Poll samplings is sending repercussions to the local level.

Christopher, battling actor Ronald Reagan for the Republican nomination for governor, has climbed to within one percentage point of the heretofore front-runner Reagan.

Moderates among the Republicans are perking up. Assemblyman Bill Bagley of San Rafael, who had just about given up running for state controller, is now taking a second look. He figures it this way:

If actor Reagan wins the GOP nomination and heads the statewide ticket, the Republicans are in for another shellacking like Senator Goldwater got in 1964 against President Johnson.

BUT IF Christopher wins the nod, he's liable to beat Democrat Governor Brown in November to lead a Republican resurgence statewide. In that event, Bagley might give up his Assembly seat for an all-out bid for the state controller's post.

Supporters of Hadden Roth, San Rafael attorney and member of the Marin General Hospital board, are wondering why Roth doesn't try for the Assembly. If Bagley vacates the Assembly seat and goes for controller, we wouldn't be surprised if Roth files for Assembly.

In which case, Roth, a Democrat, would have to go up against Robert Mertle for the Democratic nomination.

NEXT TUESDAY night (Washington's Birthday), a special speaker has been lined up for the Marin Republican Central Committee meeting at 8:15 in the San Rafael courthouse.

Marin Chairman Gerald Misner has invited Mike Djorjevich of San Francisco, the new statewide chairman of the Young Republicans. He's expected to issue some pointers on how the YR's can beef up their programs and solidify their ranks.

Could be just the prescription needed for the Marin YR's, who have been decimated by factionalism that goes back to the Goldwater-Rockefeler split. All Republicans, both young and old, are invited to the meeting.

Some of the old-time ranchers are talking up Frank Soares, who owns the Bull Tail Ranch in Nicasio, to run for the county assessor's job.

MRS. LIBBY Gatov of Kent Woodlands is one of the co-chairmen for the $100-per-plate dinner they're putting on for Governor Brown on March 9 at Fairmont Hotel in San Francisco.

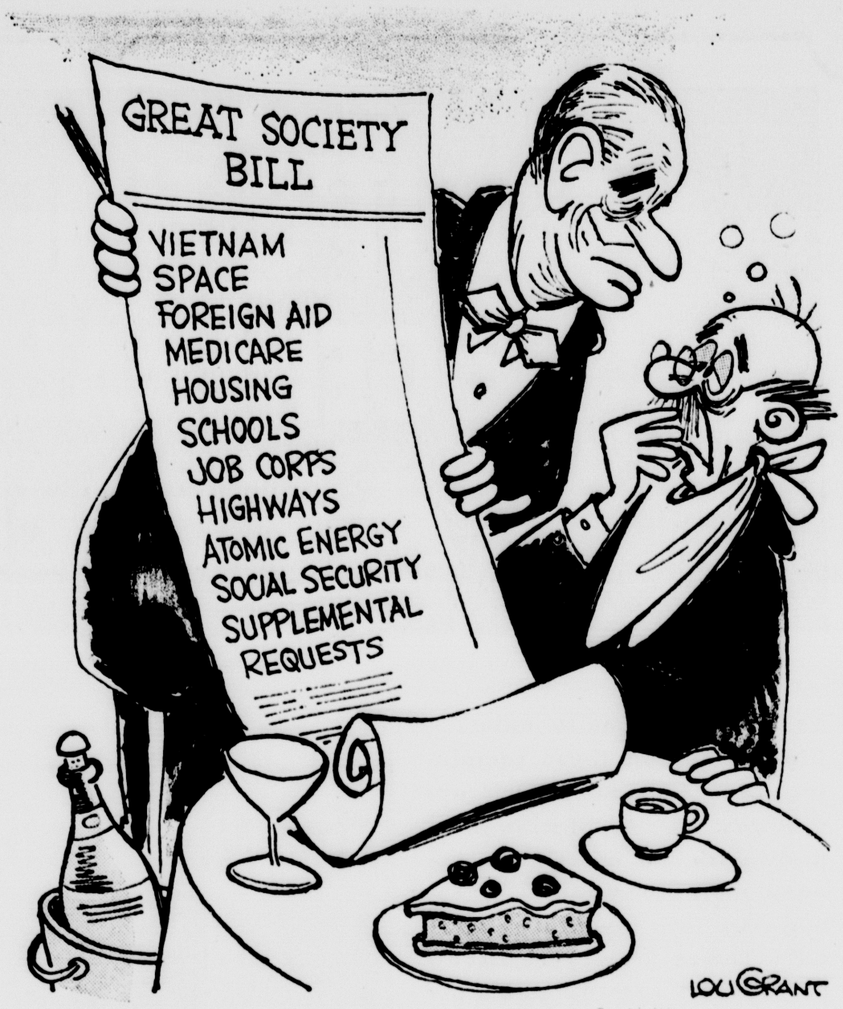

MARIN SUPERVISOR Tom Storer, who seeks the Democratic nomination to oppose Congressman Don Clausen, says one of the prime issues in this campaign is the Congressional reapportionment after the election.

"If the First District people re-elect Clausen, who lives in Crescent City, there's a good chance that Marin would be lumped with Phil Burton's area in San Francisco," Storer avers. "I would make a pledge to keep Marin, Sonoma and Napa intact in one district."

Save Columns Of Court House

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The eternal problem of progress is what and what not to save of antiquity for posterity. There is no doubt that Marin County's courthouse is of great historic interest and should be saved. But at what price and who pays it?

Destruction of the courthouse will be a great loss. And it is certain that to save it will be expensive and its cost could throw the entire financial plan for the development of the land out of balance.

A plan has come to mind which may be the solution. Why not save the magnificent Corinthian columns and the overhead facade or frieze, either at the present location or upon any architecturally desired site on the square? The rest of the building could be taken away without much loss.

This is not without example. Many years ago fire destroyed one of the classical buildings on the campus of the University of Missouri at Columbia. The magnificent Ionic columns of stone remained, first gaunt, but since aged and resplendent in a park area. The effect is so great that one can hardly view them without standing for a moment in silence with head bared.

I suggest that interested people give this serious thought. More letters to the editor like this, either for or against, will serve to crystalize public opinion. And the Independent-Journal could well discuss it in its editorial column.

Creek Footpaths Not Feasible

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I would like to amplify my remarks addressed to the Marin County Parks and Recreation Commission, as reported in your newspaper of Feb. 10.

I am wholly in favor of park and recreational development utilizing Corte Madera Creek. I support public access to the creek and hope to see the creation of small boat facilities, especially launching ramps.

However, I do feel the inclusion of creek-side footpaths in Walter Horchler's proposed plan is unfeasible and downright outlandish. The "banks" of the creek in the county right-of-way are underwater—through no malicious design of the corp of engineers. In this part of the project, the corps proposes to leave the creek banks in their natural state. Designing, constructing and maintaining a footpath on this watery foundation would be a feat indeed. It wouldn't be cheap. And it certainly would not advance the stated aim of the State Department of Fish and Game, "to preserve natural vegetation."

In addition, many homes front directly on the creek. The damages would be severe were a footpath to traverse the decks of these homes or destroy their access to the water. The legality of such a plan is highly questionable.

Taking all this into consideration, I would urge that attention be focused on those areas where recreational development would be feasible.

Conservation—yes.
Despoliation—no.

Unpressured Planning Needed

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Good Grief - Bill Fusselman has done it again! This time he attacked our new County Planning Director Paul Zucker who just stepped into the driver's seat before he even had a chance to "buckle up."

Fusselman's vicious attacks not only were unnecessary and discourteous, but even inaccurate. He stated Feb. 11 that a "former Easterner" told him that Brookline and Cambridge, Mass. were 60 miles apart and that Brookline was a community "with a population less than Marin's larger cities." He thus arrived at the conclusion that Zucker, who was employed by a planning firm in Cambridge, must have been a part-time director in Brookline.

If Fusselman had bothered to do his "checking out" before his reporting, he would have known that: (1.) Cambridge and Brookline are only separated by the width of the Charles River; (2.) Brookline has a population of 54,000; (3.) That Zucker resided in Brookline and was its full-time planning director.

I have concluded from reading his "County Comments" that Fusselman is a bitter ex-supervisor who attempts to discredit our present board whenever possible. Rather than an impartial investigation in the taxpaying public's interest, as he alleges, these current attacks appear to be part of a personal vendetta.

I suspect he is questioning the judgement of our supervisors through the device of attacking their selection of Zucker.

Paul Zucker is our planning director and these petty snipes will not help him do his job effectively and are thus not in the best interests of Marin County which so desperately needs creative, unpressured planning leadership.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

THOSE OLD advice-to-the-lovelorn columns have a new devil-may-care note of recklessness and abandon in them these days. Right below a typical "How can I win back the love of my errant boy friend" appeal recently, my eyes fell on this inquiry, "How can I throw a rolling pin so that I'll be sure to hit my husband with it?" The answer, obviously dictated by a gal with firsthand experience, read, "Grip it firmly by the handle, hold the pin upright, then throw it with backspin on it." And that's probably how another poor hubby bit the dust.

WHEN WOODROW Wilson was president of Princeton University, a persistent mother questioned him closely about what Princeton could do for her precious boy. Wilson finally terminated the interview with a curt, "We guarantee satisfaction, Madam, or you will get your son back."

QUICKIES: Bowlegged cowboy, completing army physical: "Well, Doc, how do I stand?" Doctor: "That's what I'd like to know."

A beautiful but slightly discombobulated young woman stormed into police headquarters to inquire, "Where do I apologize for shooting my husband?"

20 YEARS AGO

Roger Kane, manager of Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co., announced that the new Marin County telephone directory would contain 14,378 listings, 819 more than the last directory.

Moscow, Peking Squaring Off For Final Break In Relations

WASHINGTON — Red China and the Soviet Union are escalating their fight-to-the-finish political struggle.

The end is steadily coming into view and, the way things are now headed, the end will be a total break in relations between the two Communist powers.

THIS MAY BE no boon to the West in Viet Nam or anywhere in Southeast Asia, but it is a bottomless source of divisible trouble to the Communist parties everywhere in the world.

It is evident that Moscow has picked, from its standpoint, exactly the right moment to read Peking out of the Communist camp—the moment when Red China has the worst possible relations with nearly every Communist country and is on the defensive with the unaligned nations on three continents.

No wonder the Soviets are looking forward with some grim pleasure to the 23rd Party Congress in Moscow next month.

They are pretty confident they have it made. They expect that more than 80 Communist parties will accept Moscow's condemnation of Mao Tse-tung's policies and attempts to split the Communist movement down the middle.

Although the surface purpose of the Communist summit is how best to aid North Viet Nam, its real preoccupation will be what to do about China.

THIS IS EVIDENT in the 10,000-word memorandum which the Soviets are widely circulating in preparation for the March 29 meeting. It is in this document that Moscow reveals its new approach to the Chinese. They are not condemning them on ideological grounds where the Soviet position is weakest, but on political grounds where the Soviet position is strongest.

Says Peking acts to "envenom" the Viet Nam conflict against the interests of the Vietnamese people.

Holds that Chinese Communist foreign policy generally is so ill-conceived and provocative that it could touch off another world war.

THE THESIS is that Red China has abandoned the Marxist-Leninist "ideological struggle" for a "political struggle against the socialist states."

Peking has its own answers to this indictment and it is giving them publicly with tense ferocity. It accuses Moscow of "revisionism" (worst of all Communist epithets), of "bourgeois softness," of giving only lip-service help to Viet Nam and of serving the cause of "U. S. imperialism."

But Peking will almost certainly boycott the congress. One reason is that it has no influential allies among any of the Communist nations.

North Korea and North Viet Nam want to be neutral and are certainly not anti-Soviet. The Indonesian Communist party is now down the drain and Jakarta has just recalled its ambassador from Peking because of China's role in the attempted coup. China has the backing of splinter groups within the Communist parties in little more than 20 non-Communist countries.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Viet Great Society's Spending Plan Drawn

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — President Lyndon B. Johnson is pledging nearly $1 billion in economic aid yearly to war-ravaged South Viet Nam in one of the most extraordinary social-economic experiments undertaken by the U.S.

This long-term program, outlined at the President's Honolulu conference with South Vietnamese leaders, calls for building a "new society" by the 15,715,000 people in the strife-racked Southeast Asian country.

U.S. FUNDS will pay the cost of everything from the daily operations of the South Viet Nam government and holding of elections in 1967, to financing the purchase of vast quantities of U.S. commodities and equipment and the launching of multi-million-dollar public works projects.

As one of the first steps in creating this "new society," a special $175 million fund is being set up this month "to cope with severe inflationary pressures which threaten economic and political stability in South Viet Nam."

The new program, which gives the U.S. a major economic lever to induce the government of Premier Nguyen Cao Ky to undertake drastic social and economic reforms, provides for the purchase of the following supplies from the U.S.:

Fifty million dollars for iron and steel; $21 million, rice; $21 million, non-metallic minerals; $16 million, industrial machinery; $9 million, vehicles and parts; $8 million, coal; $7.4 million, yarn and fabrics; $4.4 million, fertilizer; $3 million, tires and tubes; $2.5 million, chemicals; $1 million, non-ferrous metals; $600,000, raw sugar; $500,000, pulp and paper; $9.5 million, other commodities.

WITH THESE and other purchases, the U.S. proposes to build large industrial complexes in South Viet Nam to bolster the present rural economy, which now centers around rice production.

Largest of these industrial complexes is to be at Cam Ranh Bay, the new military port the U.S. is building. Eventually, the aim is to turn it into the "Hong Kong of Southeast Asia."

Another program being launched immediately under the President's multibillion dollar "new society" for South Viet Nam, calls for:

"Rural construction $200 million. They include public safety activities, logistic management, public works, refugee relief, welfare, and development projects."

VICE PRESIDENT Hubert H. Humphrey's mission to Saigon is closely tied to the sweeping nature of this immense social-economic plan.

The President reportedly felt Humphrey's trip was essential because U.S. authorities in Viet Nam don't fully understand the purpose and scope of the plan.

Several officials, including one of the President's top military advisers, contend the U.S. should concentrate on winning the war before going on a spending binge to bring about social and economic reforms that could add to the country's present turmoil.

SIGNIFICANTLY, the President is telling Democratic congressional leaders that his "new society" program is aimed at influencing the government of Ho Chi Minh as well as that of Premier Nguyen Ky.

He contends that the far-reaching economic development program in South Viet Nam might attract the North Vietnamese to come to the conference table where a similar plan would be offered them for a peaceful settlement.

"With heaven so praised and the world so criticized, it's a wonder more folks are not in a hurry to make the move."

Cows, Not Planners, Once Roamed Historic Dias Ranch

THE OTHER DAY we had a talk with Mrs. J. J. Dias of the now rather well-known Dias Ranch.

The ranch above Homestead Valley always sounds like a vast holding but Mrs. Dias says, though it was once 1,000 acres, it is now but 170.

She, Julia by name, has lived there 40 years and the ranch has been in the Dias family for 75. "The ranch was my father-in-law's," said Mrs. Dias, "John Dias. He got kicked by a bull and he died. Then my husband kept buying off the interests of all the eight Dias children. Then it belonged to us.

The owners had a dairy farm and hauled milk by horse and wagon to Manzanita Station near Marin City where it was taken by train to the ferry, by ferry to San Francisco.

Dias, which means days in Portuguese, died a year ago.

The family milked about 250 cattle on their ranch of 1,000 acres which stretched down into Franks Valley on the ocean side. Gradually the land was sold until it became 170 acres which is now owned by Alfred Stern, who plans to develop it into a planned community of about 581 homes.

"They cut the ranch in half to make Knoll Road — They named it Dias Road from Shoreline to the old toll gate leading into Muir Woods. We never had to pay toll," said Mrs. Dias.

"WE USED TO have fields of oat hay and barley, we had three saddle horses and 11 work horses and we always had barnyard chickens.

On the ranch were the old cookhouse, an eight-room farmhouse, a bunk house with six rooms for hired men and three old barns. "We had six hired men before we had milk machines," related Mrs. Dias. Mrs. Dias said she used to cook for the help at one time but didn't like the job.

Now Mrs. Dias has 17 chickens, two rabbits, a dog named Raleigh and a cat named Goldie.

The Diases stopped selling milk in about 1954 when the ranch was sold. The old whitewashed barns remain but the cows were sold. "It was like living in a cemetery after we sold the cattle," she said. Now Mrs. Dias buys milk from the grocery but says, "It isn't milk. We were used to good milk."

Born in Nicasio, Mrs. Dias later lived on Slide Ranch with her family and then the Dias Ranch. At the moment, she says, she plans to continue living in her house and await the coming of her new neighbors.

Paul Schwarzenberg has designed a firebox for a steel sculpture at Bayside Iron works in Sausalito for the houseboat of Alberto of the same town. Alberto, says Schwarzenberg's partner, Charles Woodle, is the man who dances on the piano in a San Francisco night club. He just has one name Alberto.

THE SCULPTURED free-standing fireplace with chimney, about six feet tall, looks something like a discriminating walrus with three legs. Other unusual jobs at Bayside by the Novato owners are repairing beds and making swords for the Marin Shakespeare Festival Theater actors, says Woodle.

Marilyn Miller reports her Russian wolfhound, Ninotchka, in a marriage with Stavrogin, has given birth to nine living Borzois and the action took place in Sausalito between 6:45 p.m., Feb. 6, and 1 p.m., the 7th. All are well.

Bill Guerin, Scout Troop 1, Mill Valley, in a safety study for his Eagle Scout award, checked the pedestrian crosswalk on Throckmorton in front of Bank of America over a three hour period and clocked pedestrians ignoring the right-of-way 20 times, 27 persons riding bikes on the sidewalk, 15 double parkers, 18 U-turns, one hitchhiker, 175 jaywalking citizens plus two police jaywalkers and 57 persons going through the stop sign.

WALTER PHILLIPS tells that Mr. Doc, the patriarch of a raccoon family who feeds at his house, now walks in the door after dinner and watches television. "He likes the horses and dogs," says Phillips.

What Use Is A Diplomat Without Any Intrigues To Worry About?

WASHINGTON — I just received a very heartbreaking letter from a friend of mine who happens to be the American ambassador to an African country which, to protect him, I will call Zemululu.

He writes that he is in serious trouble with the State Department and doesn't know what to do about it.

HIS PROBLEMS first began when a year went by without any anti-American demonstrations in the country. Washington became suspicious and thought he was keeping something from them. He received a cable which said, "CAN'T UNDERSTAND LACK OF ANTI-AMERICAN DEMONSTRATIONS YOUR AREA. PLEASE CLARIFY WHY NATIVES ARE FRIENDLY."

My friend wired back he had no explanation for it unless the country's climate did not lend itself to demonstrating. He thought he would hear no more from Washington, but a week later he received a follow-up cable: "HOW COME YOU HAVE SENT IN NO REPORTS ON COUPS OR ATTEMPTED COUPS IN YOUR COUNTRY? YOU ONLY AMBASSADOR IN AFRICA NOT EXPECTING A REVOLUTION. WHAT HAVE YOU BEEN DOING?"

He replied, "ZEMULULU NOT COUP-CONSCIOUS. MILITARY GETTING ALONG FINE WITH PREMIER."

By now the matter was being given serious study by the African hands in the State Department. A cable was dispatched: "YOU HAVE FAILED TO KEEP US INFORMED ON RACIAL TENSION. HOW MUCH IS THERE AND WHEN IS IT LIKELY TO EXPLODE?"

His reply was a weak, "NO RACIAL TENSION IN SIGHT AND OUR PEOPLE ARE NOT EXPECTING ANY. PLEASE ADVISE WHAT I'M DOING WRONG."

The ambassador replied, "PLEASE TELL A.I.D. NOT TO ACT TOO HASTILY. WHILE AMERICAN MONEY BEING KEPT FROM PROFITEERS AT MOMENT, SITUATION COULD CHANGE OVERNIGHT."

A month went by and suddenly the code machines started clicking again. "CONGRESSIONAL JUNKET JUST RETURNED FROM ZEMULULU REPORTS THEY PLEASED WITH STABILITY AND PROGRESS MADE THERE AND VERY IMPRESSED WITH LACK OF SUBVERSION. DO YOU REALIZE THIS COULD OVERHAUL BUDGET FOR UPCOMING YEAR? ALSO UNDERSTAND TIME AND NEWSWEEK CORRESPONDENTS HAVE MADE OFFICIAL COMPLAINTS TO THEIR EDITORS THAT ZEMULULU IS DEAD AS RUNNING STORY. EVERYONE HERE VERY DEPRESSED.

TO SAVE his job the ambassador wired back, "TWO CHINESE CULTURAL ATTACHES HAVE JUST ARRIVED FROM PEKING, AND HAVE OPENED CHINESE RESTAURANT."

An immediate reply from Washington said, "CONGRATULATIONS — ALL HERE DELIGHTED WITH NEWS. HOW MANY C.I.A. MEN CAN WE SEND YOU?"

"Let every man be occupied, and occupied in the highest employment of which his nature is capable, and die with the consciousness that he has done his best." Sidney Smith —Memoir by Lady Holland

COUNTY COMMENT

By WILLIAM D. (BILL) FUSSELMAN

Letter Writer Handed Answers On Planning, 'Squalor' On 101

FUSSELMAN

It is good to know that this column is being read by "responsible citizenry". (That is how Mr. Naphtali H. Knox classifies himself.) He further identifies himself as "Chairman, Marin Council for Civic Affairs". He lives in Mill Valley.

Though the organization has disagreed with me in the past — and I might add quite vigorously — there exists a very cordial relationship between many of the members and myself. We respect each other.

Mr. Knox, in a letter to the editor, incorrectly read something into my column on the fifth of this month. I had commented on the new planning director. Contrary to his statements, I did not devote "much space" about the difference between a "master" plan and a "general" plan. I agree with him.

THERE IS and will be very little difference, if the attempt is made to give the "general" plan all the legal force and weight of ordinances. If that is not done, there will be considerable difference. We must wait and see.

"Mr. Fusselman questioned that it would take two years to prepare a general plan." His statement, just quoted, was completely wrong. He overlooked my opening statement.

I think it will take the new planning director considerable time to be really competent to function here with knowledge and authority, much more than two years.

Those of you who read this letter will recall that Mr. Knox said: "The past decades of planning here were marked by fiddling with the area plans while Marin burned." My first awareness of the gentleman was during the latter part of 1961. If this is approximately right, he really has no first hand knowledge in this regard.

I have always been interested in why people select our county for their home. It surely, in most cases, must be because they like what they find here. A lot of dedicated folks, over the "past decades" have given unstintingly of time and effort to nurture and make it attractive and desirable. We love it, too. And we loved it first.

HE ALSO WANTED us to give the man a chance to pull us from the spreading squalor of 101. It would be interesting to hear Mr. Knox indicate what he means by that. Let's take a mental ride up the highway, say from the foot of Waldo Grade.

Marin City is certainly being removed from that category as fast as it is humanly possible to make the transition. Next we come to the Baptist Seminar Campus and enclave, on the right, and an extensive marina development on the left, designed by one of the leading architects in the country. As we move along 101 we come to the elaborate new Strawberry shopping center and a recently completed, attractive financial building . . . all of this backed up by the Strawberry community of homes.

Over the Alto hill we find Corte Madera, with homes, business, manufacturing and shopping areas. This leads us to the Greenbrae development . . . one of the finest . . . of homes, apartments and shopping center. Again over the hill and through San Rafael: light industry, agencies and business area to the Puerto Suello hill and the Civic Center with Terra Linda and the Northgate complex of highly regarded firms followed by Marinwood and the Ignacio area of fine homes, restaurants and Hamilton Air Force Base. Finally comes the rapidly growing city of Novato.

Yes, it would be very interesting to see what he will designate as the squalor the new man from the East will be pulling us out of.

CERTAINLY NONE of us could miss the five column head in the I-J on Wednesday: "Douglas Hiring Lambasted, Grand Jury Asks New Look" with the two stories under it . . . One relating the anguished cry of the chairman of the board of supervisors, who apparently thinks that the strongest defense is an attack. After reading the other column with the resume of the report, in which it related the "Grand Jury blistered the administrator and the board of supervisors, particularly the chairman," it looks like a most futile attempt on the part of the chairman.

I think we owe it to ourselves to . . . read the report.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

South Opens Mouth Too Often And Loses As Bidding Goes High

There's nothing wrong with joining a conversation when you have something to say, but when you're at the bridge table it's poor form to add your morsel just to hear the sound of your voice.

1 ♣	1 ♡	1 ♠	2 ♡
4 ♠	All Pass

Opening lead — ♡ J

Since South had nothing worth mentioning at his first turn he should have stayed out of the conversation instead of bidding one spade.

North would have played the hand at three notrump, a very reasonable contract.

SOUTH NEEDS BREAK

South ruffed and saw that he needed a 3-3 break in trumps. He also needed four trump tricks to add to the five diamonds and the ace of clubs to win a total of ten tricks.

The only chance was to ruff twice in the South hand and draw trumps with the king and ace before running the diamonds.

But first South had to make the key play of leading a low trump and playing low also from the dummy.

SHIFTS TO CLUBS

East won with the nine of spades and shifted to the king of clubs.

Declarer won in dummy with the ace of clubs and ruffed dummy's last heart.

South cashed the king of spades, which was now his last trump, and got to dummy with a diamond to lead out the ace of spades.

This drew the last two trumps and allowed South to discard a club.

South then ran the rest of the diamonds and gave up his last club at the end after he had taken ten tricks.

DAILY QUESTION

You have opened with one club, the next player bids one heart, partner passes, and the other opponent bids two hearts. You hold:

♠ A 3 2
♡ K 4 2
◇ A K 10
♣ A J 8 7

What do you say?

ANSWER: Double or bid 2 NT. This shows a very strong hand (and some courage).

If your partner has a balanced bust, you may get killed; but you may well lose a game or a good part score if you retire from the auction.

Novatan Wins Medal For Viet Nam Service

Army Capt. Clinton H. Black of Novato has been awarded the Bronze Star for outstanding service in Viet Nam while on duty there as a deputy transportation officer from July, 1964, to June, 1965.

The decoration was presented to Captain Black by Brig. Gen. Charles R. Meyer, Sixth Army chief of staff in a ceremony at the Presidio of San Francisco.

Black joined the Army in 1957 and has served as a company commander at Fort Knox, Ky., and with the 24th Infantry Division in Germany. His other decorations include the Army Commendation Medal and the Armed Forces Expeditionary Medal.

He and his wife, Eunice, have three sons, Clinton Jr., Peter and James. The Blacks live at 24 Stasia Drive.

Urges Office

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Gov. Edmund G. Brown in a letter to Williard Wirtz, secretary of labor, has today urged retention of the Los Angeles office of veterans re-employment rights. The governor said impact of the Viet Nam situation has increased case-loads at the office scheduled to be closed Feb. 28.

Regents Studying New Bay Campus

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The University of California's Board of Regents was to consider a recommendation today that a new campus be constructed in San Francisco or the northern Bay Area by 1972.

The recommendation came yesterday from the regents' educational policy committee.

Committeemen reiterated a plan made public in September that the next university campus be in San Francisco, but added that support was needed from official and unofficial organizations in the city and that plans should be more specific for an alternate site to the north.

After the Northern California campus is constructed, the next should be in Southern California the committee continued, either in Los Angeles or the northern part of that city's area.

Judith Tardy, fourth grade teacher at Novato's Olive School, has returned to her classroom after attending a three-day institute on "New Directions in Elementary English" held in Santa Barbara this week.

Incumbents Keep Positions On Marin Labor Council

Three unopposed incumbent officers were re-elected to the top posts of the Marin County Labor Council this week.

They are: James Smith of the Butchers' Union, president; Charles B. Weers of the Sheetmetal Workers, vice president, and Hugh Cassidy of the State Employees, secretary-treasurer.

In the only contest of the council election, which 36 members attended Wednesday, George R. Scott of the Painters' Union failed to win a place on the council's executive board.

The seven winners were: Michael Pachina of the Bartenders and Culinary Workers, Lloyd C. Brooks of the Laborers, Phillip Ruby of the Teachers, Thomas Bevan of the Machinists, Eric Hallquist of the Carpenters, Thomas McCarthy of the Building Service Employees, and William Flynn of the Retail Clerks.

Elected trustees were: Paul Crumley of the Carpenters, Ray Markt of the Bartenders and Culinary Workers, and Jack L. Macaulay of the Marin Federation of Teachers.

Daring Burglars Make Gem Hauls

NEW YORK (UPI) —Thieves stole more than $150,000 worth of jewels in two daring daylight burglaries on Manhattan's East Side, police reported yesterday.

They said the thieves stole $90,000 worth of jewelry from the town house of heiress Gloria Vanderbilt Cooper, and $61,000 worth from the Regency Hotel suite of a British jewelry salesman, Michael Bell.

In both cases, there were persons in rooms adjacent to the rooms where the jewelry was kept but they heard nothing, police said.

James M. Petersen, 18, of 9 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Ross, has enlisted in the Navy through the San Rafael recruiting office, and has reported to San Diego for eight weeks recruit training.

Passenger Stops Jet 'Bomb' Threat

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Carrying a yellow piece of wood with metal strips dangling from each end, a passenger told an airline stewardess yesterday: "I've got a bomb in my hand."

As the United Air Lines plane flew at 33,000 feet over Oregon, the man demanded to see the captain.

Miss Mary Lou Luedtke, 27, the stewardess, tried unsuccessfully to get the man to sit down. A male passenger, noticing the commotion, grabbed the man by the lapels, forced him into a seat and talked quietly with him until the landing at San Francisco International Airport.

The male passenger who calmed the stick carrier was not identified.

FBI agents who arrested the other man identified him as Eugene R. Robertson, 37, of Spokane, Wash. They booked him at San Mateo County Jail in Redwood City for a false bomb report investigation.

Robertson told the FBI he was a salesman, married and the father of five children.

SAY, NEIGHBOR, SPARE THAT TREE: IT'S CITY'S

Alarmed by reports of do-it-yourself tree trimmers, the city of San Rafael today asked residents not to cut or trim trees on city property.

City Engineer Ely Caillouette Jr. said many people forget the parking strip between the sidewalk and curb is city right-of-way, thus trees on it are owned by the city. These trees are trimmed regularly by a trimming crew headed by William M. Vaning.

Citizens, said Caillouette, should report any damaged tree or dangerous condition to the city. In any case, they should forget about using their owns saws and hatches, he added.

Financier Expects 'Roaring Boom' For Home Builders

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — There will be a "roaring demand" for homes in California in the next two years, according to the head of Lytton Financial Corp.

Financier Bart Lytton told a meeting of the American Society of Appraisers last night that "the present moderate or oversupply of residential housing units will be swept into undersupply by roaring demand."

He said population growth studies have indicated a "projected sharp rise in family formation and births" in the late 1960s.

Lytton said the war in Viet Nam, birth control and other factors are holding back the rush. But they have only postponed it, he said.

"When the rush comes, as it will very shortly, the demands ...will be enormous," he predicted.

White Lack Of Courage Hit By Negro

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—"The so - called decent, nice white American who would never think of saying 'nigger' but who never does an act of courage or conviction is the Negro's main stumbling block."

That opinion was expressed last night by Whitney Young, Urban League executive director, regarding obstacles to Negro equality.

Young told newsmen: "What we have is the white person who is only interested in stopping the demonstrations or in not hearing any more about riots."

What that man does not understand, Young continued, is that the Negro is interested in jobs, housing and the eliminations of inequality.

"I want peace and order, too, but I don't want it at the price of inequality," Young said.

Huge Mosquito Just A Hometown Joke

SUBLETTE, Kan. (UPI) — The Haskell County "mosquito" measures about six inches from stem to stern and is fashioned from two "devil's claws."

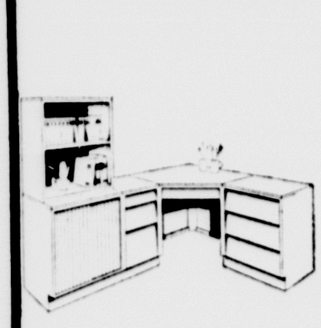

The claws are giant sandburs growing wild in some western Kansas fields. They are a menace to cattle but make ferociously delightful fun for humans when stuck together and clothed properly. The vicious-looking beasties resemble a giant mosquito.

MODERN MATH 10

Let's Take A Brief Test

By Prof. W. F. Lloyd
University of Tampa

We have been trying to acquaint parents and others interested with a few of the facts about Modern Mathematics. This brief outline will not make the reader an expert, but it should answer a few questions and clear up some misunderstandings.

Now let's take a brief test. A perfect score will not gain you any college credit, but it may give you confidence to speak up on the subject in future conversations.

If you get 14 or 15 of the answers right, you can give yourself an E for excellence. Twelve to 13 correct answers is good, 8 to 11 is average, 6 or 7 is poor, and if you get fewer than that right, better read the series again.

The Test

Answer the following questions "True" or "False":

1. Modern Math was created after the Russians launched Sputnik I.
2. The set of positive integers is closed under addition.
3. The Commutative Law is used in adding $31 + 4 = 35$.
4. The Distributive Law is used in multiplying 4×62.
5. In base 5 numerals $4 + 2 = 11$.
6. In base 5 numerals $4 \times 2 = 13$.
7. In modulo 5 numerals $4 + 2 = 1$.
8. In modulo 5 numerals $4 \times 3 = 2$.

If the Universal set is the set (1, 2, 3, 4, 5) and A is the set (1, 3, 5), B is the set (3, 4, 5) and C is the set (1, 5)

9. C is a subset of A
10. The UNION of A and B is the set (1, 3, 4, 5).
11. The INTERSECTION of A and B is the set (3, 5)
12. The COMPLEMENT of set A is the set (2, 4, 6).
13. The set of REAL NUMBERS includes the set of integers, the set of fractions, and some of the decimal fractions.
14. If we were sufficiently familiar with them, Roman numerals would be very satisfactory for use in modern day problems.
15. Teachers expect parents to know Modern Math and to help children with their homework.

The Answers

If you will solemnly promise not to peek until after you have taken the test I will give you the answers.

1. FALSE. It started a few years prior to Sputnik I with the CEEB Commission.
2. TRUE
3. FALSE. The Associative Law would be used here. The Commutative Law permits the reversal of the numbers.
4. TRUE
5. TRUE
6. TRUE
7. TRUE
8. TRUE
9. TRUE
10. TRUE
11. TRUE
12. FALSE. 6 is not an element of the Universal set.
13. TRUE
14. FALSE. They are too clumsy.
15. FALSE. Modern Math had not been invented when most parents went to school. The homework is assigned to the children not the parents. Well meaning parents sometimes introduce methods that conflict with the teacher's method and confuse the child.

Parents with children taking the test should smack the kids good if they brag about getting a better score. After all, the kids have had full-time instruction in the subject. On the other hand, smack them good if they do not get a better score, because that means they are not learning their schoolwork.

This series is far from being a complete coverage of the new Modern Math. All it has done is to hit some of the highlights.

It is difficult to make positive statements about the present status of Modern Math because of the wide range of conditions existing across this great country. Some school systems have been using the program, wholeheartedly for several years. Others are just now entering into it, some with considerable reluctance.

Modern Math is not confined to the public schools. Its influence reaches through the colleges. At one time the colleges offered Algebra, Trigonometry, Analytic Geometry, and Calculus in separate courses all neatly boxed and with very little overlap. The trend now is to combine Algebra and Trigonometry into one unified course. (Many colleges omit this course entirely, placing the responsibility on the high school.) Analytic Geometry is now commonly integrated into Calculus and the combined course has been broadened to cover 15 college hours instead of nine hours for the two courses.

Modern Math started as a sincere effort on the part of our best educators to improve the quality of mathematics teaching and has grown into a force that is spreading over the entire country.

There are of course, some phases of Modern Math with which you may not agree. But please accept the fact that many of the best teachers and mathematicians worked long and hard to develop the program. It may not be perfect, but it is the best we have at the present.

Winter Yachting Club Plans Busy Pre-Spring Schedules

By MOLLY MARIN

A new custom is being inaugurated by the Women's Auxiliary of the Corinthian Yacht Club. The girls will take turns as "Officers of the Day" on weekends, so that someone on the distaff side will always be on deck with a friendly greeting for wives of members.

ON TUESDAY Carl Conradi, commodore of the Loch Lomond Yacht Club, will lead 20 power cruisers to the Galleon Restaurant in Alameda, where club members and guests will meet at the Loch Lomond Clubhouse for fizzes and then the boats will rendezvous for the New Commodore's Cruise at the Bird Cage.

RECENTLY RETURNED from a five weeks' trip to Manila, Hong Kong, Honolulu and Tokyo are Mrs. Lloyd A. Clarke and her daughter Melissa Ann and her sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard G. Dahm, all of Mill Valley. This was the first visit the sisters had made in 18 year to Manila, where they were born. While they were there they attended the celebration in connection with the inauguration of Philippine Islands President Ferdinand Marcos. In Manila they stayed with their brother-in-law, P. J. Dayrit, honorary counsel of Honduras, and his family. They also visited longtime family friends, Fernando Lopez, vice president of the Philippines, and his family. The Lopezes are expected in August to open their home in San Francisco's Seacliff district, one of several homes they have in various parts of the world.

YOUNG CHRISTOPHER William Kaffer will celebrate his first birthday April 19 in Hong Kong. The adopted son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Kaffer of Tiburon is already a much-traveled young man, having received a certificate for crossing the international dateline on a recent trip to Hawai, Tokyo and Hong Kong. While it is relatively common for adopted children to come into this country, the problem of taking a child out of the country before the legalities of adoption have been completed, was a unique one, according to Mrs. Kaffer, and the family had to have special State Department permission to take "Kit" on the two week trip to the Orient. They returned on Sunday. Bill Kaffer had conferences in Tokyo with his firm, International Business Machines, and has been appointed general manager of IBM in Hong Kong. The family will take up residence in Hong Kong by April 1. They will live in the suburb of Victoria with a staff including a cook, chauffeur and two amahs to care for the baby.

The Kaffers have lived in Tiburon for three years. Mrs. Kaffer has been active with the Tom Thumb Chapter of the Children's Home Society and the Reed Guild of Sunny Hills.

MARIN FRIENDS of Conrad Ludlow had an opportunity Sunday to see how his dancing has matured when he appeared with ballerina Maria Tallchief on the Bell Telephone Hour on television. The son of Mr. and Mrs. John Ludlow of Mill Valley and a graduate of Tamalpais High School, Conrad is a solo dancer with the New York City Ballet. Before going to New York he was principal male soloist with the San Francisco Ballet. His father reported some of his future plans and recent activities. This month he will be dancing in the Boston Civic Ballet with ballerina Melissa Hayden, and next month he will again appear with Maria Tallchief at the University of Wisconsin. He spent most of last summer and part of the fall with the New York Ballet in London, where they had sell-out audiences. Conrad lives in New York City with his wife, the former Joy Feldman, also a member of the New York City Ballet, and their three-year-old son Rhys.

Peace Corps Couple Wed On Peninsula

Sandra J. McCarty of San Rafael became the bride of Wilbur H. Newman of Martinez Saturday afternoon at St. Paul's Episcopal Church in Burlingame. The bride, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Donald McCarty of Seattle, was given in marriage by her father.

Uri Herscher of San Jose served as best man, and ushers were Donald S. McCarty of Seattle, the bride's brother, and Christopher Newman of Albany.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Justice and Mrs. Murray Draper of Hillsborough. The couple will live in San Rafael.

The bride was graduated from Roosevelt High School in Seattle and Stanford University and is employed at Loma Verde School in Novato.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Newman of Martinez. He was graduated from Alhambra High School in Martinez and is a student at the University of California. Penny Newman of Martinez and Chris Newman of Albany are his sister and brother.

Tryout Dates Of Aquacade Announced

Swimming tryouts for the 21st Marin Ballet Aquacade will be held Feb. 26 and March 5 at the Sir Francis Drake High School, both days from the hours of 2 to 4 p.m.

Swimmers from the eighth grade through high school are eligible for the tryouts, with ability judged on basic aquacade performances of floating, sculling, coordination and endurance. Previous swimmers must try out again for this year's show.

Judges will be Mesdames Terres Ronneberg, Richard Read, Peter Limm, Leland Coggleston, Peter Brajkovich, Stephen Pieser and Jane Pike.

The swimming-dancing extravaganza will be held at the Peacock Gap Tennis and Swim Club in June, and for the third year will benefit Marindale School for physically handicapped children.

Mrs. William Corrigan and Mrs. David Bordner, both of San Anselmo, will head the swimming part of the show, and for the 21st year Mrs. Ralston Hodgson of Ross will direct the dance sequences.

Blossoming Philanthropist Busy Stamping Out Ugliness

By BONNIE ANGELO
Advance News Service

WASHINGTON — This spring the nation's capital will blossom as never before in one dazzling bouquet, thanks largely to philanthropist Mary W. Lasker, a fragile dynamo bent on stamping out ugliness.

Over the past 20 years Mrs. Lasker's twin concerns have been boosting medical research and beautifying the dreary byways of the cities. She is channeling her efforts in the latter field through Mrs. Lyndon Johnson's national beautification program.

The First Lady looks to Mary Lasker to get the beautification program out of the committee room and onto the city streets. Mrs. Lasker has responded with unlimited zeal and funds to match. In the past year she has given more than $100,000, much of it anonymously, to carry out her theory of beautification: "Masses of flowers where masses pass."

Together the two explore the city, deciding where next to wave their magic wand. Both point to an unexpected benefit from their beautifying: not one of the schools they have landscaped has been attacked by vandals.

The First Lady has described the imaginative philanthropist as "one of those daring people —in the gentlest sort of way."

HER TOUCH EXTENDS to every corner of her life. Her Beekman Place house in Manhattan is a veritable gallery of French paintings. Her clothes are elegantly simple, always in blue to set off her blue eyes, and dramatized by magnificent jewelry. Her parties are stimulating, mixing lively people from her many areas of interest.

She pushes her projects so graciously, but stoutly, that tough government officials succumb. She and her late husband, advertising tycoon Albert Lasker, have given millions of dollars for medical research. She calls it "seed money," and it has borne much fruit.

Mrs. Lasker, more than any other private citizen, is credited for the growth of the national institutes of health, from their meager beginning in 1946 to a Goliath now drawing from the federal budget more than $1 billion a year. There is no way to measure the achievement resulting from her efforts in stimulating private research in heart disease, cancer and mental illness.

Mrs. Lasker notes that she has never had an individual thank her for cancer research, but that countless New Yorkers—including Nelson Rockefeller—sent thanks when she planted daffodils and tulips for 20 blocks along Park Avenue.

HER INTEREST in medical research and beautification are both rooted in her childhood. As a child she had agonizing earaches, and wondered why people should suffer. And she remembers how her mother, Irish-born wife of a banker in Watertown, Wis., led the way in getting two parks for their town. Mrs. Lasker's first beautification project was in memory of her mother—quantities of chrysanthemums for New York City. After the death of her husband —from cancer, which he had done so much to fight— she gave hundreds of cherry trees and daffodils to the United Nations gardens as a memorial.

Turning her interest to beautifying Washington, Mrs. Lasker has become a regular commuter between her New York home and the White House. In Washington beauty is found in historic shrines, but not in ordinary, workaday neighborhoods. The plan pushed by Mrs. Lasker is lifting the face of the whole city, not just the heroic enclaves. Cherry trees are being added in profusion. The buds are ripening now, and by the time the tourists and cherry blossoms arrive, Washington will be decked in blooms as never before.

FEATURED THIS SATURDAY

The subject of tomorrow's "Profile of a Marinite" story in the Independent-Journal Marin Magazine is prominent in business, government and civic affairs of the county. He's Byron W. Leydecker, county supervisor and bank president. I-J reporter Richard Lyttle has written the story of a man who has achieved a reputation as an outspoken individual who will not run from a fight—either in government or in business.

One of the major holidays of the year will be coming up next week. To mark the approach of George Washington's Birthday, the I-J's weekend supplement tomorrow will include an article on American history as it is taught in the high schools of today—and as it is likely to be taught in the high schools of the future. You'll find that many changes have occurred—and that even greater changes are on the horizon.

NEW MATURITY?

Teen-Age Rebellion Proves Threat To Parents' Balance

The major struggle of the teen-ager to establish an identity in becoming an adult is not the struggle of the adolescent alone. It requires considerable adaptation by the parent, who may feel threatened by having his beliefs challenged in the process.

So contends family casework services director, Mrs. Ruth Janowicz, who believes that if parents can separate themselves from their role they may emerge from the challenge of re-examining old beliefs to a new maturity.

Working with the New Haven, Conn. Family Service Agency, Mrs. Janowicz, in a paper delivered to the Family Service Assn. biennial conference, said that the problem of the struggling teen-ager is compounded by the difficulty that wise parents have in remaining so.

"THE MAJOR TASK of the adolescent is to establish an identity in the broad sense of becoming a man or a woman. This is a highly complex inner power struggle, and . . . the most important aspect of this self-discovery is development of confidence in his controls, in his ability to think and make his own decisions.

"Growth, physiological changes and pressure of society's expectations combine to undermine the confidence that has been achieved with even the most wisely reared teen-agers," she said.

"It is not hard to allow Johnny to be daring in climbing the tree in the backyard, but to turn Johnny who towers a foot above you and doesn't seem to know what to do with his hands and feet, loose with the car is another matter.

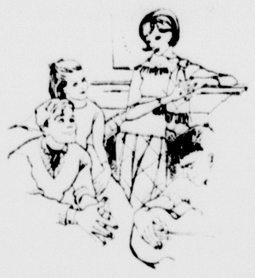

It's a pleasure to discuss some theoretical concept with a youngster and observe his imaginative use of it when one is still regarded as something of an authority. It is quite another when ones' statement is challenged at the outset. It is enough to prompt, at the very least a quick glance in the mirror when a daughter, who has always seemed proud of her mother's appearance, speaks candidly of a few flaws."

The struggle of the teen-ager for independence requires adaptation by the parents and may require that cherished concepts be re-evaluated, Mrs. Janowicz stated.

"And having beliefs challenged may be threatening. Teen-age may recall for parents the agonizing moments of their own adolescence when they seemed unattractive to the opposite sex, failed in some endeavor or could not handle their own impulses . . . Then too for the adult whose own life is meagerly provided with gratifications, there is the temptation to derive vicarious gratification from the exploits of their teen-agers."

HOWEVER, SHE SAID, if one thinks of the process of maturation as a lifetime one, this period, though painful, may be valuable to parents, but it is probable that they will react with some anger.

"Challenge and provocation may have to come to the point of sharp differences in order to provide the necessary testing. Parents may react in many ways ranging from clamping down tighter on controls or by abdicating through either accepting the right of the teen-ager to lead his own life completely; through an effort to be a buddy or through pushing the panic button, which makes them ineffectual.

"Whatever measure resorted to out of inability to handle the anger is bewildering to a teen-ager," she said. "Nature decrees that he must strive to differentiate himself and become a man, but when in asserting himself he incurs such wrath with its threat of loss of love from those he needs so much that he is convinced that, as one boy put it, ' . . . I do a lot of things that are wrong — they don't always seem wrong to me — but they must be.' Is it thoughts, impulses or actions? Since he doesn't know what is wrong he thinks it must be all three."

THE CASEWORK DIRECTOR offered a few pointers to parents to help them cope with the feelings that feed their anger during the teen-age rebellion.

First, she said, realize that no matter how hard they seem to try to erase it the imprint of the teen-agers' identification with their parents is there.

"If parents can bear in mind that certain values and patterns of behavior have been so firmly incorporated and that challenges, resistances and the need to try to do things in another way are precisely because the parent is so important that a separate identity cannot be achieved without these struggles, they may be able to respond in ways which will not add to the adolescent the burden of believing he is bad.

"Parents may even be able to lessen their grip on some the cherished beliefs that they have not subjected to a thoughtful scruitiny for years, since they were teen-agers, maybe . . .

"We are too prone to criticize what we do not understand," Mrs. Janowicz said. "We cannot handle teen-agers with iron-clad discipline. We must be willing to recognize that old patterns of behavior may not meet present needs. But we are needed, even wanted, as parents," she emphasized.

CITING INCIDENTS of teen-age violence as well as their dedicated efforts toward volunteer service, civil rights and world peace, the director pinpointed the swing back and forth of the teen-ager from violence to altruism, from puritanical morality to distressing acting out of impulses, from dependency to insistence upon total independence.

"Values are fluid, based on the need to identify and to differentiate one's self from others, and an image of self which is strongly influenced by what is reflected back from others."

She said that teen-agers must experience and recognize deep feelings and learn that they can master them, which calls for fluidity of values during this period. But to ask that values be static would result in "rearing men and women with little capacity to think and feel" and experiment in finding their own values.

"The teen years are short and when the turbulence subsides in adulthood let us hope that society's demand for conformity will not have robbed them of the willingness to think, to speak out, to deal with realities," she concluded.

Mary Elizabeth Jones To Wed

Announcement has been made of the engagement of Mary Elizabeth Jones of Walnut Grove and Moreland Stevens, son of Mrs. Charles Elliot Stevens of San Rafael and the late Mr. Stevens.

The bride-elect is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Carl W. Jones of Walnut Grove and the sister of William Jones of Sacramento. Both Mary and Moreland are teaching in Rockville, Md., a suburb of Washington where the future bridegroom is completing work on a master's degree in art history at the University of Maryland.

Mary was graduated from Dominican Convent and attended University of California at Davis. She was graduated from San Jose State College where she was a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority. She also spent a year teaching at the American School in Germany.

Moreland, the great-grandson of pioneer San Rafael resident, Charles Stevens, attended Sir Francis Drake High School and was graduated from San Jose State College where he was president of Theta Chi fraternity. His brothers are John Stevens of San Rafael, Charles Stevens of Marysville and William Stevens of Concord.

The couple plan a summer wedding in San Rafael.

Legend Club Plans Dinner

The Legend Club of Sleepy Hollow will hold its annual members only dinner party at the Sleepy Hollow Club House on March 5. It will begin with cocktails at 6:30 p.m., and dinner will be served at 8:30.

Problems Of Older Persons Marin Forum Program Topic

The problems of older persons in Marin will be the topic of Richard Phenix when he speaks at the Marin Forum program on Feb. 25 at Sabella's of Marin in Mill Valley. Phenix will describe the master plan for older persons in the county which resulted from the recently completed report for the development of services and facilities for older persons here, of which he serves as coordinator under contract between the Marin County Board of Supervisors and the Marin Council of Community Services.

Previously he has served as a specialist in social planning and urban renewal and physical planning for the City and County of San Francisco and for the special planning department for the United Community Fund of San Francisco. Phenix also has worked on social planning and urban renewal projects in the Philadelphia area and was an official with the United Chest and Council of Community Services in Saginaw, Mich.

Phenix holds a B.A. degree from the University of New Hampshire and a M.A. degree in social administration from Ohio State University.

Mrs. Louis G. Harding is program chairman for the luncheon meeting, which will begin at noon. Mrs. Arthur L. Sell of San Anselmo is reservations chairman.

MARIN FILM FARE

New Orleans Drama Is Electrifying

By LES DARD

TIBURON PLAYHOUSE

At times similar to "The Hustler," the film depicts the attempt of an ambitious professional gambler to defeat the reigning king.

Steve McQueen is the poker player of the title. He comes to New Orleans to face the legendary undefeated champion, Edward G. Robinson. Their marathon contest is the show's gripping climax.

Meanwhile though, McQueen has other problems. For instance: He is living with a sweet girl, (Tuesday Weld), but is desired by another (Ann-Margret) who just happens to be the wife of his friend and backer, Karl Malden.

The performances here are simply terrific — keeping pace admirably with the tight story line. The smoky mysterious atmosphere that is New Orleans is recreated with all the color and tone of life.

RAFAEL THEATER

Admittedly, the human part of the cast, Dean Jones and Susanne Pleshette put up fine performances as a young married couple whose family consists of a number of dachshunds. But, really, they are put in the sidelight by a Great Dane who thinks he is a dachshund like the other puppies.

As you can easily see, this unlikely situation leads to all manner of crazy mixups and upsets.

101 DRIVE-IN

Lucky for the viewer: Now playing is the wartime adventure-drama, "The Train," starring Burt Lancaster, and British star Paul Scofield in his first American role.

The film is set in Paris as the Nazis pull out before the liberation. Scofield, a Nazi colonel, is determined to take the French national art treasures with him.

He crates the masterpieces and has them loaded on a special train.

NOVATO THEATER

It is a lively, professional, and completely enjoyable production.

The story takes place in London. Rod Taylor, Miss Day's husband, is a newly appointed director of a British woolens firm whose mission it is to improve their poor sales.

When Miss Day becomes convinced that Taylor is giving another kind of sales pitch to his beautiful secretary, Maura McGiveney, drastic measures are in order.

LARK THEATER

Science fiction a la Marcello Mastroianni and Ursula Andress is held over in "The Tenth Victim," a topflight adult spoof.

In the future, our enlightened descendants have managed to eliminate the blood lust. They replaced it with a ritual aptly titled The Great Hunt—in which a number of the populace, The Hunters, try to kill off another group, The Victims, and vice versa.

As the film opens, beautiful Ursula Andress dispatches her ninth citizen with her "bra that kills." Then she is after the prize—"the tenth victim" of the title.

TAMALPAIS THEATER

The world is challenged by Galaxy, power-hungry syndicate that wants to rule the world by controlling the weather. Governments and scientists are stymied. The computers call for only one solution: Send for Flint!

Our man Flint is a remarkably infallible international playboy - genius who comes well equipped with a following of lovely girls.

SEQUOIA THEATER

Held over is "Never Too Late," an admirably handled domestic comedy taken from Sumner Long's stage success.

FAIRFAX THEATER

Rex Harrison, Audrey Hepburn and Stanley Holloway star in "My Fair Lady," held over again to everyone's delight.

Marin Scholars Get Honors At College

Three Marin students have been named to the dean's list at Harvey Mudd College, Claremont, Los Angeles County, for attaining a B average or better during the past semester.

Included on the list were Donald Bly, a sophomore, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond L. Bly, 124 Bretano Way, Greenbrae; Howard Cohen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester S. Cohen, 374 Margarita Drive, and William Musser, son of Mrs. Martin Roark, 11 Lynn Court, both of San Rafael.

Loma Verde Cubs Set Annual Fete

Cub Scout Pack 82 of Loma Verde will have its annual blue and gold dinner at 6:30 p.m. Monday in the multi-purpose room of Loma Verde School.

The dinner will simultaneously observe George Washington's birthday and the 56th aniversary of the Boy Scouts of America, which incorporated Feb. 8, 1910.

The boys will receive scouting awards and hold a "pinewood derby" race with miniature racing cars.

'Heritage Of Israel' Sermon Series Slated

A series of Friday evening Sabbath sermons on the "Heritage of Israel" will begin at 8:15 p.m. tomorrow at Congregation Kol Shofar, which meets in the Marin Jewish Community Center, San Rafael.

Guest speaker at the service tomorrow will be N. Harris Ades, a vice president of the Bank of America, who will speak on "What Jews Have Done to Make San Francisco a Great City."

U.S. War Casualties Rise By 103 In Week

WASHINGTON (UPI) —A total of 103 U.S. servicemen were killed in action in Viet Nam in the week that ended last Monday, according to the Defense Department.

The figure brings to 2,108 the total of American combat deaths in the war. The tabulation listed 160 men as missing in action, compared with 161 men the previous week. Fatalities not attributed to hostile action rose from 551 to 567.

CONCERT REVIEW

American Composers Ignored, Expert Says

By MAYBELLE SPECKMANN

An erudite lecture on "Music in America: A Re-appraisal," by Dr. W. Thomas Marrocco, and delightful piano solos by Sister Mary Dominic, O.P., comprised the program last night in Marin's first American Music Festival.

The second event in the three-concert series sponsored by the Dominican College music department again drew a rather small audience to Angelico Hall —possibly further proof of the speaker's assertion that Americans have very little knowledge of or interest in their rich musical heritage.

The distinguished musicologist and authority on American music, who is a professor at University of California at Los Angeles, said, "The United States is the only nation today that does not know or use its own music."

In the 18th and 19th centuries, he said sophisticated audiences, performers and critics in such centers as Boston, New York, Philadelphia, New Orleans and Charleston were familiar with the best of European music.

During the same period, native American idioms were being developed in rural areas where traveling singing teachers taught great numbers of people unique music with special books and methods. These are preserved mostly in the South and West, he said.

He said there is a vast treasury of American Moravian music still largely unknown.

Sister Mary Dominic, director of the festival, illustrated the quality of one piece of this music in the unpublished sonata Opus 3, No. 3 of Christian I. Latrobe. In grace and clarity of structure it was reminiscent of Mozart.

Of a indigeous American character were two pieces by Louis Moreau Gottschalk, who, rather than Edward MacDowell as commonly thought, was the first American composer and pianist recognized abroad. These pieces were "Ojos Criollos" illustrating the composer's interest in Creole melodies and rhythms, and "Banjo," an example of his use of Negro folk music.

Sister Mary Dominic performed these with her usual skill and sensitivity, rating enthusiastic applause.

The final festival program on Feb. 28 at 8 p.m. in Angelico Hall will be performed by a festival chorus, orchestra and soloists. It will feature the West Coast premiere of a work by Lou Harrison.

No Rain In Athens

ATHENS (AP) — The Greek Meteorological Service said the month of September set a record here. Not a drop of rain fell in the entire Athens area that month.

Film Star Visits Sausalito For Second Honeymoon

On Saturday they were remarried in a Berkeley church and, after taking their vows for the second time, went to stay at the Casa Madrona hotel at 156 Bulkley Avenue for their honeymoon.

The small hotel's dining room, Le Vivoir, which was closed for a month for alterations, was reopened especially for Van Dyke, said Marie-France Deschamps, daughter of the owners.

The Van Dykes were celebrating their 18th wedding anniversary, according to Miss Deschamps, and were looking for a quiet place to relax without being bothered.

While in Marin the octor and his wife took walks in Sausalito, dined at local restaurants and made side trips to Tiburon and Belvedere.

Miss Deschamps said the pastor who married the Van Dykes, Rev. Charlie Brown, had dinner with the couple at the Vivoir following the marriage.

VIET NAM VETERANS HAVE AN OUTING

More than 20 wounded servicemen from San Francisco's Letterman General Hospital, all veterans of Viet Nam fighting, enjoyed an afternoon of pheasant hunting Wednesday as guests of the Green Rock Hunting Club behind St. Vincent's School for Boys in Marinwood. The men—some of them amputees in wheel chairs—killed more than 100 of the 200 birds released. Above, Jack Kennedy (in dark glasses) serves as guide to Pfc. William Gentry, 20, of Piedmont (left) and Pfc. Jose Gonzalez, 24, of Los Angeles. At upper right, Sp/4 Kenneth Goiens holds a pheasant above the reach of Susy, a pointer loaned by Angelo Fisicaro of Hillsborough. The field (below) was virtually covered with pheasants, and those unable to walk rode. At lower right, club member Dan Pickrell (left) watches as pheasant shot by Pfc. Tonis Rebane of Los Angeles falls. Club members furnished guns and ammunition, while members of Pacific Rod and Gun Club were gun handlers.

Debate Set To Settle Labor Issue

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A trucking company executive has agreed to debate an aide of Teamster Union President James R. Hoffa, with unionization of his company at stake.

Sidney Alterman, president of Alterman Transport, Inc., will face national Teamsters' Representative Lawrence N. Steinberg in debates at Miami and Orlando, where the company has major depots.

A secret ballot by 600 workers will follow. If they back the union leader's arguments, the company will be unionized. If they support Alterman's views, the Teamsters will drop efforts to organize the company's employes.

"I am doing this because I believe in the voice of the people," said Alterman, whose company has depots throughout Florida and Georgia.

He said ground rules for the debates are being drawn up. They probably will be held in March.

German Architects To Really Scrape Sky

By ULRICH KREMER

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — Manhattan's Empire State Building will be dwarfed if the go-ahead is given to a new construction project in Germany.

The plan to build a 4,101-foot tower city is the most ambitious among a welter of "tall structure" concepts drawn up by German architects. The Empire State Building, the world's tallest, is 1,472 feet.

The Germans, who boast of having the world's two tallest church spires — in Ulm and Cologne — seem to be considering the idea of height leadership in secular constructions, too.

West Berlin architect Robert Gabriel, 53, thinks his 356-story tower city is the ideal answer to modern housing problems. The tower would house some 25,000 people in 8,000 apartments, he says.

It also would include five churches, sixteen schools, hotels, theaters, offices and, on the top floors, special clinics for the treatment of respiratory ailments that improve at high altitudes.

Gabriel estimates the cost of the tower at about $612.5 million. He thinks the money could be raised through a joint stock corporation and through sale of the two- and three-bedroom apartments at an average of about $25,000.

The village of Michelbach, 40 miles north of Frankfurt, has announced "support in principle" for Gabriel's suggestion to build the massive tower on municipal grounds.

"If it's feasible, why not?" comments Mayor Willy Kaul on the plans which would boost tenfold the population of Michelbach. It is a very big "if," but still the mayor has received inquiries from several German industrial firms interested in participating in the project.

Village fathers have voted to make 7,000 acres available for the building site. State authorities have announced they will examine the project soon.

Not so tall but no less revolutionary are the designs for tree-shaped tower hotels drawn up by Stuttgart's Horst-Peter Dollinger, 36.

Basic feature of the project is a steel pillar housing the elevators. It supports branching cabins containing single- and double-room accommodations.

Dollinger says he has been awarded designing contracts for tower hotels in West Germany. Negotiations are under way for "dozens of others," adds the architect.

New Mayor Plans Inter-City 'Olympics'

NEW YORK (UPI) — Mayor John V. Lindsay announced Thursday that a "Youth Olympics" will be held this summer in New York City, and he said he hoped the program would become a permanent event—moving to a different city each year.

Lindsay said he had contacted the mayors of more than a dozen cities about the program in which youths representing one city would compete against youths from other cities.

Plane Has Blowout

SYDNEY, Australia (UPI) — A BOAC Boeing 707 airliner with 101 passengers burst a nosewheel tire on landing at Mascot Airport today. The plane was landing in a heavy rainstorm with 51 British immigrants among the passengers. There were no injuries.

Johnson SeekingMore Powerful Laws For School Desegregation

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson will ask Congress to put new teeth into federal laws aimed at desegregating public schools, it was learned today.

He will ask also for about 100 new FBI agents to cope with that agency's swelling civil rights caseload, informed sources said.

A bill being drafted by the Johnson administration would give the attorney general greater authority to initiate court action toward desegregation of schools instead of awaiting complaints and taking part in suits brought by Negroes.

The proposal would be aimed at blocking intimidation of Negroes seeking to integrate schools and harassment of Negro pupils attending previously all-white schools, according to informants.

The President is expected to include school desegregation proposals in a civil rights package that will include proposed laws to eliminate discrimination in jury selection; extend federal court protection to Negroes and civil rights workers in the South, and eliminate discrimination in the sale or rental of housing.

Johnson included all but the school proposals in his Jan. 12 State of the Union Message. The bills reportedly are nearing completion in the hands of Justice Department draftsmen.

The U.S. Commission on Civil Rights reported Tuesday that nearly 12 years after the Supreme Court ruled that segregated schools are unconstitutional, only one of every 13 Negro children in the South is attending school with white pupils.

The commission said fear, intimidation by whites, racial ties and habits have combined in the South to circumvent desegregation plans and federal laws aimed at withholding federal aid from school districts where segregation continues.

Near East Night Life Strike Said Settled

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — Owners of bars, nightclubs and restaurants last night announced the end of a three-day strike which had brought night life to a standstill in this pleasure capital of the Middle East.

The government promised to consider the owners' demands for unrestricted opening hours, reduction of liquor taxes and amendments to a new social security law affecting their employers.

Probation Granted

John Allen Morrison, 63, of 236 Glen Park Avenue, San Rafael, was fined $83 and placed on two years probation yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving. He was arrested by San Anselmo police on Red Hill Avenue last Nov. 20.

On Patrol

Navy Fire Control Technician Seaman Robert L. Webb, son of Mr. and Mrs. Avie J. Webb of 390 Marion Avenue, Mill Valley, is on patrol off the coast of Viet Nam in the South China Sea as a crewmember aboard Seventh Fleet's guided missile frigate Mahan.

Love Letter Is Due At Mossler Trial

By ARTHUR EVERETT

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The state, piling one lurid sensation on top another, now claims to have a revealing love letter from Melvin Lane Powers to his blonde aunt, Candace Mossler.

Circuit Judge George Schulz said at the pair's first-degree murder trial that he needs convincing before he will let any testimony about the letter reach the ears of the all-male jury.

Arguing for its admittance, the state said the letter was intercepted when Powers attempted to smuggle it out of the Houston jail after his arrest in the slaying of Mrs. Mossler's aging husband, multimillionaire Jacques Mossler.

The state presses ahead today —Mrs. Mossler's birthday—with more surprise testimony. It concerns a purported tryst last Thanksgiving weekend in a Mexican border town between the small, shapely Mrs. Mossler and her strapping, 6-foot-3 nephew—a continuation of what the prosecution claims was a love affair.

Also testifying yesterday was Mrs. Sharon Bopp, a nurse. She said that Mrs. Mossler entered Jackson Memorial Hospital in Miami on June 30, 1964, the morning her husband was slain, and that Mrs. Mossler was in no hurry to see a doctor or be released.

JULIO HERNANDEZ
At hotel

The first testimony concerning the Thanksgiving tete a tete in Matamoros came from Julio Hernandez, desk clerk last Nov. 28 in the Ritz Hotel across the border from Brownsville, Tex.

He underwent questioning by the state through a Spanish interpreter.

Q: What time of night did you see Melvin Lane Powers and Candace Mossler?

A: Nine-thirty at night.

Q: Where did you see them?

A: When they registered at the hotel.

A: Mr. Powers.

Q: Did he use his name or another?

A: He signed it M. Lane.

Q: After the defendant Powers registered at the hotel what did he do?

A: He went up to the room.

A: The bellboy and Mrs. Mossler.

Hernandez testified the couple checked out after 10 a.m. the next day although he took this from hotel records and was not present himself.

Under cross-examination by Powers' attorney, Percy Foreman, Hernandez was asked:

Q: Tell us when Mr. Lane came down?

A: After some 10 minutes.

Q: How long was he down?

Q: Alone?

A: Yes.

Q: Did you see when he returned?

A: No, sir.

Bombardier Reunion

World War II veterans who served with the Army Air Corps' 91st Bomb Group will hold a reunion soon, according to reunion committee chairman George W. Parks, 109 Wilshire Boulevard, Vallejo. Parks said he is seeking former members of the group now residing in Marin County.

Pancake House Slates Hospital Ship Benefit Day

A 20-hour benefit "breakfast" at the International House of Pancakes in San Rafael tomorrow will benefit the hospital ship Hope.

Volunteers have sold 1,500 tickets, half of them for children, which will be honored for anything on the menu at the restaurant from 7 a.m. tomorrow to 3 a.m. Sunday.

Food and labor will be donated by the pancake house.

Two Marinites Take Part In Landing

Two Navy men from Marin hit the beaches in Viet Nam in "Operation Double Eagle," largest amphibious landing ever made there on Jan. 28, the Fleet Home Town News Center reported yesterday.

They are Seaman Apprentice Andrew J. Isetta, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew A. Isetta of 45 Maple Avenue, Fairfax, and Electrician's Mate Fireman Apprentice Peter W. Potter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Karl W. Potter of 2020 Mill Road, Novato.

WHAT EXCITEMENT!

Carol Doda Wiggles $50 Worth To Whip Up Spirit For Game

By STEPHEN COOK

Carol Doda, who won fame by applying modern medicine to the art of the topless dance, did a two-minute wiggle for the glory of the College of Marin and $50 yesterday.

The event was a rally to whip up student spirit for a basketball game with Santa Rosa Junior College tonight. The 24-year-old Miss Doda, famed on the nightclub circuit for her silicone-induced buxomness, was guest of honor.

Miss Doda, who was paid $50 by the college student body for the appearance, managed to whip the mostly male audience to a fever pitch before even making an appearance.

With a flair for the dramatic, she sent an excited young man out onto the back patio of the College Center with the word that, presumably fearful of the excitability of college men, she would not appear until the audience had moved back a good 20 yards from the stage. The men roared.

Timing her appearance perfectly, Miss Doda stepped to the stage and was greeted by wolf whistles, cat calls and gaping jaws. Her 44-24-36 figure was slightly more covered than when she appears in a San Francisco night club. Her garb did have its effect though.

She wore a snug little tee-shirt with the word "Batman" expanded across her chest. Her white, bell-bottom pants seemed barely an extension of her skin.

Student body leaders escorted her to the stage, but with that mission accomplished, they seemed at a loss what to do next. They settled for a College of Marin spell-out yell, while the platinum-haired Miss Doda sighed in faint, little girl voice and, as though unconsciously, gyrated a bit.

The cheerleading complete, student body leaders assured the audience that Miss Doda would do something, right after an appearance by the college's song leading girls. The suggestion was vetoed by a loud boo.

Miss Doda saved the otherwise embarrassing situation by doing what she knows best. She grabbed sophomore yell leader Larry Reed, 19, of Mill Valley by the hand, pulled him to the stage, and went into a frantic swim dance to loud music from a rock and roll combo.

Miss Doda and Reed, an accomplished dancer, gyrated for a full two minutes before the showgirl called a halt to the performance. She lingered briefly to sign autographs, then left for her more sophisticated San Francisco environs.

Asked how she thought she had added to the basketball chances, Miss Doda, pushing through a throng of students, called back over her shoulder:

"Well, I hope I stimulated them."

Counsel Details College Land Deal

County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney said today that he filed a suit of condemnation against property at 885 College Avenue after he learned that the Catholic Archdiocese of San Francisco had agreed to purchase the property and the deal had entered the escrow period.

Maloney said he was still negotiating for the property when he learned that the church and property owners Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Mindle had struck a bargain on Aug. 26.

Maloney said he filed the condemnation suit on behalf of the Marin Junior College District on Aug. 31. The exchange of property between the church and the Mindles was consummated Sept. 3.

The county counsel said he asked the sheriff's department to serve notice of the pending law suit on the Mindles on Sept. 2, but the papers were not delivered to the couple until Sept. 4, one day after the sale was completed.

The church bought the property, formerly the College Market, for its Catholic student group, the Newman Club, for $35,000. Subsequent work by students and donations of money and materials by residents in the community increased the value of the property almost twofold, according to Brother Nicholas Kurgas, assistant chaplain of the club.

The fact that the property is in dispute between the college and the church came to light yesterday.

Maloney gave this sequence of events surrounding the college negotiations for the property and its subsequent sale to the church (all dates are 1965):

April 28 — Negotiations were commenced by Maloney on behalf of the college for acquisition of the property.

July 15 — The college board passed a resolution authorizing Maloney to file a suit of condemnation if necessary. Maloney elected to negotiate some more before filing suit.

Aug. 26 — The church and the Mindles signed an agreement and put the property in escrow.

Aug. 31 — Maloney filed suit.

Sept. 3 — Sale of the property was consummated.

Sept. 4 — The Mindles were served notice of the pending suit.

Maloney said the suit is still pending. The defendants, he said, are the Mindles, but the church, since it now owns the property, would be able to intervene.

Maloney said, "I am still very optimistic that this well be resolved amicably between the college and the church."

Annexations Approved By Board

The Novato Sanitary District board last night approxed two annexations of about an acre apiece, and agreed to send another proposed annexation to the Local Agency Formation Commission.

Annexed were the lots of George P. Campanelli and Clarence G. Born on Vineyard Road near Going Lane, and those of Joaquina Braz-Dias and Olivia B. Carlos on Diablo Avenue.

Sent to the LAFC was a proposed annexation of about five acres on Vineyard near Sutro Avenue.

The board also accepted an extension of mains to service the Country Club Apartments in Ignacio near Highway 101.

Board members agreed to meet March 7, 14 and 21 at 8 p.m. at the North Marin County Water District office.

Council Votes New Larkspur Fire Pumper

The Larkspur City Council voted four to one last night to purchase a $33,300 fire engine for the city's Greenbrae station and hire three more firemen in January 1967. Councilman Robert J. Smith cast the dissenting vote.

Under a plan presented by City Mgr. Ronald E. Piper, the city will draw out payment for the truck over three budget periods, actually a year and one-half.

MORE MEN

Purchase of the pumper, Piper said, will necessitate hiring three additional firemen on a fulltime basis, at a cost of $19,080 a year.

"It will be tight," Piper told the council, "but I think you can handle this within the present tax rate." The city receives an average of $10,000 additional tax revenue a year, he said, through increased assessed valuation.

Smith argued that the matter should be deferred a year. "It is not an amergency situation. Perhaps we could avoid adding the extra men with a better working arrangement with the Kentfield Fire District," he said.

STILL NEEDED

Piper reported that if the entire forces of the Kentfield district and the Larkspur Fire Department were merged, the truck would still need to be purchased and the extra men hired.

Councilman Vaughn Marker said: "I don't think we have a choice. This has to be done and I think we can do it within the present tax rate with little trouble."

Meeting Postponed

Larkspur Names Interim Manager

The Larkspur City Council last night appointed Robert C. Bundy, city park and recreation director, to serve as interim city manager until a replacement is found for Ronald E. Piper, who has resigned effective Feb. 28.

The council made this appointment, which raises Bundy's salary from $650 to $800 monthly, after a meeting behind closed doors. Before they went into closed session, former mayor Lesly A. Daveler announced he would be available for the temporary job. He said:

"I don't think the council should have to rush its selection of a city manager. In order that you get as much time as possible, I think you should appoint someone from outside the city staff as interim manager. I would be available for this position on a month-to-month basis, effective March 1."

Piper called it important that the council appoint an interim manager because city ordinances delegate such jobs as signing payroll checks to the city manager.

The council also agreed on a screening committee to interview candidates for city manager. They told Piper to ask Corte Madera Town Mgr. Ronald L. Usher and Novato City Mgr. J. Julien Baget to serve on this committee with himself.

Deadline for application for the job is March 15. The council asked that the committee screen the candidates and select five for council consideration by March 21.

Stop-Payment Order Laid To County Board Mistake

The stop-payment order against Bel Marin Keys Assessment District No. 2 was evidently prompted by an error on the part of county supervisors last week.

Supervisors authorized $125,488 in direct payment to contractors on street and sewer installations in Bell Marin Keys. Under the assessment district agreement, all bond proceeds are to be paid to United California Bank, which in turn pays the developer.

When the board authorized direct payments to contractors on recommendation of Public Works Director Donald R. Frost, the action was questioned by Auditor Kenneth Flinn in the county auditor-controller's office.

Attorney Edwin Ness, representing the district, said the board's order would have to be rescinded. The board did this Tuesday, but meanwhile, Brown-Ely Co. filed a stop payment order.

Ness said Brown-Ely evidently "got jumpy." He said money is available to cover completion of the job and there is no cause for concern.

Meeting Put Off

Monthly meeting of the Tomales Bay School District Board, which falls next Monday, has been postponed to Wednesday at 8 p.m. at Tomales School, Principal David Raffo announced.

Store Change Stolen

An estimated $8 to $10 in change was stolen yesterday from Sun Valley Market at 2202 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael, by someone who removed tape from a previously broken rear window, reached in and unlatched the window, police reported.

The banana is related to the Canna lily.

New Planner Asks Overall County Plan

Marin County's new planning director, Paul Zucker, last night said he has the impression that in the past planning in Marin "has been from the bottom up."

He told a meeting of the Citizens Advisory Committee on Development of Marin that most of the direction for planning has come from local groups, rather than from a coordinated organization which could consider the county as a whole.

The top priority job now, he said, will be to develop a county master plan. That project should take about two years to complete, he predicted.

Zucker said he expected to spend most of his time on the county master plan, but would set up department task forces to work on other major problems which cannot wait.

He said he would work for better relations with city planning agencies and would seek new ways of learning what residents want the county to be like in the future.

Youngster Bitten

Mrs. M. Garrett of 92 Cypress Avenue, Mill Valley, reported to police yesterday afternoon that her four-year-old son, Danny, was bitten on the forehead by a German shepherd dog owned by George White of 84 Cypress Avenue. The child was taken to a doctor.

Bel Marin District Elections Set April 12

The Bel Marin Keys Community Services District, which has had no election since it was formed in June, 1961, will have a three-way race April 12 to fill one seat on its board of directors.

None of the candidates is named West.

Buck, who has lived in the district for a year and a half, retired six years ago as a San Francisco police officer. He was on the force for 20 years. He said he is "very happy in Bel Marin Keys and I want to help the community."

Mrs. Moss has lived there a year. She taught in San Francisco schools for more than 25 years. She said she and her husband regret unfortunate publicity about the district "as the area has so much to offer."

If the district board works with developer Jack H. West Jr., she predicted, "there is no doubt but what the community will be well on its way toward its potential."

Complaints by residents last month brought to light the fact that there had been no regular meetings, or elections, of the board since the district was formed. Until West resigned as a director last week, there had never been anyone on the board who was not named West.

James Zoeller of 53 Montego Key was seated in West's place. Then Mrs. Lerona West said she would not run when her term expires this year. The three candidates will be competing for her spot on the board.

Only remaining member of the West family on the board after the election will be Jack H. West Jr. Attorney Leland H. Jordan, who represents the district, said last week that the younger West also plans to resign.

Rare Jade Treasure Recovered By FBI

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The FBI announced today the recovery of more than a half-million dollars worth of rare jade jewelry and artifacts, some dating back to 1,500 B.C.

The treasure, considered priceless and irreplaceable by art experts, was stolen last Nov. 23 from the Norton Art Gallery in West Palm Beach.

Wallet Stolen

Lawrence Lacau of 20 Riverside Drive, Napa, reported his wallet, containing $150, credit cards and his driver's license, was stolen from a dressing room at Roos-Atkins store in Northgate yesterday afternoon.

ATTENTION, PLEASE!
Do you want an organ in your home and the FUN it can give your ENTIRE family?
BUT
1. Don't want the inconvenience of going to a studio to learn to play?
2. Don't have the hours or time for private instruction in your home?
3. Cost of instruction too much for you or entire family when free lessons are over?
THEN WAIT NO LONGER
If any of these reasons are holding your musical enjoyment in check Pacific Organ & Piano's EXCLUSIVE new "FAMILY-FUN PROGRAM" is designed for you and all of your family. Children of all ages, mother & dad, grandmother & grandfather all CAN and WILL play the organ using Pacific's "FAMILY FUN PROGRAM."
Come in and see us now and find a lifetime of musical pleasure at your finger tips.

That Special House

Lofty ceilings and tall walls frame large areas of glass that bring sky, view and foreground trees in to soften the stark white and geometrically simple interior of this contemporary home in the hills. Compact, but in no way tiny, this 2 bedroom home is made to seem much larger than it is by the correct use of proportion and the restrained use of good and complementary material. Convenience is inherent in the U-shaped built-in kitchen, the compartmented bath. Pleasure is insured by the wide deck that completely surrounds the home, from which a path leads down to a level picnic area by an all year creek. Here is integrity of designing for good living in a nearly new home at just $24,500.

The trouble she had with her aspidistra caused her to comment that perhaps the tropics would be more conducive. Seizing the opportunity and not pausing to wonder what she meant, we listed her wonderous house and saw her off forthwith at the dock! As she disappeared over the horizon she was heard to cry, "Farewell, and sell, sell, SELL!" From this you may deduce that she is rather eccentric and can not have dwelt in anything but a highly irregular house. Fun and charming and private and interesting, it's for YOU, Mr. (or Miss or Mrs.) Individualist! 1 bedroom only, ¼ acre, view, sun, exquisite plantings. $27,500.

APPLICATION FOR CHANGE OF NAME
No. 44869
Dept. No. 4

In the Superior Court of the State of California in and for the County of Marin.

In the matter of the application of Harvey Bernard Finklestone for change of name.

On reading and filing the petition of Harvey Bernard Finklestone praying for a change of name of said Harvey Bernard Finklestone and asking that a day be appointed by the above entitled court for the hearing of said petition, this court now recites the fact that a petition was filed by the petitioner for a change of name on this 4th day of February, 1966, that it proposes to change said name from Harvey Bernard Finklestone to Harvey Bernard Stone.

It is now, therefore, ordered that all persons interested in said matter be and appear before this court on the 16th day of March, 1966, at the hour of 2:00 P.M., in department 1 of the above entitled court, in the county, and state aforesaid, to show cause why the petition for said change of name should not be granted.

It is further ordered that a copy of this order to show cause be published for four consecutive weeks in the San Rafael-Independent-Journal, a newspaper published in said county.

Done in open court this 4th day of February, 1966.

San Rafael Fire Losses Increasing

Fire losses on houses, apartments and commercial buildings in San Rafael rose from $130,419 in 1964 to $157,708 last year, according to the annual report of the city's fire department, just released.

The 1965 figure represents a nearly four-fold increase over the $40,021 in such losses reported in 1963. However, it is well below losses of $182,086 in 1962 and $186,418 in 1961.

According to Fire Chief Vance Trivett, who submitted the report, structural fires in 1965 accounted for 51 of the 729 fire alarms, an average of two alarms a day.

The 97 car fires made up the largest single category. There were 69 grass fires. Sixty-seven, or nearly 10 per cent of the calls, were false alarms.

Errands of mercy bulked large in the year's activities. There were 54 resuscitator calls. Another 77 calls were from individuals locked out of their homes or businesses.

Despite the large number of fire calls, there were only nine on-duty injuries, all minor and a third of them due to poison oak. There were three minor injuries in training.

The department's 51 firemen racked up a total of more than 9,000 hours of training time, 1,590 hours of it when off duty.

In the report, the department's training officer, Capt. Gaylord E. Bonfield, said training was hampered by lack of equipment. He asked for transportation, an office, film projector, slide projector, camera and an adequate budget for disposable items.

Fire Marshal Kenneth Mazza, of the department's bureau of fire prevention, reported a decrease in the number of building inspections as compared to 1964. He attributed this to the "increased size and more complex operations in most of the new buildings in the city."

Orphan's Fund Grows To $516

A total of $516 had been raised as of this morning to start a trust fund for six-month-old Denise Lee, orphaned when her parents, Mr. and Mrs. David S. Lee Jr. of San Rafael, were killed Feb. 5 in an El Dorado County auto crash.

Attorney Berwyn M. Rice, who has been receiving contributions to the fund, said donations have continued to come in at the same rate all week. The fund was started last week by co-workers of the baby's father at the Charles D. Walker Co., San Francisco.

Rice said he expected to file a petition today in Marin Superior Court to have the baby's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. David S. Lee Sr. of 2450 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael, declared her guardians.

Cities Told Happy Side Of Traffic Jam

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Traffic jams have a bright side, according to Rex W. Whitton, federal highway administrator.

Whitton, addressing a group of businessmen here recently, said that when city streets become choked with traffic "this is not so much a symptom of illness as it is proof that the city and its downtown are very much alive."

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

VAN DELLEN

E. P. K. writes: "Recently you wrote about the hazards to middle-aged fishermen. My husband and sons are avid sportsmen. You stated that "these men are asking for a heart attask, backache or bout of gout." I can understand the chance of getting a backache or a heart attack, but why gout?"

MANY FACTORS trigger an attack in a person with a gouty trait. Overexertion is one of these. Many men who refuse to walk two blocks carry heavy fishing tackle or an outboard motor to a boat located a mile from the cabin. Others fly fish in a swift stream filled with rocks and rapids. In addition, casting for fish all day requires exertion.

Overindulgence in food and alcohol also precipitate an attack of gout. We do not know why this happens except that this is the nature of the disease.

GOUT TENDS to come and go. Initially, the attacks are of short duration and a year or more may elapse between bouts of pain. In time the recurrence lasts longer and the in-between periods are shorter. This is avoided by using discretion and our modern remedies that tend to keep the uric acid content in the blood at near normal levels. The fisherman (or fisherwoman) who does not have this trait need not worry.

Most attacks of gout develop suddenly and for no apparent reason. The victim goes to bed feeling well and is awakened in the early morning hours with a red, painful toe that is so tender to the touch the weight of the sheets and blankets hurt.

THE SYMPTOMS are best relieved with colchicine and many sportsmen with a past history of gout will not go on a trip without these tablets. Aspirin and butazolidine lessen the distress.

Drugs that lower the amount of uric acid in the blood also are available. These products lessen the need for a strict diet.

ABDOMINAL PAIN

Mrs. U. writes: What is the first thing to think of when a person develops abdominal discomfort?

REPLY

If distress is in the lower abdomen, the appendix comes to mind as well as the bladder, the pelvic organs, and the large intestine. Upper abdominal pain may result from disturbances of the gall bladder, stomach, esophagus, or pancreas. When discomfort persists or is severe, call the physician first and let him do the worrying.

BRAIN COVERING

D. T. writes: Would going without a hat in cold weather have any effect upon the brain?

REPLY

No, because nature has provided the brain with its own hat — hair and skull. On the other hand, the body loses conconsiderable heat during cold weather when the head is not protected.

CANCER AND LARYNX

A. C. writes: Is removal of the larynx the only cure when cancer is present?

REPLY

Not necessarily, because early cancer frequently is treated with radium or X-ray. Furthermore, when the malignancy is localized to one vocal cord it may be posible to limit the operation to removal of the affected side.

Report On Progress In City Of Fairfax

These are among the accomplishments listed in a 1965 progress report by City Administrator David J. Sumbardo, released yesterday.

"The highlight of the year in planning was the approval of a federal grant for preparation of the general plan," Sumbardo said.

The plan will include special studies on zoning and subdivision ordinances, central business district, recreation facilities, capital improvement program and storm drainage.

Citizen committees are scheduled to complete their reports on the plan and consultants are scheduled to complete the first phase of the plan this year.

"It is expected that the plan will be ready for public hearings, planning commission and city council action, by the summer of 1967," Sumbardo said.

In the first year of its five-year street-capital improvement program, the city resurfaced 1.8 miles of city streets, he reported.

Continuation of the street improvement program this year will include widening and improving Sir Francis Drake Boulevard from Marinda Oaks to Oak Manor.

Downtown street lighting was increased last year and illumination in residential areas is scheduled to be increased this year, he said.

Sumbardo noted that the city tax rate for 1965-66 was set at $1.84 per $100 valuation, the same as the previous year.

Only 18 cents of every property tax dollar went for city services, he said. "A family living in a $25,000 home pays approximately 23 cents a day for city government expenses in Fairfax. Sumbardo declared. The city tax rate was $1.84 per $100 assessed valuation.

There was a decline in building permits issued, from 160 in 1964 to 127 last year, but the valuation of construction increased from $1,064,579 in 1964 to $1,160,101 in 1965.

The report also noted that:

The public works department purchased an oiler to control dust on unimproved streets, installed a culvert at Marinda Drive, and constructed a new driveway and sidewalk in front of the fire station.

The fire department responded to 76 fires, 23 per cent more than in 1964, and 67 resuscitation and first aid calls, 78 per cent more than 1964.

Upstairs quarters at the firehouse were remodeled into a day room and dormitory, and the old firedepartment dormitory was altered to serve as a police squad room.

New fire alarm boxes were installed at Cascade Drive and Meadow Way and along Sir Francis Drake Boulevard at Lanai Apartments.

A six-inch water main was installed on upper Hillside Drive and Crest Road and four hydrants installed on the line. A six-inch water main was installed on Woodland Road and two hydrants installed.

There was an accelerated program, including the first summer recreation program in three years and 43 dances at the pavilion, which was repaired to bring it up to requirements of the health and safety code.

The city entered into an agreement with the Fairfax School District whereby the district contributed toward cost of maintenance of the pavilion.

New benches and tables were built for Andy Peri Park, a backstop was installed at the baseball field, new swings purchased, horseshoe courts approved, litter cans placed in parks, and trees planted in the parkade.

There were changes in the budget format, purchasing procedures, filing system and city council agenda, and remodeling of city offices including new lighting in the police department and city clerk's office.

Sumbardo said the major projects scheduled for completion this year include:

Belvedere Spree Brings Citations

Acts of vandalism, including smashing light fixtures, breaking porch railings and supports, and strewing liquor containers along Bella Vista Avenue were reported following the party.

None of the youths cited lives in Belvedere, according to Police Chiew William S. Woodington.

All six were cited for drinking and three were also charged with malicious mischief, said Woodington.

Bike Warning Issued Parents

Directors of the Sleepy Hollow Homes Assn. last night agreed to warn parents in the area not to let their children ride bicycles at night without lights.

They also learned that the group had raised $1,000 to build gates marking the entrance to Sleepy Hollow at the San Anselmo city limits on Butterfield Road. Work on the gates should start within a week or two, predicted Mrs. Robert Schneider, corresponding secretary.

Fourteen members were present.

Steel Demand May Increase In 1966

PEORIA, Ill. (UPI) —The promising 1966 outlook for new construction and modernization means increased demand for nearly every type of steel in the year ahead, according to Walton B. Sommer, president of Keystone Steel & Wire Com., a major supplier to the building industries.

Other customers, supplying industrial and agricultural markets, are also planning for increased volume during the company year, Sommer said, pointing out that a high level of operations would help the steel industry overcome the cost-price squeeze caused by rising production costs.

Zoning Agenda Set

Marin County Zoning Administrator Thomas E. Cordill will consider eight requests for variances on home developments in the county Monday. The meeting will begin at 9:30 a.m. at the civic center.

Catholic Unit Sets Budget For The Year

Of that amount, $32,000 has been granted the organization by the United Bay Area Crusade, according to Mrs. George Stempel, board chairman. The balance of $30,000 is to be raised by Catholic charities and auxiliaries of Catholic Social Services.

TV REVIEW

March 12 May Be Der Tag

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) —Unless NBC-TV cancels its March 12 showing of the Movie "A Place in the Sun," viewers may be watching a crucial legal showdown concerning the insertion of commercials in televised motion pictures.

The situation arises because George Stevens, producer of the classic film, which is based on Theodore Dreiser's "An American Tragedy" and stars Montgomery Clift, Elizabeth Taylor and Shelley Winters, decided to take the matter to court.

ISSUES WARNING

There in court, in Los Angeles, a judge issued a warning to the network which, if abided by and upheld, may turn out to be an historic occasion in the relationship of movies and television.

He cautioned that commercials must not be inserted in a way that would "emasculate" the artistic quality of the film. And you can well imagine what kind of an opening wedge this finally gives movie makers who long have winced over the assassination of their films by countless, ill-placed commercials on television — much as authors have long suffered at the treatment of their works by movie makers.

MONTHS OFF

Actually, the full trial of the case is some months off—well after the scheduled NBC-TV showing—and the judge didn't feel he could ban commercials completely anyway. But he did take the rather monumental step of suggesting that badly arranged commercials—or if one wants to interpret freely, advertisements in general—can affect an artistic work on television, and, by implication, its creator's reputation.

This, of course, is not big news to anybody who watches video movies. There ought to be a law—and I mean a real, enforceable one, with plenty of teeth—against what some television butchers have done to the films.

An NBC-TV spokesman, by the way, said that not a single frame would be cut from the network's showing of "A Place in the Sun."

Narcotics Subject Of Panel

A panel discussion of "Nailing Down Narcotics" will open the 1966 dinner meeting schedule of Marin County Peace Officers Assn., according to Timothy Cronin, secretary-treasurer.

Panelists at the session, to be at 8:15 p.m. on Feb. 28 at Rancho Nicasio in Nicasio, will be James Soetaert, director of the Field Service Division, Marin County probation department; Matthew M. O'Connor, supervising agent of the State Narcotics Bureau, and Jack Hurst, Northern California director of Synanon.

Moderator will be Capt. Theodore F. Parnow of the California Highway Patrol.

Cronin said a no-host cocktail hour and business meeting will preceed the program.

Rights Group Asks Changes

The Marin County Human Rights Commission last night approved a plan for its own reorganization and recommended it be adopted by county supervisors.

Commission executive secretary Wyman Hicks said the major change would reduce membership from 22 to seven.

Should the board of supervisors approve the changes, the commission will meet to recommend appointments to the reorganized group.

Hicks said that another change considered is daytime meetings. The group has been holding evening meetings.

250 Parts Of Auto Get Heat Treatment

DRESHER, Pa. (UPI) — More than 250 parts in the modern passenger automobile require precision heat-processing in at least one stage of their manufacture.

Selas Corporation of America, which designs industrial heat-processing systems, lists windshields, spark plugs, instrument panels and rear windows among parts that must be scientifically heated during fabrication, along with brake drums, axles, springs, driveshaft, differential and transmission gears, crankshafts, connecting rods, and many more engine parts and other metal components.

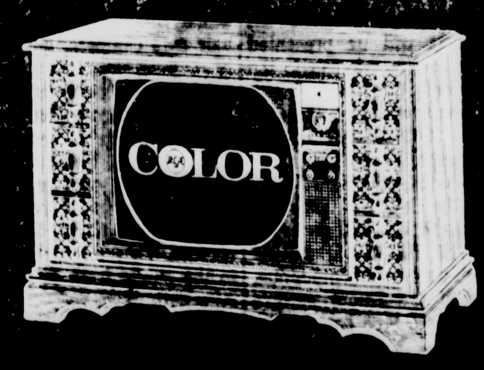

Average Business Letter Costs $2.44

CHICAGO (UPI) —The average business letter, 250 words, now costs $2.44 to dictate, transcribe, mail and file, according to a study of letter costs made by the Dartnell Corp., a business publisher here.

The cost includes overhead, fringe benefits, equipment, supplies and non-productive time. According to the Dartnell report, companies are saving money by answering letters by telephone, sending short-note replies, using more form letters.

Best Cat To Get Dutch Gold Medal

A special award from the Netherlands will be presented to one of the top winners in the Marin County Cat Fanciers 14th annual show tomorrow and Sunday in the IDESST Hall, 511 Caledonia Street, Sausalito.

The official gold medal of Felikat, the Dutch national cat fancy association, will go to the best cat in the Cat Fanciers' Assn. all-breed competition, along with the Dutch group's red, white and blue rosette.

Felikat and the Marin County Cat Fanciers exchanged awards this season. The Marin club presented a medallion which went to the best blue point Siamese at Felikat's 25th anniversary show in Amsterdam in December.

The CFA all-breed competition will be one of four separate shows-within-a-show at the Marin exhibition. There will be another all-breed event, in which both longhair and shorthair cats compete, and specialty competitions for longhairs only and shorthairs only. Trophies imported from Denmark and Norway will go to best-in-show, divisional and breed winners.

Nearly 150 cats and kittens belonging to nine breeds, including the rare Korat, have been entered. They will be on display to the public from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. both days.

Judging, open to the public, will be conducted during the same period. Judges will be Mrs. Lynne VanderPoel of St. Petersburg, Fla., and Mrs. Gladys Weirich of Pasadena, all-breeds, and Mrs. R. T. Wyse of Honolulu, specialties.

Show proceeds will go to the Marin County Humane Society's development fund. Last year's Marin County Cat Fanciers show raised more than $1,000 for the fund.

Last Permits Are Issued For Peacock Gap Sewage

The San Rafael Sanitation District Board last night issued what members insisted were the last two permits for sewer connections to the Peacock Gap Sanitary Treatment Plant.

To prove they really meant it this time, board members turned down a third application.

The same pronouncement was issued in November when city aides thought the plant had reached its limit of 400 connections. City councilmen then said the cut-off would come Jan. 1, but things failed to work out that way because a recount showed the 400 had not then been reached.

Last night, however, board members concluded two connections sought by builder Roy Claxton of Claxton-Weiss Inc., San Rafael, were the 399th and 400th served by the plant.

As a result, they refused to grant one to builder Frank J. Jackson. Claxton, they noted, had received a building permit while Jackson had not.

The board hired Thomas F. Kotch as a plant operator, starting Monday at $500 a month. He will replace Mitchell T. Anderson, whose last day was today.

A request for a $5,135 refund of sanitation fees for an apartment building which was never built was referred to the county counsel's office. The refund was sought by developer Robert H. Greene, who had planned to erect the building on Canal Street.

Clay's Title Bout Will Probably Beat The Draft

By BILL MANN

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Chances are the heavyweight title fight between Cassius Clay and Ernie Terrell will be staged on March 29 as scheduled, despite Clay's 1-A draft classification.

"I don't think he would be included in the March call if he appealed," said Miss Winifred K. Phillips, chief clerk for Jefferson County's 10 draft boards.

Clay, in Miami training for the fight, said he will appeal the classification assigned him yesterday by Local Board 47. "I don't know just how I'll appeal. I don't know anything about the law. I just know I will."

Miss Phillips said the quota was expected today, and that Clay's name won't be placed on the list of eligibles until 10 days after his re-classification.

"His isn't a special case," she said. "He has the same rights, privileges, and obligations as all other young men. And they all have 10 days to appeal a classification."

After the re-classification, however, Edward W. Jacko Jr., Clay's personal attorney who testified for 40 minutes before the board, said ground for an appeal hasn't been determined.

The board meeting lasted about 1¼ hours, about 15 minutes longer than similar meetings usually require.

An appeal would be made to Clay's local board, which would forward it to the appeal board wherever his legal residence was established. This, presumably, would be in Miami at the present time.

A unanimous decision among the five-member appeal board would end the matter, and Clay's 1-A classification would stick. But a dissenting vote would send the appeal to Washington.

Miss Phillips said she doubts if the champion would be included in the March call, even if the appeal were denied. She said the quota must be filled within 10 days.

She said the April call will be issued about the middle of March. Should Clay be included in that call, she said, he would have a mandatory 10-day appeal period from the day his induction notice was mailed.

Draft boards sometimes allow an inductee as much as three weeks' after the notice is mailed before induction.

The fight, then, though still uncertain, has a better than even chance of being staged in Chicago as planned.

In Chicago, co-promoters Irv Schoenwald and Ben Bentley said, "We're in the dark, with a growing expenditure, until we know whether Clay definitely is out of the fight."

Fight headquarters were established Monday, at a cost of more than $6,000 already, they said.

Schoenwald said Main Bout, Inc., already has closed a $100,000 deal with British Broadcasting Company to carry the fight via Early Bird satellite relay. Main Bout is handling theater television.

Clay had been classified 1-Y, which is unacceptable for military service, because he scored less than the required standard on the mental aptitude tests of his pre-induction examinations.

The champion was bitter when informed of the new classification, which means almost certain induction since he is 24 years old and unmarried.

"Why me, why me?" he asked. "I can't see how they can re-classify me as 1-A, why they're so anxious to push me into the Army out of all the people in Louisville officially classified 1-A."

Clay claims to have received telegrams of sympathy from

Don Landrum Will Be A Favorite Among S.F. Giant Baseball Fans

HANLEY

Candlestick Park baseball fans are going to like Don Landrum. The ex-Cub utility outfielder, now a Giant, would have a natural following of local fans since he is a native of Santa Rosa who now lives in Pittsburg.

But Landrum has something else going for him. He has a sense of humor. He isn't embarrassed by a gag of which he is the victim. Landrum laughed as hard as anyone else the other night at the baseball writers banquet when presented with a cushion labeled "For Willie Mays' Substitute."

"ACTUALLY," said Landrum, "I don't need a cushion to be comfortable on the bench. I grew accustomed to it a few years back when I played the fill-in role for Stan Musial at St. Louis. Now I'm told I'm Willie's stand-in. What other player can claim the distinction of being back-up man for two of the greatest in the history of the game?"

Of course, Landrum knows that he is going to see more duty in 1966 than just as Mays' substitute when Willie is being rested. He is a fellow gifted with an ability to size up situations realistically. He accentuates the positive, frowns on the negative.

"I JUST MIGHT come in handy in other spots, too," said Landrum, who wasn't thinking exclusively of pinch-hitting chores when he made this observation. Landrum's line of thought became obvious when he next asked:

"Is it right that the Giants occasionally had a leadoff problem last season, getting the leadoff man on base and then into scoring position on a steal or a sacrifice?"

THE GIANTS, indeed, had that problem more than once because it was almost impossible to walk Jay Alou who hit his way to first many times a .296 average but didn't accept a base on balls until midseason.

Alou wound up the season with a total of 13 walks, eight stolen bases. Landrum got on base in a variety of ways last year as Cub leadoff man, including being hit by the pitcher 15 times, despite a utitity batting average of .226. And he stole second 14 times.

But what was behind Landrum's inquiry about the Giant leadoff problem? Did he believe he had a chance of taking Alou's right field job away from him?

"I DID'T SAY that," said Landrum. "But I did play right field in a doubleheader last year when Billy Williams was being rested and I had a pretty good day, 6-for-8. I've learned to live with my utility role. I don't fight it like some players.

"However, don't get the idea that I'd turn down any regular spot that might open up on either side of Willie in the outfield. I came to play as Willie's back-up man or any place else where I might be useful."

NEW ORLEANS, La. — Charolere, $4, moved up boldly in the stretch and won the feature at the Fair Grounds ahead of Joe Di Rosa.

ARCADIA, Calif. — Spearfish, $3.60, surged in front on the far turn and won the $47,000 Santa Susana Stakes at Santa Anita Park over Ego Twist by two lengths.

Warriors Vs. Celts Tonight

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Unless 6-foot-11 center Nate Thurmond can get the ache out of his back, chances for the San Francisco Warriors to break their four-game losing string appeared slim tonight against the Boston Celtics.

The Warriors must have Thurmond, doubtful because of a muscle spasm, to counter the Celts' great Bill Russell.

The Warriors couldn't even beat Eastern Division doormat New York on Wednesday without Nate. And they've managed only one victory over division-leading Boston in eight games this season.

More trouble for the Warriors looms beyond the Celtics. For the Philadelphia 76ers and Wilt Chamberlain follow Saturday at San Francisco Civic Auditorium with Boston due back next Tuesday before a two-game set against Cincinnati. All are powers in the more powerful East.

The Warriors now are hanging only one-half game ahead of fourth-place St. Louis in the Western Division of the National Basketball Association in the race for the last divisional playoff spot.

Mrs. McKinnon Wins Tourney

Mrs. James McKinnon was Ace of the Month golf winner yesterday at the Meadow Club in Fairfax. Mrs. John Cann won low gross with an 83. Winners were:

Class A—Mrs. Marie Hensler, 91-14—77; Mrs. J. A. Gibbs, 94-15—79; Mrs. Tony Bally, 84-4—80; Mrs. Norman Green, 93-13—80.

Class B—Mrs. H. C. Billings, 93-19—74; Mrs. T. N. Brown, 94-18—76; Mrs. Art Schallock, 95-18—77.

HOW'S THE WEATHER UP THERE?

WEST COAST BASKETBALL

'Crucials' On Tap

By U. P. INTERNATIONAL

When UCLA's basketball team flattened Oregon State, 79-35, in both teams' conference opener, it looked as if the Bruins would breeze to the Pacific Eight title again.

But the two teams meet in a showdown clash in Corvallis, Ore., tonight and it's the Bruins who face extinction. Oregon State has won seven straight PAC games since the Bruin disaster, while UCLA is 6-2 after losing squeakers at Stanford and Washington State.

Neither team boasts an outstanding individual star, but balance has carried the Beavers to a 15-5 season mark and the Bruins to a 14-6 record.

ALL-STARS CLASH

The Pacific Eight's two individual hotshots meanwhile will be in action when USC calls on Oregon. Trojan center John Block and Duck guard Jim Barnett are cinches for at least All-Coast honors. If UCLA should win at Corvallis, it would throw the Ducks, now 5-3, into the thick of the race.

Oregon will then host UCLA Saturday afternoon while the Beavers host the Trojans that night. The Bruin-Duck clash will be televised throughout the West.

The rest of the PAC teams will be in the Bay Area this weekend with Washington State at California tonight and Stanford Saturday and Washington taking on the Bay area foes in the opposite order.

Anything can happen in the West Coast Athletic Conference, but University of Pacific and San Francisco both figure to win twice this weekend. The two teams share first place with 6-1 records and USF hosts Santa Barbara and San Jose State and Pacific meets Pepperdine and Loyola at Stockton. The Dons' struggle with third place San Jose State (5-2) could be a good one.

Santa Clara (4-3) battles San Jose State tonight and St. Mary's faces Loyola.

OTHER CONFERENCES

Nevada can cinch the Far Western Conference crown with a win Saturday night against Humboldt, which brings an 0-7 record to Reno. Or the Wolf Pack could make it tonight should second place San Francisco State fall to the tough Cal Aggies. Chico State is at Hayward and Humboldt at Sacramento State tonight.

Fresno State should have little trouble winning the CCAA title even if it should lose at San Diego State tonight. Other games find Cal Poly at Long Beach and San Fernando at Los Angeles State.

Charles Coody Leads Tucson Open Tourney

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Charles Coody carried a one-stroke lead into today's second round of the $60,000 Tucson Open Golf Tournament, but no less than 20 other par-busters were within three strokes of the 28-year-old Texan.

Coody recovered from a first-hole bogey yesterday to fire a five-under-par 67 and capture the first day lead. Applying the most pressure were Dick Lotz and Mason Rudolph, who had 68s.

HOT PLAYERS

Sanders and Dickinson have been among the pro tour's hottest players of late. Sanders won the recent Bob Hope Desert Golf Classic at Palm Springs, Calif., and Dickinson finished second in the Phoenix Open Monday after leading for three rounds.

Grouped three strokes back at 70 after the first round were Randy Glover, Rocky Thompson, Dick Mayer, Julius Boros, Fred Parti, John Lotz, Steve Opperman, Billy Martindale, Johnny Pott and Steve Spray.

Coody, a Stamford, Tex., native who plays out of Fort Worth, toured the back nine first in one-under-par 35, then eagled the 520-yard par 5 second hole en route to a four-under 32 on the back nine.

It was the second straight sub-par opening round for Coody, who started with a 69 in the Phoenix Open and finished in a tie for ninth.

Frozen greens delayed the start of play nearly an hour yesterday and nine players still were on the course when darkness halted the action. Among them, only Joe Carr was a threat to move in with the leaders. Carr was three-under-par after 15 holes.

The pros had predicted they'd have a tougher line with the Tucson National golf course then they did last year when Bob Charles won with a 17-under-par total of 271.

But 44 of them equaled or bettered par yesterday on the 7,200-yard desert layout, known throughout the west for its giant, rolling greens.

Charles kept his hopes for a repeat alive with a one-under-par 71. He hit all the greens in regulation, but his putting wasn't as spectacular as last year, when he three-putted just once in 72 holes.

EAGLE

Tucson, amateur Dr. Ed Updegraff thrilled his local following by scoring a hole-in-one with a three iron on the 210-yard eighth hole. Updegraff, a two-time Walker Cup team member, shot a 71. His ace was the eighth on the pro tour this year. There were just 11 in all of 1965.

Flu-ridden Don January, two-time winner of the Tucson event, withdrew after shooting a 40 on the front nine. January passed up Wednesday's pro-am due to his illness.

Another withdrawal was Dan Keefe of Chatham, Mass., who called it quits because of an injury after shooting an 80.

$30,000 Prize For Doral Open

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The 1966 Doral Open will offer a first prize check of $30,000, largest winners jackpot in the U.S. professional golf tour this year.

Doral owner Alfred Kaskel said yesterday he is adding $15,000 to the prize money as a "fifth anniversary bonus."

Ordinarily the Professional Golfers' Association controls all purse distribution. However, when Kaskel signed the contract for the 1966 tournament, it stipulated that he would be responsible for $75,000 purse.

Another $25,000 was expected to come from television revenue; thus Kaskel advertised the Doral as a $100,000 tournament.

'Biggies' Tonight For Preps, Tars

Independent-Journal Sports

FOURTH SECTION Fri., Feb. 18, 1966 39

Marin Athletic League basketball teams take to the courts once more tonight with some mighty important action on tap.

Drake, tied with Tamalpais for first place, hosts San Rafael, while Tam plays at Redwood. It was San Rafael that upset Redwood last Tuesday, knocking the Giants out of first place, and you can be sure the Bulldogs will try to be spoilers again by rapping the Drake Pirates. And for the Giants to get back into the picture, they'll have to beat the Indians of Tam.

The other game of the evening has Novato playing at Terra Linda. Class B teams start the action at 7 p.m., followed by the varsity boys.

The lightweight race seems to be no contest, the little Indians of Tam leading the pack with a perfect 9-0 record. A win tonight over the Redwood Bees will insure the Injuns of no worse than a tie for the championship.

With only three MCAL games left for Drake and Tam varsity teams, they're as evenly matched on past records as two teams could be. Both have 7-2 record in league play, and both have scored a total of 473 points. Tam has allowed 407 points and Drake 410. Now that is what you have to call pretty darned even.

That game, scheduled to start at 8 o'clock, should be the "biggie" of the year. Marin is 7-0 in Golden Valley Conference standings and Santa Rosa is 7-1. Last time the two teams met, Marin whipped the Bear Cubs 88-78, that game in Kentfield.

'Rip' Engle Retires From Penn State Coaching Job

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (UPI) —Charles A. (Rip) Engle, who never had a losing season in 16 years as Penn State's head football coach, formally announced his retirement today.

His successor was expected to be backfield coach Joe Paterno who holds the title of associate coach and has been credited for developing such outstanding quarterbacks as Richie Lucas, Milt Plum, Pete Liske and Al Jacks.

Engle, who will be 60 March 26, said, "coaching has been a wonderful and rewarding experience but several years ago I decided that 1965 would be my final season.

"Now I think is the time to retire before the game loses its fun for me personally."

RIP ENGLE
Steps down

University President Eric A. Walker said although Engle's retirement will not become effective until July 1, a successor would be named within the week.

"In the 10 years I have been president of Penn State, I would not have asked for more in a football coach," Walker said.

Walker said Engle, despite his retirement, "will be available to the university for special assignments. He has always been one of the university's best ambassadors and he will continue to fill this role."

Ironically, "The Ripper's" last season at Penn State was his poorest. The Lions finished with a 5-5 record.

Engle's overall record showed 104 victories, 48 losses and 4 ties. Penn State won the Labmert Trophy in 1961, 1962 and 1964 and Engle's record also included Liberty Bowl victories over Alabama and Oregon and a Gator Bowl triumph over Georgia Tech. His only bowl loss was to Florida in the 1962 Gator Bowl.

Seals Take On Leafs In Cow Palace Scrap

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The San Francisco Seals try to start a climb from the Western Hockey League cellar tonight against second-place Victoria at the Cow Palace.

The Seals went on a six-game American Hockey League road trip and lost all six. But they returned home Wednesday night against the Quebec Aces, top club in the AHL, and buried the Canadian team 13-5.

Goalie John Henderson, on loan to Oklahoma City of the Central League the past two weeks, might start tonight against the Maple Leafs in place of John McCartan.

The Seals have had more luck with Victoria this season than any other team, beating the Leafs five times and tying them twice in nine games, all when Victoria was atop the league.

Now that the Leafs have sent high scoring forward Milan Marcetta and defenseman Fred Hucul to Tulsa of the Central League, they have slipped to second behind Portland.

Giants Sign 2 More, But Still Have 13 To Go

The San Francisco Giants have signed two more hands but they still have 13 to go and the opening of spring training is only 10 days away.

The latest to agree to terms for 1966 were catcher Bob Barton and outfielder Ollie Brown. That gave the Giants 25 under contract but left such as star pitcher Juan Marichal and first basemen-outfielders Orlando Cepeda and Willie McCovey still unsigned.

Both Barton and Brown spent almost all of the 1965 season in the minors—Barton on option to Atlanta of the International League and Brown at the Giants' Tacoma farm club in the Pacific Coast League.

Barton batted .291 with seven homers and 45 runs batted in at Atlanta while Brown batted 2.93 and had 27 homers and 81 rbi's with Tacoma. Both came up to the Giants at the tail end of the campaign with Barton .571 in four games and Brown .200 in six.

The Giants also announced they had signed Gary George Bowman, 19, the 6-foot-5 first choice in the Jan. 27 free agent draft. The versatile Michigan native can play either the outfield, first base or pitch.. He will play the coming season for Fresno of the California League.

Dodgers Sign Four Players

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Four members of the Los Angeles Dodgers squad — Wes Parker, Ron Perranoski, Bob Miller and Tommy Davis — have signed contracts for 1966, the club reports.

Perranoski reportedly received $38,000, slightly more than last year, while Miller's reported $26,000 and Davis' reported $40,000 were about the same this time around.

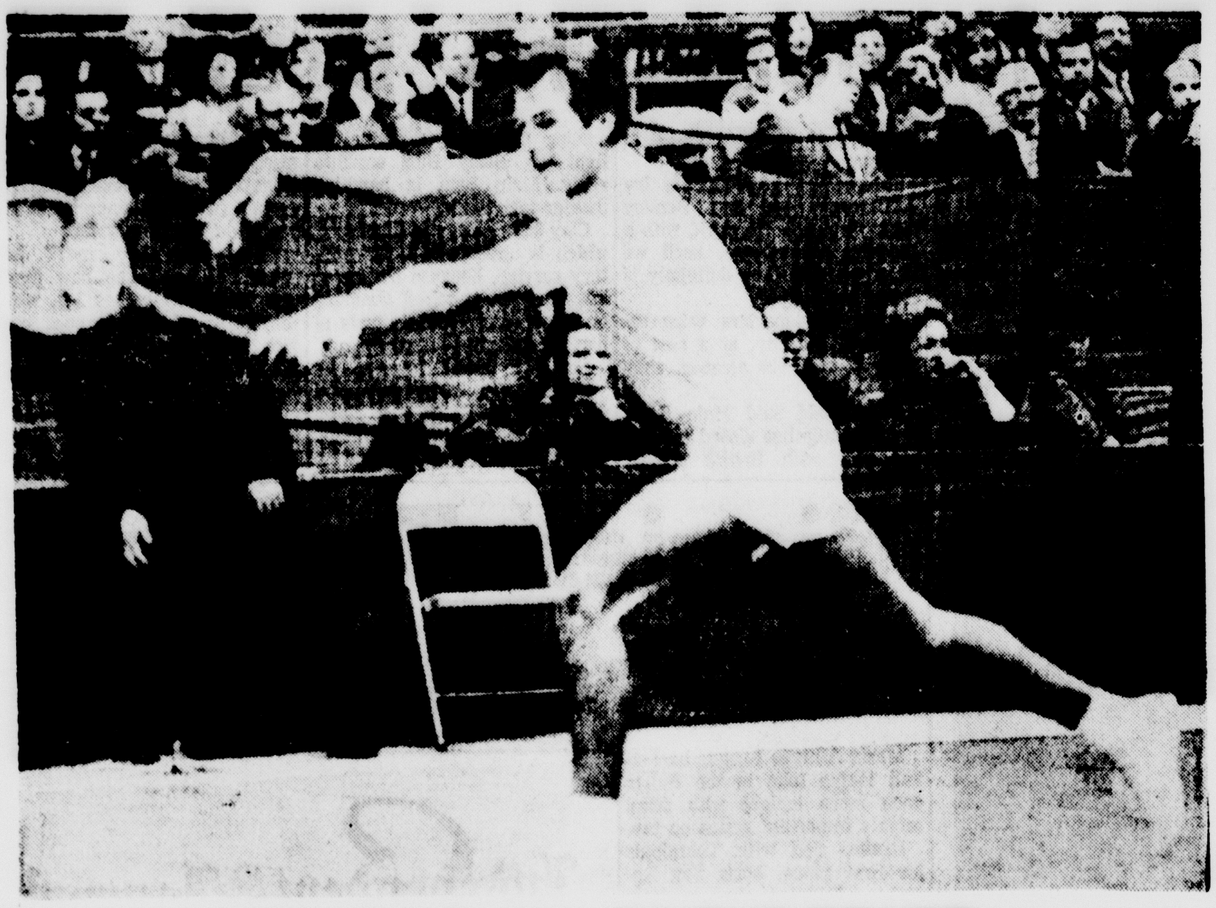

Davis — who fractured his right ankle in a slide at San Francisco — did not go to the plate last season except in the final game, when he appeared as a pinch hitter.

The Dodgers say Davis, the 1962-1963 major league batting champion, has apparently recovered satisfactorily.

All-Star Game Site In Doubt

CINCINNATI (UPI) —The 1966 All-Star game will be transferred from St. Louis to Houston if it appears on May 15 that the new stadium in St. Louis will not be complete in time for the game.

National League President Warren Giles said that he will inspect the progress of the stadium's construction about May 15 and move the game to Houston unless the new facilities are adequate for holding the game.

THE LONG ARM OF THE COURT

Tomaz Koch of Brazil stretches to backhand the ball back to Rafael Osuna of Mexico in last night's quarter-final match at the National Indoor Tennis Tournament in Salisbury, Md. Koch was the winner, by a score of 6-3, 6-4. See story on page 42.

NEW YORK INDOOR GAMES

Records Should Tumble

NEW YORK (AP) — The Jim Grelle-Jim Ryun clash could produce the season's first sub-four minute mile, while Tommy Farrell vs. Bill Crothers may make an indoor record at the half mile tonight in the New York Athletic Club Indoor Games.

But there's a big if attached to each one.

Grelle, the Oregon ace with the killing kick, is running only if Mrs. Grelle delays the arrival of an expected child. And Farrell, the tough little St. John's star, will go only if an ailing leg is right.

Both are expected to be ready. But meet officials won't know about Grelle until he arrives at Madison Square Garden, and Farrell won't know about the leg until he tests it on the track.

"If Farrell is 100 per cent, the half mile could go under 1:49," St. John's coach Steve Bartold forecast.

And if Grelle goes, he and Ryun stand an excellent chance of producing the first sub-four mile of the season. Each is unbeaten this year. Grelle has run the fastest mile of the indoor season, 4:00.9, and Ryun, the freshman phenom from Kansas, has run the second fastest, 4:01.6.

They haven't run against each other this season, nor have Farrell and Crothers, the lean Toronto pharmacist who is generally regarded as the world's best indoor middle distance man.

The last time Farrell and Crothers got together—in this same meet last year—Farrell scored his only victory over the Canadian, hustling home in an indoor record 1:49.8. Crothers is unbeaten at distances from 600 to 1,000 yards this year and has been out of action for two weeks, resting and training for the rematch.

Even if it doesn't come off, there's plenty of spice to this 98th annual meet, oldest of all the indoor carnivals.

There's the New York debut of eight Russians, the two-mile shapes up as a sparkler, John Pennel again goes for 17 feet in the pole vault, and Tennessee freshman Richmond Flowers again will try a double in the sprints and hurdles.

New York's Tom Laris and George Young, Casa Grande, Ariz., surprise cup winners this winter, clash in the two-mile, along with Canada's Dave Ellis, Harald Norpoth of Germany and Russia's Viktor Kudinsky.

CLAY

Comment came also from behind the Iron Curtain, where the Soviet News Agency Tass said Clay will be drafted because the American Army has become less demanding in its choice of cannon fodder.

"Why is he being drafted now?" Tass asked.

There's Still Room

There is still room for boys and girls 7 and older in the Tamalpais Recreation Program, director Ed Chavez said today. Sign-ups will be taken tomorrow from 9 a.m. to noon in the boys gym at Tamalpais High School.

U.S. Ski Coach Was Right; Chances Nil

HOLMENKOLLEN, Norway (AP) — John Caldwell, coach of the U.S. cross-country skiers, was pessimistic about American chances in the World Nordic Ski Championships. And he was proved right.

Now Art Tokle, coach of the U.S. men's jumping team, gets his chance. He's just as pessimistic. And the chances are he also will be proved right.

The world chamiponships opened yesterday with the cross-country event and the best U.S. finish was a 33rd by Mike Gallagher of Killington, Vt., who negotiated the 30-kilometer (18.7-mile) run in 1 hour, 46 minutes, 37.3 seconds.

That was considerably slower than Eero Maentyranta of Finland, who won an unprecedented third gold medal with a time of 1:37:26.

Caldwell admitted before the event "our chances are nil." He pointed out that the events were dominated by Scandinavians and Russians because those countries have thousands of athletes trained in the events.

"In the United States," said Caldwell, "we have maybe two or three hundred and most of them quit when they get out of college."

Hockey Boss Didn't Want A Back Seat

The community of Los Angeles, which didn't need the luck, is going to get in the National Hockey League, a club heretofore so exclusive it is said its members wear sheets at directors' meetings.

It will considerably enrich the social stature of the community, bringing with it, as it does, the opportunity to rub elbows with some of the social elite of our time, notable James D. Norris, who was once in charge of the high society sport of boxing, until a kindly old federal judge persuaded him to get out of it.

ICE HOCKEY was as private as a murder until a year ago when it began to thaw like the spring breakup on the Yukon, after it was pointed out by some columnists, this one among them, that any sport which offered the youth of North America only 90 places at the top would soon find them giving up frostbite for football, shoe skates for stock cars.

When the magic word "expansion" finally quivered on the air, a number of people naively rushed out and bought minor league franchises on the quaint theory the National Hockey League would honor grandfather rights if and when expansion came.

DAN REEVES, owner of the Los Angeles Rams, was one of these. He put a minor league team in a super-major league city, and cheerfully accepted the indignity of putting a city of 3 million in the position of a supplier of players to "major" league cities you could fit in Griffith Park.

ALMOST UNNOTICED by Reeves, not to say the community at large, an entrepreneur named Jack Kent Cooke, an emigree from Canada who had parlayed a career he started by selling encyclopedias into a home in Bel-Air, arrived on the scene. He performed the prodigious feat of becoming an American citizen in only one day by fiat of Congress, a stunt which would have made my grandfather sit right down and cry, ang go out and burn all those dates of the Stamp Act and the important dates in the life of Martin Van Buren he had to learn to accomplish the same thing.

With his hat in his hand, Dan Reeves went to the NHL. He had to knock twice, give the password, show his secret ring, but, when he got in, the board of governors looked uncomfortable and said, "Why don't you get togethr with Jack Kent Cooke?" "Who?" said Dan Reeves.

BUT DAN, who always knew when he was bucking a stacked deck, went to citizen Cooke. "Good!" said Cooke. "I'll give you 43 per cent of the club!" Dan felt this was like someone offering him the back seat of his own car, but when he balked, and bucked fortune's Cooke for a franchise, it was the greatest mismatch since Louis-Paycheck or Russia-Finland.

THE NHL was sweet about it. it was a matter of Cooke's building his own arena, they said. But they awarded franchises to Pittsburgh, Oakland and Minneapolis, who will use public buildings. Well, Reeves was a football man, they said. So is Jerry Wolman, new owner of the Philly franchise. So is Art Rooney. So is Jack Kent Cooke. Oh, multiple ownership was out, they said. Pittsburgh had 31 owners, at last count. Of course, St. Louis had none. St. Louis got a franchise because Jim Norris owns the arena there. Which will give him a total of three in the league.

Lots Of Fouls, But They Won

INDIAN HEAD, Md. (AP) — The Lackey High School Braves are short on manpower but long on basketball ability.

In a recent game, six Braves fouled out in the third quarter, leaving only two players eligible. But the two proved sufficient, and Lackey won 99-53 over visiting Brooks High School.

The two players who finished the game, Tony Reese and Donny Hopkins, played most of the final period with four fouls against each of them.

Girls' Swim Team Formed At Redwood

Tryouts will be held next week to determine Redwood High School's first girls' swimming team. More than 40 girls turned out for the initial practice.

Besides competing with other schools, the girls on the team will act as official time and score keepers at the boys' swim meets. The girls' swim team will be affiliated with the California Interscholastic Federation.

The FISHIN' FOOL

By RALPH STEVENS
I-J Fish and Game Writer

Local Salmon Fishing Improves; We Must Try To Save Redwoods

STEVENS

It happened—the take of salmon by sport fishermen improved over the rather meager take on the opening three days. The report from Caruso's harbor at Sausalito proves it.

The boat Salmon Queen lived up to its name by netting limits of salmon to 23 pounds for the five passengers aboard. The Marion had an even dozen; the Hurricane, 5; Lucky Lady, 7, and the Sea Wolf, also 7. Not really fast fishing, but not too bad, either. Incidentally, the rockfishing boat, Reel Special, came back from fishing off Point Reyes with eight rods getting limits of assorted rockfish and 72 ling cod, one of which weighed in at 36 pounds.

STRIPER STRIVING remains a matter of geography in the upper San Pablo Bay. Those who fish the good spots get limits or near limits, while others try the unproved locales and pull blanks. Steelhead streams are in good shape waterwise, but not so good fishwise. Of the rather small number of steelies being caught, a large majority are downstreamers.

Pardon if I seem to skip over the fishing today. I have a very important message for all readers who combine the joy of viewing the scenery with their fishing or touring. I refer to the magnificent stands of age-old giant redwoods. No lover of scenic beauty could help but admire these oldest of living things. Nowhere else in the world may you see such awe inspiring sights as a stand of redwoods.

WHEN WE hear that they are being threatened — that unless you and I and all natives or visitors to California take IMMEDIATE steps to preserve these giants of nature for posterity or they may be cut down and converted to lumber, we must rise up enmasse and protest. We want them preserved for all eternity. We want them to remain as they are, untouched by the lumberman's saw and axe. In short we wish to protect the remainders—or a large segment of the remaining redwoods—to become part of a public park. A national park.

IT ISN'T TOO late to make our hope become a fact, but, get this: Unless we make our wishes known to the powers that be in Washington, it may be too late. I quote from a recent release by the Sierra Club: "The only great redwood forest that remains to be protected is on Redwood Creek, south of Prairie Creek Redwoods State Park. A 90,000 acre Redwood National Park would be established there to protect these forests under the terms of Legislation NOW BEFORE CONGRESS, H.R. 11723. This bill must be moved through Congress quickly if these forests are to be saved from the quickening saws of the lumber companies that are felling them."

HERE ARE a few things you can do to help push this bill along: 1—If possible obtain a copy of Francois Leyder's great book, "The Last Redwoods." Read it—study it, and pass the information on. 2—Tell your Senators and Congressmen that you feel there should be a Redwood National Park on Redwood Creek. Your letter along with countless others will help them form their judgment.

Write to key members of the Senate and House committees that will report to Congress. Ask for hearings in THIS SESSION of Congress. Write to Hon. Wayne N. Aspinall, chairman House Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs; Senator Henry M. Jackson, Chairman Senate Committee. Write President Johnson to let him know you support the maximum effort for such a Redwood National Park while time remains. Write local newspapers, national magazines, columnists, and TV commentators. But WRITE! Insist upon a stay of execution for our proud redwoods.

Ashe Faces Stiff Battle Tonight In Net Tourney

SALISBURY, Md. (UPI) — Arthur Ashe, one of the nation's top young tennis players, faces tough competition tonight against Cliff Drysdale in the split quarter-finals of the United States Indoor tennis championships.

Ashe, of Richmond, Va., will be facing the South African who placed second in the U.S. Nationals at Forest Hills last August.

In the other section of the quarter-finals, Ron Holmberg of Dallas will play Gene Scott of St. James, N.Y.

The first half of the quarterfinals played last night saw 20-year-old Brazilian Tomaz Koch upset Mexico's Rafael Osuna 6-3, 6-4, and Charles Pasarell of Puerto Rico defeat Bobby Lutz of Los Angeles 6-4, 6-4.

Pasarell and Koch, as well as quarter-finals, will meet in the semifinals tomorrow.

Oliphant-Sullivan Golf Team Wins

Mrs. O. D. Oliphant and Mrs. William Sullivan teamed up to win the "blind draw partner" golf tourney with a 67 yesterday at the Marin County Club. Next were:

Mrs. Walter Kessler and Mrs. William Grisez, 68; Mrs. John Grey and Mrs. James Parris, 69; Mrs. Greg Anderson and Mrs. John McVey, 71; Mrs. H. D. Fifer and Mrs. Chester McPhee, 73; Mrs. Irv Deitrich and Mrs. Angelo Antonini, 73.

Al Mofatt Leads In Bass Derby

The derby, which started Feb. 1, will end Feb. 28. Moffat and other members of his family were big winners in last year's Loch Lomond derby.

Safari-Style Hunting For Wild Pigs

By GEORGE SKELTON
United Press International

RED BLUFF, Calif. (UPI)—"Ready . . . aim . . . fire."

A volley of rifle shots rang out from under an oak grove. In an open field 175 yards away an animal dropped. Another stumbled momentarily, then headed with some others into the Sierra foothills.

The rifles barked again, and again, and finally the black one fell. More shots—this time from up the draw. Three more hits.

"We don't know a heck of a lot about pigs," Wayne Long, a private wildlife consultant explained later. "But we plan to learn."

Long is helping the Dye Creek Ranch, a 40,000 acre spread 12 miles southeast of here, start a private hunting and fishing club featuring pigs, deer, upland game, waterfowl, bass and trout.

"It's the old idea of multiple use," says the owner, William Keeler, a modern cattle baron. "I've got to make this place pay. I've got $20,000 a year in property taxes and that hurts. I think I can do this and still raise cattle."

Keeler thus is joining a growing movement among large landowners: Converting part of their holdings into private hunting and fishing clubs to cash in on an increasing demand for more outdoor recreation.

Most California pig hunting now occurs in Monterey County. There's some action on public land. But private property gets most of the play. Ditto for Catalina and the Channel Islands, other popular pig havens.

Many Dye Creek pigs — now numbering between 1,000 and 3,000—broke loose from homesteaders in the 1880s. Others were released voluntarily by pioneers who gave up trying to scratch out a living on these tough, volcanic slopes.

It didn't take long for the animals to revert to the wild. All have small tusks, long bristly hair (colored black, spotted or white) and hard snouts for rooting up sprouts, bugs and acorns.

"They're also pretty ornery. "If one gets wounded," Long says, "another will just go up there and eat it up."

The pigs now are doing their own homesteading—in caves formerly inhabited by Ishi and his tribe, California's last wild Indians. "They're actually living right in those caves," Long says. "They've got beds and everything in there. The whole thing smells like a pig pen."

The State Fish and Game Department has mixed emotions about pigs. Therefore it hasn't tried to build up the hog population on public land. Its wildlife plan calls for "strict control" and encourages private landowners to hunt the creatures.

"Pigs tend to be notorious for raising heck and chewing up habitat," says Wallace MacGregor, a state game biologist. "We don't want them going in and rooting up everything and competing with our native species."

Lowrey Ups 'Baseball' Golf Lead

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—"All I can say is I should have had a 68," grumbled Peanuts Lowrey after cornering par in the second round of the first Baseball Celebrity Open Golf Tournament here.

Lowrey, third base coach for the Philadelphia Phillies, scored 145 and advanced his first day's lead of three strokes to a lead of five here yesterday, but that didn't make him grin.

He made his wry comment after noting that he had missed four birdie putts — all of less than three feet. Disgusting, No?

Another performance of near-par golf was turned in by the California Angels' Albie Pearson who moved up to second spot by virtue of his one-over-par 73. He shot 77 in the first round.

MONTGOMERY WARD ENLARGES FACILITIES

New addition to the Montgomery Ward store in Corte Madera, expected to be completed next month, will give more space to clothing, electrical and hardware departments and provide for a new maternity section, decorator shop and bath shop. These enlargements, together with improvements in appliance department, credit office and giftware section will result in additional employees to handle increased operations.

Armour Pays Dividend

CHICAGO—The board of directors of Armour and Co. have declared a quarterly cash dividend of $1.1875 a share on $4.75 preferred stock outstanding and a quarterly cash dividend of 40 cents a share on common stock outstanding, both payable April 15 to stockholders of record March 18.

Ampex Reports Record Income

Record sales and earnings were achieved by Ampex Corp. for third quarter and nine month periods ending Jan. 29, 1966.

Sales for the first three quarters of fiscal 1966 were over 115 million dollars, up 7 per cent from the first nine months of fiscal 1965. Net earnings after taxes were $5,664,000 or 61 cents per share, up 8 per cent from $5,234,000, or 57 cents per share on average shares outstanding.

For the third quarter, sales of $41,768 were up 9 per cent for the same period a year ago. Net earnings after taxes were $2,230,000, or 24 cents a share, up 11 per cent from last year.

Stretch Fabrics Prove Profitable

NEW YORK — H. Warshow and Sons, Inc., stretch fabrics manufacturers, today reported a sales increase of 16 per cent for the six month period ended Jan. 1 as compared to the similar period a year ago.

FIRE BRINGS DOUBLE TRAGEDY

Jesus Velasquez, 68, spreads the remains of nearly $5,600 in $20 bills on the table yesterday, after a fire that destroyed his home earlier this week in Cucamonga (San Bernardino County). His mother, Filomena Velasquez, nearly 100, died of smoke poisoning. He said his mother gave him the money a few months ago to "look after her funeral" when she died. Bankers say he will be able to recover nearly full amount of the burned cash. (UPI Telephoto)

Fairfax Crime Incidents Up Over Last Year, Aide Says

Felonies doubled in Fairfax last year as compared to 1964, with the major increases in auto thefts and thefts from autos, according to City Administrator David J. Sumbardo.

There were 81 felony offenses in the city last year as compared to 40 in 1964, according to Sumbardo's report of city activities in 1965.

There was a 214 per cent increase in auto thefts, from seven in 1964 to 22 in 1965, he reported.

There also was a 150 per cent increase in thefts from automobiles involving more than $50. In this category there were 25 cases last year as compared to 10 in 1964.

There were 24 burglaries, a 24 per cent increase; two robberies, no increase; no rape, same as 1964, and eight offenses in the "all others" category, a 14 per cent increase.

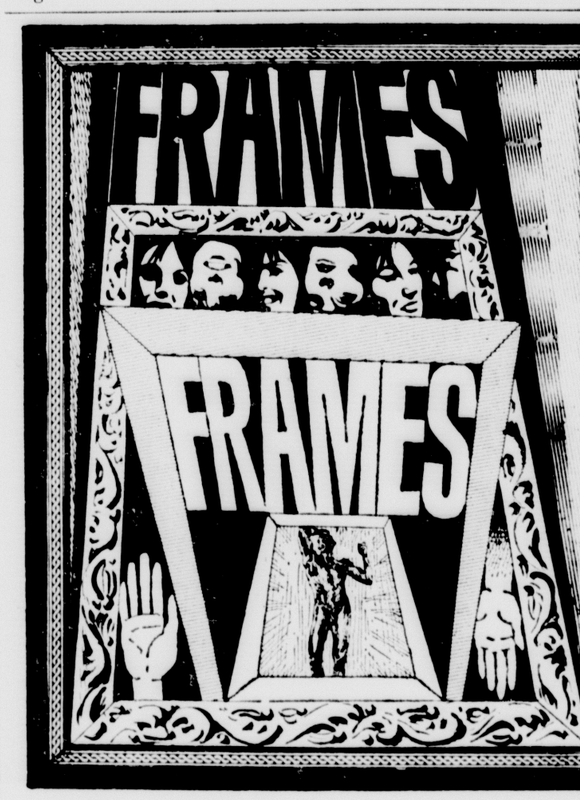

There were 19 felony arrests, the same number as in 1964, Sumbardo noted.

There was a 26 per cent increase in auto accident investigations, and vehicle code violations increased from 1,217 to 1,720, the report showed. There was more efficient traffic patrol and use of radar during the year, Sumbardo said.
